CHURCH GROUPS OF EUGENE LEAD LANE

February 25 has been set as the date for all of the Lane county Christian Endeavor societies to complete their quota of registrations for the international convention to be held at Portland July 4 to 10, according to officials in charge of the campaign here. The Eugene C. E. is still in the lead in Lane although the outside communities are showing a fine response, is the report.

Reports from the various committee chairmen of the state show the pre-convention plans well in hand. Expecting 10,000 delegates 7000 from east of the Rockies and 3000 from the Pacific coast, the housing committee has already arranged to take care of nearly half that number in Portland hotels. The remainder will be accommodated in homes, is the word received here.

Program for the convention will be made at the Endeavor headquarters, Boston, Mass., but plans outlined here, it was announced, called for mass meetings Saturday and Sunday, July 5 and 6, at Multnomah field. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday sessions will be held at the public auditorium. Friday, July 10, all delegates will be taken over the Mount Hood loop drive. More than 2,000 automobiles are now being solicited for the trip.

One of the big features of each Endeavor convention, the parade in which delegates march by states, is being planned for Tuesday or Wednesday. Colonel W. S. Gilbert, chaplain of the Oregon national guard, is in charge of that feature.

DENIAL MADE THAT END OF WORLD SET

In view of the approaching date of February 6, set by some for the end of the world, the executive committee of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination announced the following repudiation:

Whereas, a group of people having no connection with the Seventh-day Adventist church have assumed the name of this organization, and have set a date for Christ's second advent, announcing February 6, 1925, as the time for this event we hereby place officially on record in the minutes of our general conference our repudiation of all time-setting, and record our protest against connecting the name "Seventh-day Adventist" with this propaganda. Anew we declare to the public that throughout our history our witness to the signs of the times that show Christ's second coming near at hand, has ever been based on the scriptural teaching that "of that day and hour knoweth no man."

FOREST EDUCATION CONTEST PROPOSED

Next step in the campaign of education sponsored by the Cascade National forest will be the examination of the young people who signed up at yesterday afternoon's meeting at the chamber of commerce, says Nelson F. Macduff, who spoke at the meeting.

These young people, who represent nearly all the juvenile organizations in the city will demonstrate to Mr. Macduff, Smith Taylor or C. R. Lockard of the forest office staff, that they understand the various points of fire prevention, such as campfire building, extinguishing, preventing stream pollution, destruction of flowers and shrubbery, defacing of signs, etc.

A trip to Castle rock lookout up the McKenzie will be the prize awarded to winners of a contest, to be started as soon as the delegates have proved their knowledge of how to behave in the woods. Those who signed up are as follows:

Ethan Newman, Margaret Edmundson, Alice Clink, Grace Fennell, Helen Piper, Mrs. L. L. Small, Mrs. John T. Genot, Edna Spanker, Howard Strawn, Fred Falls, Harry Loomis, Edward Wells, Robert Allen, Robert Goodall, Roger Bailey, Raymond Connelly, Melvin Sweezey, Pascho Saunders, R. Emmett Jones, Lester W. Smith, Nell MacDonald, Edna Dillon, Miriam Stratford, Charlotte La Tourette, Dora McClain, Ruth Orrick and Edna Mathews.

Knights of Pythias Attend Convention

More than 15 members of the local lodge, Knights of Pythias, left for Albany this afternoon to attend the banquet and program at the close of the district Pythian convention this evening. The local group was headed by Darwin E. Yoran, state deputy grand chancellor, and several officers of the Eugene lodge.

The Albany meeting is well attended, according to reports reaching Eugene today. Several of the state officials are present, and among those who will be on the program tonight are Jay H. Upton, state grand chancellor and Walter G. Gleason, grand keeper of records and seals.

Rain Damage Seen On County Routes

"This steady rain if it keeps up will cause some damage to the county roads as many of them were not in the best of condition as a result of the freeze and thaw last month," is the report today of Clinton Hurd, county commissioner. Although the drastic load limit order holding the weight to 200 pounds per inch of tire width has been lifted on all but a small portion of the county roads there is still considerable danger of damage by heavy hauling, the county official states.

Powder Supply is Sent For Project

Two loads of powder were taken out today to the road grading work now under way near London Springs. The powder and other equipment for the blasting went by truck under charge of O. E. Callison and other members of the county road crews. A large amount of the material to be removed in the grading work will have to be blasted as the route is through a rocky district, according to members of the county court.

Cottage Protection Association Formed

To guard summer homes of Eugene residents on the McKenzie river from future wholesale burglaries, an organization known as the McKenzie River Protection association was formed last night at the chamber of commerce. George Keegan was named president of the society, and B. B. Beumler, secretary-treasurer.

A standing reward of $500 will be offered for the arrest and conviction of persons found molesting property or entering houses belonging to members. Any resident of the McKenzie country, whether farmer, merchant or resident of any of the small towns up and down the valley, may obtain the protection by signing up with the association and assuming a share of the standing reward.
