DR. ROSS ATTENDS MEET OF STATE'S FISH COMMISSION

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 14.—Governor Pierce's edict removing Dr. Thomas W. Ross as a member of the state fish commission was disregarded yesterday by the commission, which held its January meeting with Dr. Ross in his seat. With Dr. Ross and John C. Veatch, the governor's appointee, contending for recognition, P. Kendall, chairman of the commission, recognized Ross.

In his contention that he had not been officially removed Dr. Ross opened his legal battle against the governor with the charge that Veatch's appointment was illegal. Through his attorney he declared that Veatch had been commissioned by the governor on January 10. He presented the letter in which he was formally removed, dated January 12, and held that Veatch could not have been seated before he was removed.

The action was taken in spite of the efforts of W. T. Eakin of Astoria, member of the commission, who said Attorney General Van Winkle had told him Monday that Dr. Ross' removal was legal. Mr. Veatch also protested the action, and both men made the point that the business of the meeting would be illegal when the opinion of the attorney general arrived.

The meeting was attended by 59 fishermen from coast districts armed with a resolution asking the removal of A. C. Ross, master fish ward, and the reinstatement of Carl D. Shoemaker to that position.

Dr. Ross brought the climax to the meeting when he introduced a resolution to dismiss A. C. Ross, his cousin, on the grounds of inefficiency and disloyalty. Mr. Eakin dissented. Mr. Kendall expressed the belief that A. C. Ross had been inefficient and recommended that the resolution be held for consideration at a later meeting and this was agreed to.

Storage Water is Declared Plentiful

MEDFORD, Ore., Jan. 14.—According to a telephone advice from Crater Lake today there will be no shortage of storage water in southern Oregon this year. The snow at the lake rim now measures 135 inches, at Anna Spring camp, 102 inches, and at the summit, 100 inches.

No Confession is Given by Alleged Klamath Murderer

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Jan. 14.—With yes and no as his principal answers to questions fired at him during a searching examination last night by District Attorney William Gansong and Deputy District Attorney W. P. Myers, Pete Sullivan, captured yesterday afternoon in the lava beds forty miles south of Klamath Falls by a party headed by Lloyd Low, former sheriff, checkmated all attempts of authorities to draw a confession from him as an accomplice in the robbery-murder here on the morning of January 3.

Sullivan declares he does not know John Taylor, who in a confession stated that Sullivan was the man who held the 32-caliber gun. He told the district attorney where he was on the night of the murder. A check on his statements had not been made this morning.
