whether we are offering the best clothes values in town or not.

It appears by the papers that ALL clothiers are giving "the best values in town" but it appears by our clothing trade that our values are also pretty good.

It's a good time to check us all up. Make the rounds and make some comparisons. Determine for yourself who offers the most for your money.

Transformations of Industries Talked

PARIS, Jan. 29.—The inter-allied council of ambassadors discussed today the question of the transformation of German war industries to peaceful uses. The particular phases of this question under consideration were looked upon as merely subordinate to the main problem, but appeared to involve the same difficulties as those met within the Krupp works, regarding which diplomatic circles allege that machines utilized for arms manufactured during the war have not been transformed.
