GRANGE TO OPPOSE NEW PRIMARY LAW

Changes in the direct primary law of the state, proposed at the present session of the legislature, are opposed by the Mapleton Grange of Lane county, and resolutions to that effect have been passed by the organization.

The following is the resolution: "Whereas, We understand that unfriendly politicians are discussing a pre-convention plan which practically would nullify our direct Primary Law. Therefore, be it resolved, By Mapleton Grange 584 at its regular meeting January 31, 1925, that we are strongly opposed to any change in the direct Primary Law, such as would in any way infringe upon the rights of the people to nominate their own candidates; and be it further:

BUSINESS CHANGES MADE DURING WEEK

SPRINGFIELD, Ore., Feb. 2.—(Special)—Business changes in Springfield over the week-end include the sub-leasing of the Stevens building, between Fourth and Third on Main street by W. A. Hall, who is taking it over from the F. J. Grimes Plumbing company. John Henderer's electrical supplies, paints, and the like, will share the Stevens building with Hall's Cash store. Mrs. Vernon

MAN IS TRAPPED IN SANDY CAVE

Grimes has sub-leased the west half of the Long and Cross building between Fifth and Sixth on Main street from Milton Cyr and Roland E. Mosher of the Springfield Creamery, and will move the stock and fixtures of the Mode Millinery shop, which she has purchased from Miss Oail Gray, from the Stevens building to the new location.

The building now occupied by Hall's Cash store and Henderer's electrical supplies was recently purchased by Swartz and Washburne, and will be remodeled into a modern sanitary meat market.

Mrs. Grimes will conduct the millinery shop under its old name, The Mode. She will have her spring opening February 10, displaying the new spring stock. Hemstitching and fancy work will be done by the shop as well as millinery.

The fixtures of the Grimes Plumbing company have been sold to W. G. Nichols, who has not yet found a location for opening a shop.

The Springfield beauty parlors, known as the Marcella Shoppe, have also changed hands and changed location. Grace Whitley and Mattie Mitchell have purchased the fixtures from Mrs. Helen Farnham, and the shop will be open for business in the upstairs of the Stevens building instead of the upstairs of the Bible University building between Third and Fourth on Main street, as formerly. Mrs. Farnham will locate at Oakridge.

TAX EXEMPTION ON CLUB IS REQUESTED

Requests that the Newman club property on Charnelton street between Tenth and Eleventh avenues west be exempt from taxation have been made to the county assessor by Rev. Father Edwin V. O'Hara, pastor of the St. Mary's Catholic church. The pastor states that the property is used for club social and educational purposes, that it is maintained by the church and no income or rent is derived from the premises. The property has been used by the Newman club, an organization of Catholic students of the university, since the sale of the Newman club property near the campus. The tax for the past year on the property is $182.00.

DEALERS SEE GOOD BUSINESS INCREASE

Retail sales in Eugene Saturday are reported heavy by local merchants and the rise since the usual drop following the holidays is believed to be a record in a quick "come-back" after the looked-for depression after the Christmas purchasing. Several Eugene dealers, carrying varied lines of merchandise, report that their total turnover for Saturday was approximately double that of the previous week. Judging by the present response of the buyers, merchants here are forecasting a far better spring business than that of last year and preparations to meet this demand are under way.

House Near Donna Reported Entered

Reports have been made of another summer home being entered and property taken this time near Donna at the home of H. D. Auld. The owner had not been at the place since early in the fall until last week when he found that someone had been in the house and among other things missing was a large walnut dresser. As the home near the Auld mill, which has been closed for some time, is about a mile from the road the owner is at a loss to know how the big piece of furniture was carried out, he states.

ACTION ON WORLD COURT IS FAVORED

Resolutions, calling on the foreign relations committee of the United States senate to take prompt action on a proposed entrance of America into the world court, were passed Saturday night at the mass meeting in the chamber of commerce, at which Dean W. G. Hale of the law school, University of Oregon, delivered an address.

"We cannot, of course, expect the senate to accept the compulsory jurisdiction of the court," said Dean Hale. "It will be a big step toward world peace, however, if this country would officially recognize the court as an optional tribunal."

That 25 out of the 55 represented nations in the league of nations have accepted the compulsory authority of the court, and 40 nations have signed the statute creating the world court, the speaker pointed out. The big nations were not among the 25, he said, as they were timid as to the compulsory jurisdiction.

The present world court, the speaker explained, was organized under the leadership of the league of nations, its formation being provided for in a covenant of the league. Members were nominated by the national groups in the Hague tribunal, and are elected by the council and assembly of the league.

MAN IS TRAPPED IN SANDY CAVE

Efforts to free him must be made by men, facing him, hampered in their labor by the small passage which Collins himself nearly blocked.

Nearly half of the distance between Collins and the cave entrance is a narrow passageway, through which rescuers crawl head foremost. Crevices in this passageway will admit only persons of slender build. There is constant danger that sand and stone may fall, burying others, experienced cave men declare.

If Collins is saved, it will be almost a miracle, says a staff correspondent of the Post. The water was rising slowly about the entombed man at 8 o'clock and if a drill rushed from Louisville fails to arrive promptly it is feared Collins may be doomed. He has been told that the drill is expected soon.

George Clark Dies At Eugene Hospital

George Clark, 70, former stage driver for Eugene's stables, died at the Eugene hospital Saturday night, after a brief illness. He had been admitted two hours previous to his death.

Mr. Clark had been a resident of Eugene for about 20 years, it is stated, but little is known of his relatives. The body is at the Veatch chapel, and funeral arrangements will await instructions from relatives.

MRS. EDRISS SMITH-EDWARDS (SANTA CLARA, Feb. 2.—(Special)—The funeral of Mrs. Edriss Smith-Edwards was held at 2 p. m., Wednesday, January 28, at Veatch chapel. Services were conducted by Rev. E. V. Stivers of the First Christian church of Eugene, of which she was a member. Six ladies, members of Degree of Honor, of which she was also a member, were pallbearers. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moses Smith. Edriss was a beautiful girl, only 18 years old at the time of her death, just in the bloom of her youth. She had a lovable disposition, one that took a cheerful view of life, ready to look on the bright side. She was married July 5, 1924 to Keith Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Edwards of near Springfield. She leaves to mourn her untimely death her husband, Keith Edwards, her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Smith, two brothers, George and Leland Smith and little sister, Edesse, besides other relatives and neighbors.

merous friends. The sympathy of the whole community goes out to these people as all through her long illness and death it has been very sad. In Memory of Our Dead Edriss. Softly the stars are gleaming Upon a new made grave. There sleepeth without dreaming. One we loved but could not save. Sweet and peaceful be thy rest. God called you, he alone knows best. His will be done.

GROUNDHOG TAKES PEEP FOR SHADOW

On the subject: "The shepherd would rather see the wolf enter his stable on Candlemas day than the sun," and "the badger peeps out of his hole on Candlemas day, and when he finds snow walks abroad; but if he sees sun walking he draws back into his hole." The superstition about the badger, then, comes from the Germans. But as the badger, even in its distinctly American variety, is little known east of the Mississippi, the fable has been transferred to the woodchuck or groundhog, and farmers in the middle west give the name Groundhog day to Candlemas.

Clean Kidneys By Drinking Lots of Water

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

SPRING LOANS

Spring calls forth farm plans that often require backing from the bank. New barns, granaries, silos, sheds, are needed. Dwellings or other buildings await repairs or improvements. There are fields to be fenced, the drains to be laid. Here and there a farmer is taking on more land by lease or purchase. In short, this is a time when contracts are fixed up, notes negotiated, new loans made or previous loans renewed. Under safe conditions we are able to provide loans for convenient terms and at reasonable rates. We strive to assist and accommodate the farmer to the utmost extent in every way within the province of sound banking. Dealings in all cases are kept strictly private and confidential.
