Telephone Company Declares Dividends To 245,000 People

The American Telephone and Telegraph company paid its 141st dividend on January 15, 1925, to the stockholders recorded on the books of the company on December 20, 1924. This dividend, amounting to $2.25 per share, was paid to over 345,000 stockholders.

The work involved in the preparation of these thousands of dividend checks may be visualized from the following facts:

Over two tons of paper are used for the checks. Even though many labor-saving machines are employed, the clerical labor of preparing the checks is equivalent to the entire time of five supervisors and 25 clerks for one month. The signing of the checks, 12 at a time, requires the time of one person an entire week.

The checks, averaging about $58 each, go to the homes of stockholders residing in every section of the United States. These stockholders comprise one of the most interesting and unusual groups of investors in the world. Coming from all walks of life, they constitute a representative cross section of American citizenship. Then, too, nearly every foreign country of note is represented. Gathered together in one place with their families, they would equal the present population of a city even larger than Detroit.

Someone Was A Dub, Other A Hero

Either Admiral Jellicoe or Mr. Beatty in Role

By MILTON BRONNER (SNA Service Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(Special.)—"Beatty was a hero, Jellicoe a dub." "Jellicoe was a hero, Beatty a dub." "All England is a-buzz. Naval critics are at it hammer and tongs. Newspapers are warning. Families are divided father against son, brother against brother.

And it's all the fault of a man named Reginald Bacon who would not let sleeping dogs lie and therefore has stirred up the biggest war controversy since America was confused by the Spanish-Schley squabble after the Spanish-American war of 1898.

There are several parallels. In 1898 we were at war with Spain and had the Spanish fleet cornered in Santiago, Cuba. In 1918 England was at war with Germany and the German fleet apparently was airdred to venture out in full force from its harbors.

In 1898 Admiral W. S. Schley fought the main action while his superior officer, Admiral W. T. Sampson, was 15 miles away. Sampson came up in the closing phases of the battle and got all the credit from the government in charge.

In 1918 the 1918 incident was different. Beatty, in charge of battle cruisers, beat two of his ships and had inflicted practically no losses on the Germans. Then his superior officer, Admiral Jellicoe, came up with the battleships and the side turned. It was Beatty and not Jellicoe who got most of the laurels from the government in charge.

In 1898 Sampson's friends claimed Schley had blundered in his tactics. In 1918 Beatty's friends claimed Jellicoe had blundered in his tactics. In both wars a sharp and bitter public controversy over the matter ensued.

In England Beatty was made an earl while Jellicoe merely was made a viscount. And parliament gave Beatty $500,000 while Jellicoe only got half that amount.

Moreover, Beatty remained at home as First Sea Lord of the Admiralty, while Jellicoe went way over to the other end of the world as governor general of New Zealand.

And on the eve of his return to England a measure of justice was done him by making him earl also. It was thought this New Year peage conferred by the king would finally settle all disputes.

But that's where Bacon stepped in. He is Admiral Sir Reginald Bacon, one of the most distinguished men in the British navy. During the war he had charge of the famous Dover patrol, which protected from German submarines thousands of vessels crossing the English channel to and from France.

Bacon has written a book called "The Jutland Scandal" in which he carries the fight right to the Beatty camp.

In it Bacon asserts:

First—That the Germans escaped in the Dogger bank battle through a series of errors made by Beatty.

Second—"That a serious tactical error in Beatty's part led to a strong battleship squadron not being in action in the first part of the battle of Jutland."

Third—"That a failure on Beatty's part to keep in touch with the German fleet in this same battle deprived Jellicoe of vital information which might have enabled him to win a crushing victory."

And he concludes his terrific arraignment of 150 pages with this Big Bertha at Beatty and his government supporters:

"Both Admiral Jellicoe and Admiral Beatty were leaders of men. Admiral Jellicoe possessed the entire confidence of the fleet. Beatty was looked on as a dashing leader, but for some time also as what sailors from their association with eastern waters call a "makee learn." His inexperience, like his gallantry, was fully appreciated in the fleet."

"If we take the whole of the above

Springfield Girls Teams Are Victors

Vale Men Are Given Prison Sentences

VALE, Ore., Jan. 27.—Bert Lawrence was sentenced to serve three years in the state penitentiary, and his brother, Melvin Lawrence, was sentenced to two years by Judge Dalton Biggs of the circuit court yesterday afternoon as a result of their conviction last week of assault with a dangerous weapon upon Ralph Harvey at Freddie, 30 miles north of the railroad, October 16, when they put a rope around Harvey's neck and hanged him to a cottonwood tree while he confessed to having reported bootlegging operations to the district attorney's office. The defense set at the trial that Harvey had annoyed Bert Lawrence's wife and that the brothers in order to do away with dissatisfaction in the Lawrence home.

Alleged Plotters Will Face Trial

LONDON, Jan. 27.—(Special.)—W. B. O'Leary and J. D. McLaughlin, arrested recently in connection with an alleged plot to blow up British battleships and submarines, were committed for trial today.

The charge against the men was illegal dissemination of naval secrets. At the preliminary hearing yesterday counsel alleged there was evidence to indicate that the defendants were Irish republicans army intelligence officers.

The magistrate admitted McLaughlin to bail in 2,000 pounds sterling, but refused bail for O'Leary.

Prune Packing is Started at Plant

Distribution of an additional quarter cent on Italian prunes, door receipts, was announced last night at the meeting of the board of directors of the Lane County Co-operative Prune Growers' association at the chamber of commerce. This, it was reported, brings the total distribution in the organization to three cents.

The association has started to pack prunes at the Scarborough plant at Creswell, according to Dr. L. D. Scarborough, who is in charge. Fifteen employees are busy packing. The local unit of the exchange has been called upon to prepare the prunes for shipment, the units nearest Tidewater being asked to do this first.

Blue-Striped Mail Bag is Supplanted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The traditional blue-striped United States mail bag is going to give way to the economy test that is being applied in all directions these days, by Brigadier General Lord, director of the budget. When budget bureau officials could find no good reason why the government should pay a cent a yard more for the blue-striped canvas than the plain gray variety, General Lord decided that the postoffice department hereafter will use the latter and thus effect an annual saving of about $45,000 in the cost of mail bags.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 50c.

OPIMUM CONFERENCE LEADERS CONVENE; DECIDE ON BOARD

GENEVA, Jan. 27.—(Special.)—Leaders of the international opium conference here including Representatives Stephen G. Foster and Lord Cecil, respectively heading the American and British delegations met privately today and decided that the central board to supervise the international traffic in narcotic drugs should be appointed by a special group of the powers, including the United States.

The Geneva idea was that the League of Nations permanent commission on dangerous drugs should nominate the members of this board and that the council of the league should make the actual appointment, but as the United States is neither a member of the council nor a regular member of the league's drug commission, the new system of appointments was decided upon.

Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan will form the nucleus of the appointing group with the United States and Germany added as non-members of the league and with other members selected from the six countries holding non-permanent seats in the league council. When the central board is organized, it will function as the League of Nations headquarters with the United States paying its proportionate share of the expenses.

Today's agreement, privately reached, must be regulated openly by the opium conference as a whole.

In order to permit the conclusion of the accord in narcotic drug convention no meeting was held today of the joint commission of the two conferences which will examine the disputed question of suppressing opium smoking in the far east.

SCHOOL HOUSING SERIOUS PROBLEM

Lack of room for Eugene's rapidly-growing school enrollment is becoming a serious problem, it was brought out at the meeting of the school board last night. A heavy increase in registration is expected at the opening of the second term in February.

Thirty days more were added on the contract to build the two new junior high schools, according to vote of the board. Charles E. Turner, construction superintendent, and F. Hanson White, architect, went into details of the work with the board, explaining the delays necessitated.

Resolutions of sympathy to relatives of the late Mrs. Gertrude Miller, teacher, were passed. A. C. Dixon of the Booth-Kelly Lumber company, spoke on the use of hot fuel for heating. Fuel bills submitted were rejected, and the clerk instructed to re-advertise for fuel. Five new typewriters for the commerce department, Eugene high school, were ordered.
