

COUNTY SCHOOL ON WHEELS AT CAMPS IN MOHAWK VISITED

On a visit to the two "schools on wheels" that provide educational facilities for the children of employees of the Booth-Kelly lumber camps above Wendling, Arnold Collier, new assistant superintendent of county schools, left for there today. Mr. Collier will take a trip on one of the Booth-Kelly rail speeders in company with Jess Abrams. The school cars at present are about 16 miles above Wendling. These two rail cars which have been rebuilt especially for school purposes and provided with the best and most modern equipment for school uses are one of the interesting features of school administration in Lane county. Although the schools are a part of the Lane school system and have district numbers it is rare that any of the county school officials are enabled to visit them due to distance and transportation difficulties. One car at present has 28 pupils in charge of North Wills and the other has 18 pupils taught by Blanche J. Powell. The cars are moved along the rail line and keep pace with the logging operations of the company the same as the homes and other buildings of the camp.

Another feature of school life in Lane county is interestingly told today by E. J. Moore, county superintendent of schools, is the transportation by water of the pupils of the schools in the Mapleton district on the lower Willamette. A power boat each day makes the trip to pick up the pupils at various points and in the afternoon the return trip is made and the children let off at their stopping places along the river. "Strict discipline is maintained on the boat in order to prevent accident," the superintendent states. "Each pupil has a place and must stay there until the boat stops. Any infractions of the rules of the craft are punished just as though they were violations of classroom deportment. The pupils are in charge of the school from the time they board the boat until they leave it late in the afternoon or evening on the way home."

LUMBER YARD SOLD TO PORTLAND FIRM

Sale of the Fischer-Souls Lumber company, 555 High street, to the J. W. Coupland company of Portland, was reported yesterday by the managers, J. H. MacDonald and H. A. Souls. The Coupland company operates lumber yards in Portland, Selem, Albany and Hubbard. The Fischer-Souls Lumber company is one of the largest retail lumber firms in this section, and carries approximately 750,000 feet of lumber on hand, valued at $25,000.

State Board Will Retain Lane Plan

Although the egg-taking station established last year at Triangle lake was somewhat of a failure due to the flood waters that swept around the dam during recent high water it is expected that there will be better results in the spring, according to Ben F. Davis, member of the state fish and game commission. Even if anticipated returns are forthcoming the attempt to establish a station at the lake will not be abandoned as the commission believes that it is a logical place for egg-taking, he said.

Judge Barnard to Be on Committee

Lane county will be represented on the legislative committee of the state association of county judges and commissioners during the coming year as Judge C. P. Barnard was appointed a member at the state meeting which opened yesterday at Portland. Commissioners Clinton Hurd and O. E. Crowe of Lane county are also in attendance at the meeting among the more than 40 county officials registered.

Idaho Water Will Be Held in State

BOISE, Ids., Jan. 16.—Under suspension of rules the lower house of the 18th Idaho legislature Thursday unanimously passed a measure to prohibit the granting of permits by the state commissioner of agriculture to adopt Idaho waters for use outside the state.

Evangeline chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold its regular social meeting this evening in Masonic temple.

An interesting affair of last evening was the basket social and dance which was held by the Lane county O. A. C. club at Frolic Inn, the old country clubhouse. There were about thirty-five alumni and former students entertained. These functions are held monthly by the organization.

Members of Eugene Unit No. 3, American Legion auxiliary are arranging a pleasant event for this coming Tuesday when they entertain with a pot luck supper and hard times party in the chamber of commerce rooms at six-thirty o'clock. The affair is given for members of the American legion, their wives or lady friends whether the latter are members of the auxiliary or not.

EUGENE JOBBING FIRM MAY EXPAND

With the opening of the building season this spring, Eugene as a jobbing center will show rapid growth, it is predicted. The city is already the wholesale distributing point for several large fruit and grocery concerns, and the coming month will see several branches added to these warehouses in nearby towns.

One of the largest proposed expansion projects is that of the Ryan Fruit company, according to reports. This company, it is said, is planning to build a warehouse and distributing branch at Marshfield this spring to take care of the Coos bay trade which is making added demands from Eugene in other lines as well, inasmuch as this is the closest main wholesale point to the Coos bay region. Branches in Roseburg and Medford are also possible points of expansion, it is understood, although no announcement has been made by the firm in Eugene of any building program.

Pharmacy to Move Into New Quarters

E. E. Carroll, proprietor of Carroll Brothers' pharmacy at 783 Wilamette street has obtained a five-year lease from Weinstein brothers of Portland on the lower floor of the building at 730 Wilamette street, soon to be vacated by J. J. McCormick's cigar store. It was announced yesterday. Mr. Carroll expects to move into the new quarters in the next few months. He expects to install new fixtures, and enlarge the store greatly.

R. A. Babb, Hardware Man, Will Take Over the Entire Ground Floor of his Building Between Seventh and Eighth on Wilamette Street for his Own Use

J. J. McCormick will move his cigar store and amusement house to the store room now occupied by E. Lange's cloak and suit house, which is going into the Castle theater building.

Shrine Will Have Event at Ashland

Several members of the Eugene Shrine club, who are affiliated with the Hillth temple of Ashland, are attending the mid-winter round-up and ceremonial held at Ashland today. A big program has been prepared for the affair and nobles of the order from all parts of Southern Oregon have been invited. Expectations are that at least 350 visitors including the Shriners and their ladies will be present for the banquet this evening which will be one of the big social features of the event.

LANE DOCTORS MEET

The Lane County Medical society, nurses and hospital executives and several Corvallis physicians were guests of the Pacific Christian hospital at their regular meeting last night. The next meeting will be February 19 at Eugene hospital.

NEW BRIDGE TAKES MILLAGE TAX FUND

With the present estimate of $75,000 for the erection of the new Hendricks bridge through co-operation of the state and county, Lane's share will be about half of the total millage to be raised by the special millage tax of two mills approved at the last general election, according to county officials. The millage money was to be spent on repair work but the Hendricks span, although a new structure entirely, is replacing a bridge that was held to be in need of repair, it is pointed out. This first half of the special bridge fund will be available about March in the tax collections, the second half will be available in the early autumn. With the exception of the Hendricks span practically all other bridge work of the county this year will be repair and there will be no similar demand on the remaining half of the millage fund it is believed.

Certificates Sent For School Pupils

Certificates are being signed today to be sent out to the schools of the county for distribution to the pupils who successfully passed the eighth grade examinations held last week. The final grading of the papers has been completed and the successful ones are being notified. Thirty districts had the general examinations and 38 had examinations in physiology and geography.

Fair Board Notice Sent to Directors

Notices calling attention to the annual meeting of the Lane county fair board to be held next Tuesday at the county court room are being mailed out to the members today. Each Farmers' Union local and each Lomona Grange are allowed one member each on the fair board but so far those organizations have but a minority of cases named representatives. Clinton Hurd, retiring president of the board, will turn over the affairs of the organization to the new president following the election next week.

DAIRY PROGRAM TO BE SESSIONS TOPIC

To frame a legislative program that will be satisfactory to the dairy interest of Oregon a meeting has been called for McManisville to be held next Monday and representatives of the Farmers' Union warehouse and the Eugene Farmers' Creamery will be present for the meeting. The meeting will be held the day preceding the annual session of the Oregon Dairy-men's association.

The Eugene representatives are represented on two of the eight committees appointed. The Farmers' Union has a representative on the feed dealer's committee and M. M. Boney, manager of the Farmers' Creamery, has been named on the ice cream and butter manufacturers committee. Other committees are: Raw milk dealers, pasteurized milk dealers, cheese manufacturers, farmers and breed associations, farm organizations, miscellaneous.

In his announcement of the meeting Chester L. Mulkey, president of the association, states "There will be considerable legislation of various kinds talked over and it ought to be possible for most everyone to agree on the main points likely to be met. At any rate, we should try to have general agreement on the most important issues. This will save the time of the legislature and prevent our pulling at cross purposes."

School Fund Loan Reports Are Made

State school fund loans in Lane county totaled $119,000 during the past year, according to the biennial reports received here that were presented to the state legislature yesterday. That the state school loan in Lane are very low compared to other counties is indicated by the fact that Lane is 20th in total amounts granted. The total for the state $6,970,471.24.

Ladies of G. A. R. Plan to Install

SPRINGFIELD, Ore., Jan. 16.—(Special)—The Ladies of the Grand Army will install their new officers at a meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Woodman of the World hall. Mrs. C. J. Buley of Eugene is the installing officer. Those who will take office are: Mrs. Charles F. Eggenmann, president; Mrs. Mary Magill, senior vice-president; Mrs. Al Montgomery, Prairie, vice-president; Mrs. Bert Doane, treasurer; Mrs. Walter Laxton, secretary; Mrs. T. A. Rathbun, chaplain; Mrs. Harold Hartley, guard; Mrs. Jane Montjoy, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Sam Richmond, conductress; and Mrs. Lottie S. Bowman, assistant conductress.

COUNTY WILL HAVE ROUTE JOB CHARGE

Practically all work on the improvement of the Prairie road on the 11-mile stretch as provided by bond money will be done by county crews and equipment with the exception of the hauling of the crushed rock which will probably be let on contract, according to P. M. Morse, county engineer, who states that at the first sign of spring weather action will start on the project. "We have plenty of gravel for the work at the county pit near Meadowview close to the route and two caterpillars of the county will be employed for the heavy part of the work," Mr. Morse said. The project will be completed by late summer, according to present estimates.

M. H. Douglass is Chosen Moderator

M. H. Douglass was elected moderator of the Congregational church at its annual business meeting and election of officers last night in the new church home, Thirteenth avenue and Ferry street. The meeting followed a supper served by the women of the church. Reports of the heads of various church departments were read. Other officers elected were: Clerk, E. L. Knapp; treasurer, M. Ethel Taylor; head usher, D. M. Graham; trustees, O. C. Caswell, F. R. Wetherbee, Henry Grant, Charles Colton, C. A. E. Whitton; deacons, P. O. Davis, S. G. Gishell, M. H. Douglass, A. E. Wheeler; deaconesses, Mrs. R. H. Fields, Mrs. S. Gishell, Mrs. Amos Wilkins; pastor's committee, Mrs. Douglass, Mrs. McCormack, and Mrs. DeBusk.

TAX EXPERTS WILL PAY EUGENE VISIT

Eugene and Lane county cities will be visited during the six weeks beginning February 13 and ending March 14, by experienced deputies from the office of Clyde G. Huntley, collector of internal revenue, it was announced today.

These men will visit principal cities and towns of the state to assist taxpayers in preparing their federal income tax returns for 1924. This assistance is given gratuitously by Collector Huntley's deputies, and taxpayers are urged to avail themselves of the service. When calling upon their deputies, taxpayers are requested to bring with them the income tax blank forms they will have received through the mail.

Eugene will have a tax representative almost an entire month from February 16 to March 14. Other Lane county towns to be visited, and the dates are: Junction City, February 15 and 14; Mapleton, February 16; Cottage Grove, February 27 to March 3.

BIG INTEREST SEEN IN CITY MEETINGS

That the proposed "league of cities" of Oregon to be discussed at a meeting to be held at Portland January 24 will have the backing of many municipalities of the state is shown by the interest already manifested, according to word received today by Mayor E. B. Parks, who will attend the city as Eugene's representative. "Every city official who has answered the invitation of Commissioner Harbour of Portland, who called the meeting, has stated approval of the plan, I hear," said Mayor Parks. "Twenty-eight states have city leagues organized along various lines at present and information on these has been obtained for the Oregon municipal representatives as a guide to an organization in this state, is the word received by Mayor Parks."
