L. L. GRAHAM HOME FROM TRIP SOUTH

A trip into Juarez, Mexico, from El Paso, Texas, was only one of the interesting highlights of a two weeks vacation trip taken by L. L. Graham, district architect and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, and family, Mr. Graham reports. The party returned yesterday, making almost the entire trip over the S. P. lines. "We visited quite a while with T. Sanchez, 'agente de hoteles,'" said Mr. Graham, "and enjoyed the quaint old-world architecture of Juarez. It is not as neat and clean a city as Tijuana, however, which we later visited. "The trip over the Southern Pacific to El Paso was a revelation. The new Sunset limited is a work of art, the dining, club and observation cars being the most notable features. Seats are like those you would find in a luxurious parlor, with a maid for the ladies always at her post, and barber and valet service for the men. "The Southern Pacific handles all terminal switching at El Paso, Mr. Graham said. A lot of $5,000 car loads of cattle are handled yearly in the El Paso, Texas. "I never realized the tremendous volume of business handled through the El Paso gateway," said Mr. Graham. At Yuma during the space of 18 minutes the party was in Arizona, California and Mexico. They went to San Diego by way of the California gorges, and took a side trip to Tijuana, where Mr. Graham met Julian McFadden of Corvallis, who is running a string of race-horses. Five thousand persons were refused admission to the Notre Dame-Stanford football game at the Tournament of Roses by Pasadena. Mr. Graham reported. The race celebration compared favorably with Portland's race festival, he said. At Long Beach, on a trip of inspection over the Pacific Electric lines, Mr. Graham encountered R. B. "Dick" Rutherford, former Aggie coach, now a life guard. "Business in California is good," said Mr. Graham. "Prospects are for a record year in 1925. While the weather in Los Angeles was quite frosty—could enough that they had to get out the swudge pots to save the oranges—it was nevertheless quite pleasant. "The trip was the best I have ever taken, from a scenic, educational and vacation standpoint. I am more impressed with Eugene, after comparing it with cities I have visited, as being a place of the finest opportunities and greatest resources in the west."

Eugene's public schools re-opened today, after a two weeks holiday, with every teacher at her post, and an attendance of nearly 100 per cent. The University of Oregon also opened for the second term. The beginning of the third six weeks period of the first semester in local schools was December 15, at which time grade cards were issued. The second semester begins February 9, according to Joseph T. Glenn, city school superintendent. University students flocked into Eugene over the week-end by automobile and on special Southern Pacific and Oregon Electric trains run out of Portland. Registration details are eliminated for all students save those who are enrolling for the first time, or for the first time this college year. Classes officially begin tomorrow.

ROTARY PARTY IS TOMORROW NIGHT

One of the biggest social events of the year for the Eugene Rotary club is scheduled for Tuesday night. Plans are complete for the entertainment of more than 150 persons. The entertainment will take place at the Oxburn hotel at 6:30 o'clock. The affair is planned for the ladies of Rotary members, and visitors are extended a cordial invitation to be present. The speaker of the evening will be Irving E. Waring, president of the state chamber of commerce.

STATE MAY REDUCE COUNTY'S BUDGET

"If the state attorney general decides that the Lane county budget is above the six per cent constitutional limitation we will simply have to reduce the budget and trim the estimates down to meet the new figures," is the statement of Judge C. P. Barnard today. The amount over the limit, which according to incomplete figures will be a few thousand dollars, will undoubtedly have to be cut from the road and bridge allotments, according to present indications. Judge Barnard said. No official notification has yet been received from the state attorney general on the matter.

DEFICIENCY BILL TO BE RUSHED TO SENATE IN WEEK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—An emergency deficiency bill carrying $37,111,700 was reported today by the house appropriations committee with leaders planning to rush it to the senate within the week. Of the amount $100,000,000 would be available for the refund of illegally collected taxes, $3,501,200 for continuation of work on dam number 2 at Muscle Shoals, Alabama, and $4,000,000 for purchase of the capital stock of the newly created Inland Waterways corporation. Other items included: Two hundred and seventy-five thousand for prevention of epidemic diseases, to be used particularly in eradicating reported bubonic plague among rats at the ports of New Orleans and Oakland, Cal.; $150,000 for repair work on the coast guard cutter Manning; $81,000 for completion of a postoffice and courthouse at Paris, Texas, and $25,000 for eradication of insect infestation in national parks. The measure also would provide $14,000 for expenses of messengers conveying the count of the electoral vote in Washington. It was recommended in the bill comprise those sums considered so urgent that it would be unwise to delay their enactment. They are in addition to funds carried in regular supplies pending which will not be available until after next July 1. The committee report showed total internal revenue receipts for the last eight years, including the first quarter of 1925, amounted to $27,500,451,245.56, exclusive of $2,339,338,147 listed as assessments and collections resulting from office audits and field investigations. Refunds over this period, including the 25 per cent refund of 1925, were placed at $10,871,672.72. Refunds were made to 253,320 taxpayers in 1925, to 102,202 taxpayers in the fiscal year, 1924 and to 41,324 in the five months of the fiscal year 1923, exclusive, however, of 2,570,004 refunds under the 25 per cent reduction in taxes. The committee refused appropriation $12,000,000 requested for refunds for next year, preferring to make this sum available as the money might be required.

Discovery was made yesterday that some time Saturday an attempt had been made to saw the bars of one of the windows of the Lane county jail. One bar had been cut nearly through when Jailer H. L. Lee found the marks where the saws had been used. About 20 prisoners, those who are serving long terms or else awaiting action of the grand jury, were locked in the cells. A search failed to reveal the hiding place of the saws but it is expected that they will be found somewhere secreted in the building, is the report of the county officers. In order to gain freedom it would require the cutting of at least three of the vertical bars and then the cutting of the metal mesh screen. This is a job of at least several hours, is the opinion of the deputies. It has been some time now since the inmates of the Lane jail have staged an attempted break. Forty-six prisoners are now confined and if the bars had been cut there undoubtedly would have been a wholesale leaving of the many guests, it is stated.

JAIL BREAK PLOT UNCOVERED SUNDAY

Another attempt to break open a safe here was made some time Sunday night at the warehouse of the Farmers Union on Olive street near Fifth avenue adjoining the Oregon Electric railroad. The safe was found this morning with the combination knob off and indications that considerable work had been done in hopes of forcing a hole in the door for the insertion of explosives, according to Van Seaver, chief deputy sheriff, who investigated the report. The warehouse had been entered by forcing open a rear door. The clogs evidently were lightened away before completing their work, is the belief of the deputy. The safe of the Oregon Machinery company and that of the Grangers Eugene warehouse were recently blown open. The three plants are all blocks apart and it is the belief of county authorities that in all cases transients are responsible for the robberies.

Be Pretty! Turn Gray Hair Dark

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Now, however, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost. Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.
