IRVING GRANGE IN FAVOR OF 2-MILL LEVY FOR BRIDGE

Irving Grange is strongly in favor of a two-mill levy that will raise $70,000 as Lane's one-third share in the cost of a bridge across the Willamette river at Harrisburg, and has adopted resolutions in favor of the levy.

The resolutions follow:

Whereas, the travel on the Pacific highway is now compelled to cross the Willamette river at Harrisburg on a ferry, and

Whereas, the travel on said highway is so heavy that it is impossible to give even a reasonable service with any ferry that can be used on the river at this point due to water and other conditions which make it exceedingly dangerous and unsatisfactory having already cost some lives, and,

Whereas, the state highway commission has signified its willingness to cooperate with Lane and Linn counties on a basis of one-third each, including all the approaches on the Lane county side and advance the necessary funds until the same can be raised by Lane county from the 1925 levy and will also pave the Pacific highway between Junction City and Harrisburg on completion of bridge and take over all future expenses for maintenance of said highway, and,

Whereas, we consider this arrangement very advantageous to Lane county and realizing that if we do not take advantage of this proposition at the present time we are risking further loss of life and also future cooperation to the same extent by the state highway commission and deeming the said bridge to be absolutely necessary for the safety and convenience of the traveling public

Now, therefore, be it Resolved, That Irving Grange No. 377, favors a special levy of not to exceed two (2) mills on all the taxable property in Lane county for the year 1925 for the purpose of paying for the county's share of the proposed bridge over the Willamette river at Harrisburg.

WHITMAN PLAYERS WILL OPEN SEASON WITH U. O. TUESDAY

Whitman college baseball players, eager for victory, will arrive here for the opening game of the season on the University of Oregon schedule Tuesday afternoon. The game will count in the standing of the Northwest Intercollegiate conference.

The Missionaries lost two games to the University of Washington diamond experts last Friday and Saturday, but their showing was far from encouraging from the Oregon standpoint. The scores were 4 to 3 and 6 to 4, and the fact that Whitman played as tight games as she did means that the Lemon-Yellow squad will have a battle on its hands.

Oregon is not strong, at least in her pre-season showing. Whitman, on the other hand, has the same lineup as last season, and has some new material to draw on in addition.

Capt. Clinton Ward, playing his third year on the Whitman team, is rated as one of the best third basemen in the conference. His lusty swats have brought in more than one home run in past seasons, and his fielding during the past few years has been of the best.

Art Walther, catcher, is another veteran. For the past two years he has caught every inning of every game Whitman has played in the intercollegiate conference. Yenney at first is playing his second year; Dean at second is playing his third year, Garrett at short is playing his second year. Hall and Matsuno in the outfield are playing their third year, and Tauda in the outfield is playing his second season. Babe Ward is twirling his third season.

Oregon's full strength will not be known until the test. In practice she has not shown to her best ability, and it may be that something will be un[illegible]rked when the innings roll along.

At any rate, the game Tuesday ought to be a good season's opener.

Most Modern and Best Equipped Optical Establishment on the Pacific Coast Today

Every Facility Provided to Insure Prompt and Efficient Service to Those Suffering from Defective Vision

Dr. Moody's Newly Remodeled Quarters are Given Wide Publicity in National Publications

Dr. Sherman W. Moody.

The Optical Age and the Optical Journal and Review of Optometry, national optical journals, under March and April datings pay tribute to Dr. Moody's fine new optical establishment in this city. One journal devoted a page and one-half to pictures and story. That you may appreciate what the outside world has to say of Dr. Moody's enterprise we print the articles below in full. The letters that follow are self-explanatory.

A WELL-PLANNED OFFICIAL ESTABLISHMENT

Dr. Moody Celebrates Anniversary in Fine Surroundings

Amidst attractive surroundings the practice of Dr. Sherman W. Moody, of Eugene, Ore., has grown steadily since his establishment in that city in 1916. Recently Dr. Moody celebrated his eighth anniversary in Eugene. The picture on the opposite page shows what a fine establishment he has built up.

When Dr. Moody located in Eugene eight years ago he did so on account of its educational as well as business advantages.

The doctor has lived or traveled in most of the states of the Union and believes that the University of Oregon ad the public school system there have produced a standard of citizenship and culture in Eugene and its adjacent territory that is not excelled anywhere else in this country.

A larger proportion of the people wear glasses and there is less neglect of the eyes in such surroundings than elsewhere, naturally making Eugene an exceptionally good center for optometric service.

Notwithstanding that Eugene and Lane county have only increased ab[illegible]t 25 per cent in population, [illegible] establishment is doing a[illegible] six times the volume of business that Dr. Moody's predecessors had at the time of purchase.

Quarters Completely Remodeled

Believeing that Eugene possesses about all of the potential advantages for becoming a large city, with the added attraction of a mild, healthful climate and scenic beauty unsurpassed, Dr. Moody has recently used a considerable sum in remodeling his examination and fitting rooms, etc. A complete set of mahogany fixtures and furniture has been installed, thus making it one of the most attractive and best-equipped optical establishments on the Pacific Coast.

The storeroom has a depth of 120 feet, the rear half being used for the laboratory, where fifteen different optical machines form the equipment for grinding, edging and mounting of lenses. The firm also does a wholesale business in the city and surrounding territory. The two refracting rooms are equipped with the most modern instruments and scientific appliances for use in diagnosing and correcting defective vision.—Optical Age.

Handsome Optometric Offices in a City of 13,000 People

One of the most complete and attractive offices in the Northwest is that of Sherman W. Moody, local optometrist, at 881 Willamette street. Extensive alterations involving an expenditure of several thousand dollars were made recently and mahogany fixtures and furniture were installed, giving most attractive appointments.

The offices, the arrangement of which is shown in the accompanying photograph, have a depth of 120 feet. The rear half is used for a shop, which is completely equipped with machinery for lens grinding. There are two examination rooms, which are fully equipped with the latest refraction instruments. The waiting and fitting rooms are combined.

Dr. Moody is justly proud of his establishment and doubts if many equal to it can be found in other cities with a population of 13,000. He says that his establishment represents an investment of $25,000, which does not include $16,000 which he has spent in advertising during the past eight years. Notwithstanding that Eugene and Lane county have only increased about 25 per cent in population during the past eight years, Dr. Moody's practice has increased about six times over that of his predecessor. The optometric firm holds a long lease on the premises at 881 Willamette street.—Optical Journal.

Another Large Wholesaler Writes:

Dr. Sherman W. Moody,
Eugene, Oregon.
Dear Doctor Moody:

We have before us the April Optical Age, carrying a full page reproduction of your office, including a well-written article and fine photo of yourself.

About the only remarks that we can make, Doctor Moody, are that the picture does not in any way do justice to your excellently furnished and artistic office. Your entrance is certainly pleasing to the eye, and you can feel proud of the fact, Doctor. We do not believe that there is a better appearing or equipped place in this entire territory, and you are certainly to be congratulated.

Very sincerely yours,
(Name on application.)

LIQUOR DELIVERED TO H. M. DAUGHERTY SAYS FORMER AGENT

Washington, April 21.—Liquor confiscated by government officers in enforcing the national prohibition act was delivered to the H street home of Former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty on Washington, F. M. Boucher, a former department of justice agent testified today before the Wheeler-Brookhart committee. Boucher said he made the delivery himself.

"You delivered this liquor to Daugherty's house?" Senator Brookhart asked.

"I acted as guard; some other men carried it."

"How did you get this liquor?"

Kept in Chief's Safe.

"It was kept in a safe in the office of the chief," said Boucher. "They always had a big supply there."

"For what purpose?"

"Principally, it seemed, to pass out to visitors."

"Did you ever see people take liquor out of the safe?"

"Yes, frequently."

"What was the quality of the liquor."

"The best."

"How much was it?"

"Four or six quarts, as I recall."

"How was it delivered?"

Used Department's Car.

"In an automobile, a department of justice car," said Boucher. "They always delivered the liquor in bureau cars."

Under further examination by Senator Jones, republican of Washington, Boucher admitted he could not tell whether the liquor ever reached Daugherty or Jess Smith, who lived with Daugherty.

Liquor seizures by department agents, he said were "sorted for good and bad liquor."

"They kept the good liquor in the chief's office and the poor liquor was sent down to the basement or back to a warehouse," the witness added. "I saw them sort it in the chief's office."
