

EUGENE FIRM WILL HAVE CASE ARGUED TO OBTAIN LICENSE

Mandamus proceedings brought by the National Thrift association of Eugene against W. E. Cruise, state corporation commissioner, will be heard at Salem tomorrow. The association organized here by Dr. S. T. Doucette has been denied a permit by the state department under the blue sky laws.

The association is also plaintiff in an action to enjoin Postmaster Yoran from marking the mail addressed to the organization as "fraudulent".

It is held that the methods of the association are in the nature of a lottery but this is denied by Dr. Doucette who states that many courts have ruled otherwise on the plan.

The organization is said to operate much like a drawing system of Latin countries. Regular subscriptions to the association are solicited at $1 a member monthly. Each month, from among every 25,000 policy holders, winners are selected. The prizes are distributed on the following scale: One for $5000, on $500, 30 $50 each; 50, $25, 100 $10, 150 $5, 1250 $2 and 2500 $1.

OBJECTION MADE TO GARBAGE DUMP

Remonstrance to the use of the Chase property on the Willamette river as a dumping ground was made by R. W. Martin, a resident of the locality, in a letter addressed to each member of the city council, and read at the council meeting last night.

"In view of the fact that I had the repeated assurance of Mayor Parks, Carl Washburne, E. Large, A. L. Williamson, Frank McAlister and Dean Walker that the dump would not be established on or near the old site at the Ferry street bridge," said Mr. Martin, "I feel my interests as a citizen of Eugene are not being properly protected by the council, and that the interests of citizens east of Skinner butte and north of the railroad track are being ignored."

The dumping ground referred to is operated as a private enterprise, it was brought out at the council meeting. Inasmuch as the city is not connected with it in any way, no action was taken on Mr. Martin's letter.

REUNION TO HAVE VAUDEVILLE ACTS

From 25 to 30 vaudeville acts will be featured in the annual Lane county veterans' reunion February 12, announced George E. Love, general chairman in charge of the celebration, today.

"The show will be from 7:30 p. m., to midnight," Mr. Love, "and it will be a knockout from start to finish. Jazz orchestras, blackface comedians with red hot jokes. A troupe of dancing maidens, featuring singing and comedy skits. Athletic acts. Bands, orchestras and glee clubs. It looks as if a pleasant time will be had by all."

Six legion posts in Lane county are co-operating in preparing the program, and Eugene business men, without solicitation, are donating large quantities of food and amusements.

The drum corps of the American legion will meet and elect officers for the year tonight at the R. O. T. C. barracks, announces Mr. Love. A meeting of the legion glee club is also scheduled for tonight.

County Officials To Go to Klamath

To appear as witnesses at the trial of John O'Shea, charged with murder at Klamath Falls, Sheriff Frank E. Taylor and Chief Deputy Van Starverud will leave for Klamath Thursday as they are expected to take the stand Friday, according to present plans. O'Shea who is held as one of five for the shooting of Oscar Erickson January 4, at Klamath Falls, was arrested in Lane county and his statements while in jail here are to be told by the Lane peace officers.

Senate Votes Out Postal Bill Section

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The senate today voted out of the postal bill a section of which would have eliminated differential mail rates authorized religious, educational and philanthropic publications.

As a result the present rate of 1 1/4c a pound for advertising matter in publications of this character subject to zone rates was retained.

Beauties of Nature Reflected in Singing, is Belief of American Soprano, Who Wants Strong Voice

Flora Greenfield, the American soprano, believes that only by living an outdoor life, can one reflect in her singing the beauties of nature. American wants strong, vital, exuberant, joyous voices, she believes—not the voices with the decadent Oriental flavor, which so many of the bred-in-the-parlor singers, reflect.

PRACTICE STARTED IN ORATORIO PLANS

First rehearsals for the presentation of "Creation" by the newly organized Oratorio society were held last evening at the University of Oregon school of music and a big turnout of the membership is reported. Parts for the oratorio were distributed last night and an enthusiasm that indicates a vast amount of interest in the aims of the society was manifested, is the report of George H. McMorran, president.

The preliminary practice for "Creation" brought out indications of the large amount of musical talent that is available for the society and with the university facilities and the advantage of training the future of the new society seems assured, is the confident prediction of John Stark Evans, director. Rehearsals will be held each Monday evening, according to present plans.

Rotarian Speakers Talk on Business

Dean John Landsbury and Walter Fell were speakers at the Rotary luncheon today, closing the series of addresses on better business methods, planned by the better business committee of which Dean Landsbury was chairman.

Mr. Fell talked on the duty of wholesale dealers or jobbers to the retail man, contrasting present day business methods to the old strong-arm methods of competition a decade ago. Dean Landsbury stated that the object of the series of addresses was not so much to teach the business man as to present subjects for him to think about.

Bobcat Family of County Suffering

War on Lane county bobcats is evidently under way judging by the number of pelts brought to the office of the county clerk during the past two days for collection of bounty. The bounty on 16 bobcats was paid yesterday and five more were collected up to late this afternoon. The total bounty for these animals paid since the first of the year is $140 on 73 cats. C. H. Holden, resident of the Lanslaw district, brought in five bobcats today to receive the bounty.

Lane Farm Unions To Gather Friday

Representatives of the 28 locals of the Lane county Farmers Union representing the 1800 members are expected to attend the annual meeting of the county organization to be held Friday at Springfield. The gathering of the union delegates will be an all-day affair to be held at the W. O. W. hall of Springfield, according to Ralph P. Laird, president. Officers for the coming year will be elected and reports from the various locals received.

Jury Meeting For Lane February 16

To take up cases now being prepared at the office of District Attorney John S. Medley, the grand jury will be called to meet February 16, according to announcement today of Judge J. F. Skipworth. One of the heaviest lists of cases to be given to the grand jury in some time is expected judging by the number now pending. More than 25 cases were presented to the last grand jury for action but this is expected to be exceeded at the next meeting.

Tax Reduction is President's Policy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Further reduction in the taxpayer's burden through reduced government expenditures will be a guiding policy of the four years of administration upon which President Coolidge enters on March 4.

Addressing the regular semi-annual meeting of executive and administrative officials of the government, the president last night placed upon them and congress the responsibility for so measuring disbursements that a further step in this program may be taken next fall.

Men's Chorus Will Organize Tonight

Organization of a Eugene men's chorus and glee club will be perfected tonight at the chamber of commerce rooms at 7:30 o'clock, it is announced by Hugh Winder, chairman of the committee in charge.

"Every man in the city who wishes to join this chorus is invited to the meeting tonight," says Mr. Winder. "We particularly desire a good representation of local business men. This is to be a community chorus, and any person who has had experience either in choir or solo singing should be interested, for in addition to the valuable training in chorus work that is given is the opportunity to associate in a community enterprise that is bound to become important."

Portia's father was old-fashioned

In the days of Shakespeare's famous heroine, buying and selling were contests of wits. In Venice, haggling and dickering were the vogue. Along the Rialto, sharp practice was the rule. Every purchase of silk or spices was made at the buyer's risk. One had to be a shrewd judge of values and one's fellows to escape trickery.

Portia's father—a merchant—was used to the ideas of guess, luck and accident. So much so indeed, that it seemed natural to him to entrust the choice of his daughter's husband to three closed caskets and a lucky guess!

Nowadays, we do not transact business blindly—nor leave important decisions to chance. It is not necessary for us to gamble when we buy. Commodities are identified for us by trade-marks. Manufacturers go to the advertising columns to tell us about their products. Merchants describe their merchandise—price, quality and service.

By reading advertisements, we get a knowledge of goods and stores that we can depend on. Advertising reduces chance, in buying, to a minimum.

Do you read the advertisements?
