

MULTNOMAH GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT BY OREGON, 32-21

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 23.—(Special)—Vaccination failed to stop the attack of the University of Oregon basketball team last night and the Multnomah scored a 32-to-21 victory over Multnomah club despite the fact that they had their arms tightly banded.

SPORT BRIEFS

(By The Associated Press) Russell Callow, coach of the University of Washington rowing crew, then notified that the board of stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association had changed the distance for the Poughkeepsie, N. Y., race next week from three to four miles, and the decision has astonished him. He said he believed the longer distance would favor Washington. Callow has seven members of last year's varsity crew in the nucleus around which he expects to build his 1925 squad. It is expected that he will begin at once to train the men over the four-mile course.

By winning three of the four games played on their tour the Oregon Aggie five now stands near the top in the Pacific Coast and Northwest conference. The Beavers defeated the University of Idaho, 19 to 18, by a rally in the last three minutes of the game. The O. A. C. players won by a single point from Gonzaga, defeated Washington State College by four points, and lost to the University of Washington five by a large margin in their other game.

BASKETBALL

Questions 1. What is the proper way to hold the ball in play after it lodges in the supports of the basket? 2. What is the definition of a foul? 3. What is regarded as a disqualifying foul? Answers 1. The ball is put in play from center. 2. When a player who is holding the ball steps one or more times in any direction with the same foot, the other foot, the pivot foot, being kept at its point of contact, a foul has been taken place. 3. A foul which causes a player to be removed from the game for rough work.

University Sports

Officers of the newly formed University of Oregon sports writers association will be elected at a meeting Monday afternoon. Only sports writers actually in the employ of newspapers are eligible to membership, although sports writers on the Emerald will be taken in as associate members, and the sporting editors of the four Portland newspapers will be made honorary members. The purpose of the association is to get better cooperation among the correspondents, and to assist students who would become sports writers. The association is composed of the following members: George Godfrey, Christian Science Monitor; Sam Wilderman, Eugene Guard and the Oregonian; Ken Cooper, Journal; Wilbur Wester, Register; Dick Godfrey, Seattle Times; Dick Eckman and Ward Cook, Seattle Post-Intelligencer; and Parker Brainin, Portland Telegram.

If Back Hurts Begin On Salts

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they slough off either or strain into part of the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder diseases often come from sluggish kidneys. The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full or scanty, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Paul's Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders. Paul's Salts is inexpensive and does not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

Franklin High to Play Frosh Here

Franklin high of Portland, 1925 champion of the Portland high school league, will play the University of Oregon freshmen here tomorrow in the men's gym, starting at 2:30 o'clock. Coach Evans of the freshmen has an array of stars on his squad, but he has not yet been able to whip them into a real team because of lack of practice. Of the ten men on the team, two are Eugene boys, Eberhart, center, and Powers, guard. They played for local high schools last year, each being mentioned on the all-star team. The freshmen team will be picked from the following: Benne, Medford; Deaser, Milton, and Turner, Spokane; forward; Eberhart, Eugene; Sawalish, Oklahoma, and Edwards, Milton, center; Powers, Eugene, Morton, Marshall, Brock, California and Hutchinson, Jefferson high, Portland, guard.

Izzy Tanner Given Lessons by Britton

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 23.—Jack Britton, former welterweight champion of the world gave Izzy Tanner, St. Paul, a boxing lesson in a ten-round bout here last night. The former title holder scored a knockdown early in the first round with a short left hook to Tanner's chin. In the semi-windup, Jack Gardeau and George McCormick, welter, went to a ten-round draw.

BY BILLY EVANS HILE to the baseball fans Nick Altrock is merely a "buffoon, baseball's clown, the old boy has his serious moments. It so happens that Nick resides in an apartment at Washington very close to the hotel where I stay. I often bump into him in the evening. One night walking down Pennsylvania avenue, I was joined by Altrock. An unusual play came up that afternoon that Nick wanted to be wised up on. Nick, you know, says his next job will be umpiring. He figures he can do the comedy stuff until he gets to be 60. Then his plans call for him to start umpiring until he is 80. While not in keeping with Pennsylvania avenue, there are usually about a half dozen fortune-telling booths located in the lower end, where a dumb-looking woman agrees to tell your fortune for two-bits. "I will tell your fortune," is the catch line always used by one of the ladies fair. Nick, in pure jest, stopped in front of her booth and appeared interested. "Better drop in and have her tell you your future, Nick," I suggested. A wistful look came over Nick's face. Probably he was thinking of the world series of 1906 when he was acclaimed the popular hero of the nation. He continued to look off into space and then rather sadly remarked: "Nothing doing, Bill, my future is behind me." It was the story of Nick's career in one short sentence. It was plain Nick would have given everything to have lived over the old days and profited by them.

NICK ALTROCK TO COACH WASHINGTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(AP)—Nick Altrock has made his last three base hits. He will, however, continue to do foolish things on the field. True, other players have done foolish things but Altrock does them intentionally. The 1925 roster of the Washington club shows that the comedian has been relegated to the position of coach, where previously he had been a player. Altrock batted for 1000 in the season of 1924 when he hit for three bags in Washington's last game against the Red Sox. The Boston outfielders, bent upon allowing Nick to score a home run, failed to field the ball slowly enough, for Altrock started down at third base and refused to continue to the plate. Nick had every reason to believe that he would be one of the regular pitching staff during the coming season and entered a period of severe training on the basketball courts with a team touring the east. He did not play, but traveled with the players, including in phantom baseball, football and boxing for the edification of the crowds. He really felt that he was young enough—he is only 44—to rejoin a regular pitching staff. Al Schuck will be Altrock's assistant, if he needs one, as coach for the Washington club.

Luis Angel Firpo Shows Up Again

PARIS, Jan. 23.—Luis Angel Firpo, missing for five days from his usual haunts in Paris, was located by long distance phone late Thursday, quietly lunching at Fontainebleau. He had set out in his new motor car Saturday to spend Sunday at Rheims, saying he would return Monday and the fact that he had shown signs of developing as speed mania with the new machine caused fears that he might have met with a mishap. "I am big enough to take care of myself," he snapped over the phone. He had been automobiling in the devastated regions and assured the inquirers that his car was being driven by a careful chauffeur.

DETROIT'S TIGERS TO HAVE BUT FEW CHANGES IN FALL

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 23.—(AP)—The door of the Tigers managerie at August, Ga., will open two weeks later this year than last. This is the tentative announcement at the offices of the Detroit club, here, subject to revision by Manager Ty Cobb, now at his home in Augusta. Most of the Tigers will be back, their number augmented by the smallest group of Tiger cubs in several years. Cobb, Heinemann, Blue, Bassler, and Whitehill, southpaw ace, again promise to be the chief factors of strength this year, as they did last. Other regulars who will report at Augusta will be: Burke, O'Rourke, Rigney, Hango, Jones, Manush, Fothergill, Wingo, Woodall, Daus, Johnson, Pillette, Collins, Leonard, Holloway and Wells. In addition, Cobb will have Neun, the first baseman, whose playing last year was one of the sensations of the American association. The new face in Tiger garb, yet one familiar in the American league, is that of George McBride, formerly shortstop and manager of the Washington club, who has been signed as assistant manager. Much of McBride's job will be devoted to strengthening second base. Familiar forms that will be missing include: Derrill Pratt, veteran infielder, who was given his unconditional release; Bert Cole, southpaw pitcher, who returns to the Pacific coast after an extended but unsuccessful stay in the majors; and Clyde Manion, third string catcher, sold to Toronto of the International league.

MAKING SAFE INVESTMENTS

It is estimated that the American people pay one billion dollars a year for worthless securities. Think of it—nearly ten dollars apiece for every man, woman and child in the United States. In almost a score of states, the assessed valuation of all the real estate is less than one billion dollars. And yet such losses can be avoided. There are many substantial financial organizations and agencies for safe investment with quarterly, semi-annually and annually dividend paying securities. The glitter of the get-rich-quick propositions dazzle in such fascinating splendor, that many, who do not obey the ever present warning must check their supposed fine investment to complete loss, a tragic ending to hard earned money. The swindler can be avoided and your money safely and wisely invested. The bond houses, savings investment companies, savings and loan associations, the national, savings and state banks all furnish literature and free advice on how to secure substantial and well earning bonds, certificates, and securities. Why hazard your earnings and savings while here in Eugene you have every opportunity for safe, sane and profitable investment? It is surprising what a small amount of money, under a systematic plan of saving will produce within a few years. Buying a savings bond or certificate will only require you to save but a few cents a day, and before you know it the dime and nickle that you have it rescued from reckless spending will accumulate into a large substantial amount. Within a few years with ad-

most progressive cities on the Pacific coast, its growth has been exceedingly substantial, and to say the least, speaks credit to its citizens and city government. Eugene's future is assured, its growth will continue with amazing volume, opportunity is here and investments made in Eugene will bring good returns.
