"I am against a hysterical way of pushing business through the house he declared. A few days more is not going to make any great difference to the eastern Oregon farmers."

PUBLIC MEETING ON WORLD COURT TO BE SATURDAY

The public meeting of both townspeople and students, to be held Saturday night at the chamber of commerce, is one of a series of national movements to instruct the people on the question of the world court. The movement is being sponsored by the American Peace Award association. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock. The question of America's participation in the world court has been brought up before several senate committees, but never before the senate as a whole. A resolution recommending that congress introduce such a measure, may be brought up before the discussion group tomorrow night. Dean William G. Hale, of the University of Oregon law school, will give the main address. "The logic of events, places us at the threshold of the court," said Mr. Hale in a statement today. "International needs dictate that we enter. His address will review the history of international relations in general, showing how the world court is designed to remedy the weakness of the past. He will describe the working machinery of the court, and how it functions. Mayor E. B. Parks will give a short talk, and will then lead the discussion. R. A. Booth speaks of the world court as the "best first step to unite all the nations." "I regret," said Mr. Booth, "that some of our leading statesmen should oppose it."

Transmutation of Elements Possible Declares Dr. Free

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—A new civilization with a new chemistry making possible the transmutation of elements, including the changing of substances into gold, is likely as the result of an attempt to apply practically the Einstein theory of relativity, Dr. E. E. Free, editor of The Scientific American, said at a luncheon meeting of the Lions club today. "We are on the verge of entering a new kind of chemistry," Dr. Free explained, "and with that, perhaps, a new kind of civilization. If, as we expect, we can give practical application to the Einstein theory, we will be able to augment the world's supply of certain things of which there is a definite shortage. The world needs more platinum, more iodine, more helium. As far as we know, there is a shortage of supply."

CLEVER ACTS FOR GOVERNOR, HE TESTIFIES

Mr. Pierce and Mr. Herwig Gave Instructions, Is His Statement

Investigators Agree That Dry Chief Was Too Active Politically

STATE HOUSE, SALEM, Ore., Jan. 30.—Just before the close of a seven-hour session of the legislature prohibition investigating committee, near midnight last night, George L. Cleaver, state prohibition officer, who was on the stand, was addressed by Senator A. J. Johnson of Corvallis: "Mr. Cleaver, it has been shown that you have been active in the investigation of public officials." "Considerably so, yes," said Cleaver. "Was this of your own volition or upon instructions from the governor?" continued Johnson. "In most instances either the governor or Herwig," Cleaver answered. "The governor instructed me to follow the advice of the Anti-Saloon league very closely, because they had 20 years' experience. Sometimes I

NEW AMBASSADOR, EMILE DAESCHNER, TAKES UP DUTIES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—President Coolidge today formally accepted the credentials of Emile Daeschner as the new French ambassador. He represents the new French political forces. It is the first diplomatic change that country has made here in more than 20 years. The setting of recently stimulated parliamentary and diplomatic debate on matters having to do with the relations between the two nations, has created an atmosphere of unusual interest and expectancy. Speculation as to whether M. Daeschner might see fit in presenting his credentials today to indicate any hopes or plans for a solution of the debt question had raised more than little more than a perfunctory exchange of remarks between the president and accredited diplomat.

Herrin Again Quiet After Shooting Orgy Victims Are Buried

HERRIN, Ill., Jan. 30.—(AP)—With the last of the victims of last Saturday night's shooting orgy buried, Herrin today resumed a quiet aspect and was preparing for another era of peace following the departure of troops which had been on guard since early last Saturday. S. Glenn Young, Ku Klux Klan deputy sheriff, an opponent of Young's and two bystanders were killed in a local hotel, was buried yesterday. Members of the Klan in full regalia marched in the funeral procession. Meanwhile members of the cooperator's jury were trying to find witnesses to the shooting in a final effort to clear up the affair. The jury will meet tomorrow following today's recess in what will probably prove to be its final session. Unless some more definite information is obtained, there appeared to be little chance that the jury can make any definite findings, except that Young was killed by Thomas.

EXTENSION OF OREGON TRUNK LINE PLANNED

Great Northern and Northern Pacific File Exceptions With Commission

Report Of Mr. Kephart Opposed Because Of Plans, Rail Heads Declare

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 30.—(AP)—Declaration of the intention of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific systems to extend the Oregon Trunk line from Bend to Klamath Falls, unofficially announced some time ago, is contained in the bill of exceptions of the Oregon Trunk filed with the interstate commerce commission to the report of Examiner C. L. Kephart, who last summer heard testimony on the petition of the Oregon public service commission to require the railways now touching the borders of central Oregon to build an east to west line and also to connect Bend, Klamath Falls and Lakeview. At the outset the exceptions of the so-called northern lines cite that Examiner Kephart's report fails to give due weight to their legitimate interests, and of the group of railways of which the Oregon Trunk is a part in the development of the timber and other resources, there having been expended $92,000,000 in construction of their Oregon railway lines. Then follows a declaration that approximately 40,000,000,000 feet of timber is available for cutting in the Klamath Falls region and that large mills for cutting this timber will be built if they can be served by more than one railroad. Extension is Routed. The line from the Columbia river south to Bend was built as a part of a plan eventually to reach and serve the territory in and about Klamath

POSTAL PAY BILL PASSES SENATE; VOTE IS 70 TO 8

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The postal pay and rate increase bill was passed today by the senate. It carries the same provisions for salary increases, effective as of July 1, 1924, as the measure passed last session and vetoed by President Coolidge. The rate increases would apply to practically every form of mail service, but these were considerably modified from the original recommendations of the postoffice department, particularly on second class mail. The measure is expected to be challenged in the house, as a ways and means sub-committee has already decided to urge its return to the senate as constituting a usurpation of the house prerogative of initiating revenue legislation. The rate increases would become effective April 15 of this year and expire February 15, 1926, with provision for an investigation before a joint congressional committee with a view to enactment next session of permanent legislation. The vote on passage was 70 to 8, with Borah, Brookhart, Norbeck and Norris, republicans and Glass, Harrison, Swanson and Underwood, democrats, opposing it. The only change today was the adoption of an amendment to cut from two to one cent the service charge on parcel post packages.

CLEAR LAKE BILL IS INTRODUCED BY SENATOR JOHNSON

STATE HOUSE, SALEM, Ore., Jan. 30.—To make Clear Lake available as a domestic water and power supply for Willamette valley cities and towns is the purpose of a bill introduced in the senate today by Senator Garland of Linn county and Senator Johnson of Benton county. The measure authorizes the various counties of the Willamette valley to form themselves into a municipality for the issuance of bonds for the development. Under the bill a petition must be presented to the secretary of state signed by not less than two percent of the registered vote in the territory. It makes it the duty of the governor to call an election on the formation of the municipality and if it carries the executive is to appoint a board of five trustees, who shall serve until their successors are elected by the municipality. This board is empowered to make a survey of the project and to call an election for the issuance of bonds. The counties interested in the development are Linn, Lane, Marion and Benton.

—100 Little Pigs—Drifting to League—Invention Wanted

By ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright, 1925, by Star Company) A boy sends this information to the United States Agriculture department. Five years ago when he was in the public school he bought a pure bred pig, female, eight weeks old. Since then his pig has added 100 small pigs to the earth's porcine population. The little boy writes: "She paid for my clothes, three years in high school and gave me spending money also. I am now in my second year in college and she is still doing the same."

This boy has joined the "Better Sires—Better Stock" campaign and will work hard to improve the pig breed. If it were possible to improve human breed as easily as we improve cattle or swine civilization would progress. But something might be done. That proud mother of 100 little pigs
