NEW FIRE ENGINE APPARENTLY LOST

Somewhere in the United States, between Elmira, N. Y., and Eugene, is a brand new fire engine belonging to the city of Eugene.

It is the latest improved model, triple combination pumper, which, the salesman of the American La France company glowingly promised the city council and the fire and water committee, would be delivered promptly, probably by December 25.

The fire department has been waiting patiently for their new piece of apparatus. They have had no word as to where the pumper is, when it will be delivered or what is causing the delay. Matters have reached a point, says W. E. Nussbaum, fire chief, where they will hear looking into, so he is taking matters into his own hands and is asking for immediate action—either a fire engine or a report—from the Portland representatives of the American La France company.

Many Petitions on Patrolman Are in

With petitions still coming in to the county court requesting for the appointment of road patrolmen in the various road districts of the county no date has yet been set for the appointments for the coming year. It is the announcement today, with a few exceptions all of the 64 districts are now represented with petitions. "In one road district the present patrolman has nearly a unanimous approval of the taxpayers and even at that he wants to resign," is the report of Clinton Hurd, county commissioner. "If all districts were like that we would have an easy time with the new appointments," he added.

Summer Home on McKenzie Entered

Reports were made today by William Kneeland of this city that his summer home on the upper McKenzie near Leaburg had been entered and the place stripped of everything with the exception of the heavy furniture and mattresses. Bedding, tools, household utensils and about everything portable was carried away some time during the past two weeks since the owner visited the place, is the report. Marks on the ground indicated that two cars had been stopped there and backed close against the house presumably in order to load on the loot.

What Your Baby Thinks About

"GLUB! Glub! This is a noisy old world. Not half so nice as I thought it would be."

"What do folks think my ears are made of? I nearly jumped out of my skin this morning when Bobby slammed the door."

"Mother tries to shield me—she knows I love soft, sweet sounds. That's why she took me to that pleasant Miss Clark's, who played those soft lullabies for me."

"I'm going to whisper to mother to get a Playerpiano. Then, we can have music every day."

TESTS FOR SCHOOL PROMOTIONS READY

"Sealed orders" that would make many an eighth-grade youngster of Lane county happy to see are being sent out today from the office of E. J. Moore, county superintendent of schools. These are the questions for the annual eighth grade examinations to be held at approximately 60 of the county districts next Thursday and Friday. The questions are delivered to each teacher and opened at the time of the examination. The grading of the papers will be done by a board of teachers under the direction of Mr. Moore. Some of the schools have only one or two pupils to take the tests and others have as high as 50 ready to visit friends here. The tests will admit them to high school.

842 Permits Given For Electric Work

Electric installation fees in Eugene during 1924 amounted to $1459,10, it was announced today by W. H. Alexander, city inspector of buildings. This includes the fees for electric wiring in new buildings, etc. There were 812 permits granted during the year.

Month	No.	Fees
January	45	$ 69.39
February	58	75.35
March	89	120.40
April	85	133.25
May	84	127.55

September	80	117.55
October	82	128.45
November	48	62.45
December	48	69.05

Guard Team Ready To Send Hoop Defi

Company C basketball team of the Oregon national guard of this city has hopes of taking on some fast hoop talent and their objective will be the Army's Headquarters team of Portland, according to members of the Eugene squad. This Portland outfit has already registered a victory over the Multnomah Athletic club team and this month has a game slated at Portland with the North Dakota Argies. A challenge for a game to be played at the Portland armory is planned by the Eugene guardmen.

'YOU AND I' TO PLAY IN EUGENE

"I believe that 'You and I' is the play from our treasury series that Eugene folk will like best," said Miss Janet Young when she was making her plans to bring the Moroni Olsen Players to the Eugene Heilig theatre, January 13, in one performance for the benefit of the University of Oregon museum of fine arts.

"You and I" is the ninth of the Harvard prize plays, and was chosen in a competition engaged in by more than 20 students, past and present of the 47 Workshop of Harvard college.

The play is a comedy in three acts, the scenes laid in Westchester county, and the persons involved, the Whites, father, mother and son, and their neighbors and friends, Philip Barry, the author of the play, is an alumnus of Yale although a post-graduate of the Harvard dramatic class. In "You and I" he takes the theme that procrastination in accepting the opportunity to come to grips with fate in selecting the work of life is like opportunity which knocks but once. Once lost, it is forever in the past. Around this theme the author has woven a comedy-drama of intense interest and one that delighted New York theatergoers during the long run of "You and I" in that city. The Moroni Olsen Players have spent a considerable amount of money in securing and staging the play, and from press reports of their work elsewhere, Eugene theatergoers can look forward to a real treat.

New Auto License Tags Scarce Here

"Not many yellow tags on the cars today," commented Earl Humphrey, state traffic officer, as he surveyed a row of parked machines near the courthouse, all of them still with the red banners of 1924. "We have orders to cite all car owners who have a red license and no receipt showing that application has been made for 1925," the traffic officer said. No driver has yet been cited but the warning stands, is the edict from the secretary of state. The office at Salem is literally swamped with applications, according to word received here.

Stage Driver Held For Road Speeding

Charged with speeding on the highway with a Portland to Roseburg motor stage, L. E. Davis was cited to appear in court yesterday by Earl Humphrey, state traffic officer. Z. B. Dodson of Cottage Grove was cited on a charge of having no tail light on his car. G. T. Ruedell was cited for having no mirror on his truck. S. Culp was cited for a similar offense. The state officer was busy today appearing in court at Eugene at 9 o'clock, Cottage Grove at 1 o'clock and again in the Eugene court at 3 o'clock.

87 Divorce Orders In Lane Last Year

Eighty-seven divorce degrees were granted in Lane county during the past year, but these domestic tragedies are well offset by the total of 465 marriages that are reported. Ten divorce cases that were heard in circuit court here were dismissed and no decree given. A total of 132 divorce complaints were filed and 35 cases are still pending action of the court.
