

MAGIC BOX OF DR. ABRAMS IS AGAIN PRAISED

Scientific Investigators Shows Conviction Of Something New

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Dr. Abrams' "magic box" which most people here had forgotten, has come into the limelight again through a report by a committee of scientific investigators, which it correctly reported by today's Daily Express, shows they are convinced that there is "something new and wonderful" in connection with the box, which although not yet understood, makes further investigation desirable. They are represented as saying that this research holds "great possibilities" and is worthy of active financial support.

Members of the committee include Sir Thomas Harder, the Prince of Wales' physician, known as a cancer expert, and Dr. C. B. Heald, medical advisor to the director of civil aviation. The committee's report read last night at a meeting of the Royal Society of Medicine says that friends of the committee had warned them that it would be inexpedient to publish the results of their investigation, but after consideration they had decided to disregard this advice, "because nothing but good can come from publication and work conducted in a spirit of scientific sincerity and of which full details are given." They make it clear, however, that their report is no wise license anybody to claim that the box has curative powers. The Express says those listening to the report were inclined to believe that the discovery may eventually prove to be nothing less than a new form of energy.

The late Dr. Albert Abrams of San Francisco, who some years ago, announced that electrons were the basis of life and the foundation of health, invented an instrument called the reflexophone by the use of which, he maintained, he could detect cancer, tuberculosis and other diseases. Diagnosis of a specimen of blood he said, would reveal not only the presence of diseases but also the age of the subject, his race and the probable length of his life. It was his theory that, after disease had been detected by his method, a cure could be effected by means of another instrument called the ocelloclast, which used electric waves to offset other waves within the body.

Dr. Abrams had many followers and his theory won the support of some prominent men, although it was denounced by the American Medical Association. A special committee, set up for the Scientific American, after a year of inquiry made public a report last August in which the Abrams electronic reaction theory was pronounced unfounded.

DOCTOR HAD FAITH SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Faith of the late Dr. Albert Abrams in his electronic system of disease detection was evidenced under the terms of his will which provided for the erection of a college of electronic healing.

Construction of the steel frame building, started soon after his death, was stopped last year by the heirs of the doctor as the building was nearing completion and the entire cost is now being litigated in the courts here. The heirs objected to the large amount set aside by the doctor for the perpetuation and study of the system of medicine of which he was generally recognized as the founder. Since Dr. Abrams' death his method of healing has been the subject of lengthy newspaper articles here in which his claims to cures were belittled on the basis of reports made by committees of organized medical associations of the conventional school.

Dr. Abrams built up a wide practice in San Francisco during the latter years of his life and it was in the use of his electron system that he created part of the fortune which he left for the erection of the college.

Many Accidents In State Reported

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 17.—A total of 487 accidents were reported to the state industrial accident commission for the week ending January 15 of which three were fatal. The fatal cases were: Daniel F. Corkey, Glenwood, car loader; John Swanson, North Bend, pile driver; Charles Vahsannd, Oakridge, laborer.

Of the total number of accidents reported 885 were subject to the provisions of the workmen's compensation act, and from firms and corporations that are not under the act and one from a public utility corporation not subject to act.

Professor Lomax Speaks to Lions

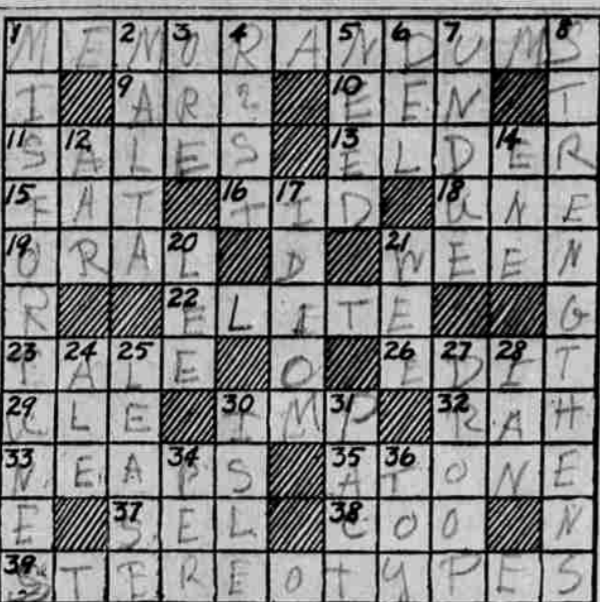

SPRINGFIELD, Ore., Jan. 17.—(Special)—Professor Alfred L. Lomax, of the school of business administration of the University of Oregon, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Springfield Lions club held yesterday noon in the Woodmen of the World hall. A discussion of the industrial situation of the Pacific Northwest was the theme of his talk. He gave a resume of the farming situation as it is at present, citing figures compiled by numerous commercial clubs.

Professor Lomax believes that the growing of flax will be one of the coming industries, particularly in the Willamette valley.

NORWEGIANS WILL OPPOSE VESSELS AS RUM RUNNERS

OSLO, Norway, Jan. 17.—The Norwegian government is considering legislation to prevent the participation of Norwegian vessels in the rum running trade to the United States, which is characterized here as "a discredit to the flag."

The foreign office, through its legislation in Washington has obtained the names of ten Norwegian vessels identified as among those on "rum row" and the list has been sent to the shipowners' association and ministry of justice for further action. It is pointed out that few Norwegian vessels—not more than 10 in all have been engaged in the liquor traffic to America and that seldom more than five of these are operating off the coast.

Norwegian public opinion as reflected here favor the enactment of any legislation assisting the American officials as long as it does not abridge Norwegian legal rights on the sea.

Mrs. Alice Belmont Wedded to Mr. Wing

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Alice W. Belmont, widow of August Belmont, Jr., and John D. Wing, II, who were married in the Church of St. Thomas church here yesterday, are sailing today on the Mauretania to spend part of the winter in Europe. Mrs. Wing is a daughter of Albert V. De Giocouria and a sister of Mrs. Benjamin Curtis Allen of Colorado Springs, Colo. Her first husband, who died in 1919, was a son of the late August Belmont, Mr. Wing is a broker. He was graduated from Princeton in 1911 and served in France during the World war.

Reforestation Plans Backed by Engineers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Enlistment of national and local engineering societies in a nation-wide campaign to develop constructive state reforestation policies in harmony with the aims of federal legislation, will be undertaken by the American Engineering Council. Deciding on this step at the concluding sessions of its annual meeting, today the council pledged its cooperation with the federal forestry service in protecting the nation's timber resources.

Wild Boar Dashes In; Sick Man Well

BOURGES, France, Jan. 17.—Pursued by hunters, a wild boar dashed into a private house in the village of Grand Mallory, near here, and made his way into a bedroom where an invalid had been lying for months. The sick man shrieked for help, then arose and jumped out of the window. The wild boar was finally killed. The invalid has returned to work.

Fundamentalism vs Modernism Subject

EUGENE, Ore., Jan. 17.—(To The Guard)—Hardly do we listen to a sermon or read a paper unless this item of fundamentalism vs modernism is before us in a controversial attitude. Jesus told Nicodemus: "If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not how shall ye believe, if I tell ye of heavenly things."

Right here is the solution. But one faction commences to study the earthly or material things, and never stops to consider the heavenly or spiritual things. Down, down they go like a mole never ceasing and takes at last down to utter darkness. The other faction ascends to heaven like a skyrocket and after a little while explodes into hundreds of beautiful denominations accomplishing nothing but pitiful consternation, that people gaze at.

Repentance, faith, regeneration and sanctification of a human being has been proven over and over again through experience which only the ignorant will deny. Just as well as the circulation of the blood, nervous system, frame and sinews of our body. If our preachers were educated in our earthly composition, and our professors in our spiritual composition the strife would cease, and the spirit of God would enlighten both sides, to the enlightenment and progress of humanity. "A house divided against itself must fall," and gives us one calamity after another.

Adam and Eve were to elevate them out of Eden to their standard, through the fall they were dragged down to the standard of the outsiders. After Cain had slain his brother, and God condemned him of his crime Cain tells God, his deed was too terrible to bear and everyone who meets him will kill him. Here is revealed unto us in a few words that other people are living on the earth. Cain intermarries with them, and the result was the deluge, which however, we cannot consider universal. All descendants of Adam and Eve together with those, that intermarried with them were drowned, except Noah and his family. But the Mongolian and negro races were not. To claim the negro descendants of Adam is poor fiction. The Canaanites were not black.

The Chinese have a civilization older than the flood, but of their origin they have no knowledge. Maybe they and the negroes descended from the ape. We don't know, neither do they or the monkeys. Here the modernist or materialist may or may not be right. Both the Mongolians and negroes are now accepting the Gospel, but mind you under the protection of Christian nations. We have yet much to learn. It almost seems, that the only one, who never sinned must come again to solve the problem for us. C. SCOTT.

DEFENDERS OF GIRL MURDERER GATHER FORCES

Two Come Forward To Tender Services; Club Women Take Action

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Legal and scientific forces gathered here today in the first reported efforts to defend Dorothy Ellingson, 16-year-old confessed slayer of her mother, Mrs. Anna Ellingson. The latter was killed in the bedroom of her home last Tuesday night, and the daughter in a written confession, has admitted firing the fatal shot because her mother remonstrated with her for not keeping more regular hours. Dorothy is charged with murder.

Today two persons had come forward to tender their services in defense of the girl. One of them was Public Defender Frank J. Egan. The other was J. G. Moser, an attorney in private practice, who declared that prominent club women had asked him to take up the girl's defense. In the meantime, Dorothy's two nearest relatives, a brother Earl, and her father, Joseph Ellingson, a tailor, had repudiated her saying they would have nothing to do with the case and that the law must take its course. The young principal in what has been termed one of the most unusual criminal cases in the history of the state was to appear today at the inquest.

TEXAS RANGERS TO FACE ELIMINATION FOLLOWING ORDER

Commissioners And Judges Act On Motor Bill

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 17.—(AP)—The Texas rangers, credited with being one of the most fearless law-enforcing organizations found anywhere in the world and America's first constabulary force, today is threatened with elimination. A district court yesterday ruled that the law creating the ranger force unconstitutional and enjoined the organization from further range activities. For more than 90 years, this group of men, originally numbering 150 never more than 1000 members, and at present but 50, has had a record of enforcing the law to the utmost. Organized first to protect homesteaders in the wilderness of southwestern Texas, its work has been changed to suit the times and of recent years, it has apprehended law violators and criminals. For the first time since its inception, its work was at a standstill today.

The history of the ranger force extends into the provincial days after Texas has declared its independence from Mexico and before the republic of Texas was organized, when the land between the Sabine and Rio Grande rivers was considered "no man's land." Constabularies in Pennsylvania, New York and other states were patterned after the Texas rangers, who have a motto of "get your man." The royal northwest mounted police of Canada also is said to have had its inception as the result of the Texas force.

Commissioners And Judges Act On Motor Bill

Portland, Ore., Jan. 17.—Following lively debate, county judges and county commissioners of the state late yesterday tabled a resolution supporting the proposed amendment to the market road law. They decided to make no recommendation to the legislature.

Resolutions adopted recommending: That commercial trucking and passenger carrying enterprises be required to pay license fees sufficient to cover a larger proportion of the cost of repairing the damage to the roads. That there be no reduction in the price of auto licenses for touring cars and that there be no reduction in the gasoline tax. That a law be enacted requiring that the tax on unsecured personal property be collected by the assessor based upon the levy of the previous year and that such levy and collection be final. Judge Hasbrouck of Hood River county was re-elected president of the association. Judge Adkisson of Wasco was elected vice-president and J. E. Smith, commissioner of Marion county, was re-elected secretary and treasurer.

NOTICE FOR BIDS FOR WOOD The Trustees of Spencer Butte Lodge, No. 9, I. O. O.
