

INTER-ALLIED MEET CLOSES IN AGREEMENT

Powers Represented Sign Plan For Distribution Of Dawes Annuities

PARIS, Jan. 14.—(AP)—Proceeded by an eleventh hour victory for the American delegation the international finance convention closed today with the signing of the agreement for distribution among the various powers of the reparations annuities received from Germany under the Dawes plan. At almost the last moment the Americans obtained the elimination from the text of the clause limiting to $350,000,000 the amount of the American war damage claims to be paid from the Dawes receipts. As the revised text stands the United States will receive its two and one-quarter per cent of the annuities until its entire claims are paid.

The agreement as signed constitutes a mass of detail which gathers up the scattered bits of the back accounts from the allies, liquidates the Ruhr occupation, limits the future outlay from the military occupation of the Rhineland, fixes the running expenses of the reparations organizations including the Dawes plan commissions and determined the proportion of Germany's payments each and all are entitled to under the Dawes arrangement, besides admitting the United States to participation and assuring the payment of its war damage claims as well as the cost of the occupation of the Coblenz bridge head.

During the next two years the allies will be allowed a maximum of 100,000,000 gold marks ($40,000,000) for the maintenance of their troops on the Rhine. The reparations commission which was allowing 9,250,000 gold marks (about $2,300,000) for 1925, will have to cut down its outlays to 7,500,000 gold marks ($1,875,000) in the following year, at the same time providing from that total sum running up as a maximum to 3,700,000 gold marks ($925,000) for the Dawes plan organizations.

For the Rhineland commission 10,000,000 gold marks ($2,500,000) is allowed and to the military control commission in Germany for the ensuing year the sum of 8,000,000 gold marks ($2,000,000). The occupation of the Rhineland will come up again in September for revision once more with reference to future years.

The Wadsworth agreement for the payment of the American army costs being abrogated, payment of those costs will begin in September, 1925, at the rate of 55,000,000 gold marks ($13,750,000) annually.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—(AP)—All the powers represented in the inter-allied financial conference today signed the agreement regarding distribution of the Dawes annuities.

Roumania and Italy signed with reservations.

Limitation of the American damage claims to $350,000,000 was stricken out. This was the only change made in the text of the agreement before its signature.

Meeting Ends.

Signature of the convention brings to a close what has been by common consent the most successful inter-allied meeting since the armistice.

This result is attributed to the example set at the beginning of the conference by the American delegation and the British Chancellor of the exchequer, Winston Churchill—an example of moderation, good will, and determination to effect a settlement.

Everybody seems satisfied that order has been evolved from chaos at the expense of the least possible sacrifice to each of the participating nations.

Even the smaller powers, notably Roumania, whose situation is unduly hard, go away with the conviction that their interests will be taken care of and that means will be found to satisfy their requirements in the not too distant future.

Carefully Drawn

The convention is a carefully drawn document in French and English, and contains 27 clauses divided into five chapters. The first chapter consists of clauses dealing with apportionment of the allied Dawes payments, the second with the Ruhr and other back accounts and the third with special questions growing out of application of previous agreement.

Among these questions are the cost of the army of occupation from May, 1923, to September, 1924, and debts for the Shantung mines and railroads formerly held by Germany.

The fourth chapter deals with interests and arrears, and the fifth and last is concerned with miscellaneous questions, such as payments by Hungary and Bulgaria, properly handed over to the city of Danzig, and others not covered under the previous headings.

Mr. Kellogg Speaks.

Finance Minister Clementel of France addressed the conference this morning. Replies were made by heads of the delegations, including Ambassador Kellogg for the United States.

Mr. Kellogg said the present meeting, the London conference and the preparation of the Dawes plan would rank as the three most important events that had occurred in Europe during the last year. He believed the work accomplished augured well for program toward a general settlement of European problems.

CONDUCTS BUS SURVEY

Motor stage problems in Oregon are being investigated by Peter Crockatt, instructor in economics and railway expert at the university, in a survey which includes taxation of busses, the development of bus lines and their proper relation to the railway systems of Oregon as feeders.

Parties Search For Victims Of Colorado Snow

ESTES PARK, Colo., Jan. 14.—Three searching parties, set out at dawn today to scale Longs peak, to hunt for the body of Herbert Sorland, employee of Long Peak Inn while the third will attempt to relocate and remove to the timberline zone the frozen form of Miss Agnes Valle, who perished in the Arctic altitude Monday.

All hope of finding Sorland, a member of the original rescue party that was in search of Miss Valle, alive, was surrendered last night when searching parties put in at timberline for the night. They reported that a human being could not live for 24 hours in the sub-zero weather while a strong gale swept clouds of snow and sleet across the jagged peaks, which, although not against a leaden, winter sky, stood out like white-capped sentinels.

FRIEND SAVED MRS. WILHELMY

"Overwork, worry, no appetite, no sleep, I looked like a corpse," says Mrs. Mary Wilhelmy of St. Paul, Minn., "and to add to my troubles my physician advised an operation. A friend, however, asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and you should see the improvement. I eat well, sleep well, have gained in weight and strength and feel fine." That is what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Wilhelmy, and it will do as much for any suffering woman.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH TO FIGHT PLAGUE

More Stringent Battle On Tuberculosis Will Be Waged, Is Word

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 14.—Resolutions looking to stringent regulation for the prevention of bubonic plague, tuberculosis, and to avoid deaths from carbon monoxide poisoning were adopted at the annual meeting of the state board of health here yesterday.

Dr. C. M. Bardee of Portland was elected president of the board, Dr. W. F. Phy of Hot Lake, vice-president and Dr. P. D. Stricker of Portland was retained as secretary.

Relative to bubonic plague which made its appearance in Los Angeles, the board will urge the United States public health service to establish or assist in establishing a laboratory for rodent extermination in Portland and all seaport cities are warned to take precaution against rats escaping from ships from California ports and the orient. Rat-proofing of all places where food is stored is also urged.

An increase in tuberculosis in Oregon has been noted and regulations were listed by the board to guard against a spread of the disease, which is held to be largely preventable.

To guard against carbon monoxide poisoning the recommendations are made that effective venting be provided for all gas stoves and appliances.

New Director For Bank is Selected

Officers for the coming year were elected by the national banks of the city and county yesterday. Only one change in personnel was made by a Eugene bank, the United States national. Frank Jenkins was elected to the board of directors taking the place of W. R. Robertson, resigned, who is now in business with the Danner-Robertson company.
