KALEIDOSCOPE in its variety at the costumes of a masque ball the coming week awaits as the height of brilliant entertaining in the winter's social life. Valentine's day, of course, is the chosen motif for numerous affairs and flashing red hearts and the countless other favors of the day are now arrayed in the parlors for the festivities of the time.

While this week had its numerous gaieties it was after all an active period for the various clubs, and with club activities hostesses have little time for other functions. Luncheons were the favored affairs of the week. Of special interest was the one given Wednesday for Miss Charlotte Banfield whose wedding is to be this coming summer and for Mrs. William Sargent, a much feted visitor of the present weeks. Mrs. Harriet Veazie was the guest of honor for another attractive luncheon, also given Wednesday, by Mrs. W. W. Calkins.

Coming as the desired finish to the informality and pleasures of the week was the colonial ball given last evening by the Daughters of the American Revolution, and which was attended by a large troop of society members.

Many Eugeneans are now leaving for early spring sojourns in nearby places of interest. Among those to leave this week were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Calkins who departed today for California, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grady who left Thursday for San Francisco, and Mrs. J. T. Barrett who also left today for Los Angeles. Many out-of-town visitors have come this week and are being extensively entertained.

Added to the variety of the late winter functions will be the musical concert to be sponsored by the university and which are always of wide interest to townpeople. The first number of the series will be given this coming week, and is being anticipated by all. The dedication of the music auditorium at the university will also be an outstanding event of next month to the many music lovers of Eugene who are actively interested in the life of the university school of music.

Mr. and Mrs. Herald White were hosts for an enjoyable dinner and card party at their home last evening, inviting as their guests Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moxley, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Waller, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Starnard, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ahles, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Coffey.

Mrs. Adelaide Lilley and Mrs. Frank Daze were hostesses to Tourist club members at a Valentine's party on Monday evening, asking as the club's special guest, Mrs. William Sargent. Mrs. O. F. Stafford will entertain the club this week.

Mrs. Mary Follansby was a gracious hostess of the week, entertaining on Friday afternoon at her home, 24 Twelfth avenue east, for Mrs. L. C. Skeels of Los Angeles and Mrs. E. K. Wheeler.

A wedding of great interest to many friends in Eugene was that of Miss Edith A. Pearce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pearce of this city, and Paul H. Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Goodwin of Veneta, which took place Monday afternoon at four o'clock at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. E. V. O'Hara. Mrs. Orval Robson was the bride's attendant, and Norval Pearce, brother of the bride, was the bridegroom's attendant. Mrs. Goodwin is well known in Eugene, having attended the schools here, and the university where she was a Junie this year. Mr. Goodwin is a former student of the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis. They plan to leave soon to make their home in San Bernardino, Cal.

Mrs. Claire Lee was hostess for a delightful affair Wednesday afternoon at her home, complimenting Mrs. A. F. Sether who has recently come to Eugene to make her home from Roseburg. Bridge was the chosen diversion for the occasion. Mrs. Lee asked as her guests Mrs. Sether, Mrs. Mentor Honey, Mrs. Clyde N. Johnston, Mrs. E. U. Lee, Mrs. Wayne Green, Mrs. W. B. Lee, Mrs. DeMott McLerran, Mrs. A. W. Stien, Mrs. Bruce Bogart, Mrs. H. L. Tisdale, Mrs. A. M. Lee, Mrs. D. R. Farrow.

Mrs. Jerry Horn presided at one of the week's interesting luncheons, when she entertained Triumbe club members at her home Thursday.

Mrs. W. E. Powell was a hostess of the week, inviting Teacup club members to meet at her home yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. J. T. Barrett and children left today for Los Angeles, California, where they plan to stay for two months or more.

Mrs. W. W. Calkins Entertains for Mrs. Veazie

Mrs. Harriet Veazie was the honored guest at a very attractive luncheon for which Mrs. W. W. Calkins entertained at her home Wednesday. Twelve were invited to the affair. A large bouquet of mixed spring blooms with rose pink shades predominating, centered the table. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in visiting.

Mrs. Calkins asked as guests Mrs. Harriet Veazie, Mrs. Mary Jewett, Mrs. J. M. Shelley, Mrs. S. D. Allen, Mrs. E. R. Beynon, Mrs. Margaret Rasmussen, Mrs. Herbert Olsen, Mrs. Robert McKenna of Portland, Mrs. P. G. Young, Mrs. George Dellar, Mrs. Addie Osburn, Mrs. Frank Gilstrap. Mrs. Veazie is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. R. Beynon, from her home in Portland, and has been the guest of honor for a number of interesting affairs given by her many friends here.

Mrs. A. E. Roberts and Mrs. L. J. Temple were hostesses this week to members of Monday Book club at the home of the former. Mrs. W. E. Miller led the discussion for the afternoon on Oregon writers, talking of Sam Simpson, Anthony Fwer, and Edwin Markham. In two weeks the group will meet again.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rapp were dinner hosts Tuesday evening, when they entertained N. U. A. club members at their home. Following the dinner bridge was played.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Steenerson are now residing in their attractive home at 692 Nineteenth avenue east, having moved this week from Bartle court.

Mrs. Earl Zeller and children of The Dalles are guests at the home of Mrs. Zeller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ingalls.

Alpha Delta Pi alumnae, mothers, and patronesses will be entertained on the coming Monday by Mrs. Lucy Perkins at the chapter house.

Mrs. Myra Rupert returned the first of the week after a visit of three weeks in Portland with friends and relatives.

Two are Honored at Luncheon Given On Wednesday

Miss Charlotte Banfield and Mrs. William Sargent were complimented with an interesting covered dish luncheon given Wednesday by members of Chi Omega Alumnae club at the home of Mrs. Frank Jenkins, the occasion being a surprise miscellaneous shower for Miss Banfield whose marriage will be an event of the coming summer, and an affair of greeting to Mrs. Sargent who is a visitor in Eugene. Covers were laid for sixteen.

Bowls of pink sweet peas and white freesia, and pink candles were artistically arranged as the centerpiece, while pink valentines were used about the room.

Those in the party were Miss Banfield, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. Henry D. Sheldon, Mrs. John Bonfield, Mrs. Ray Goodrich, Miss Julia Burgess, Miss Henriette Guy, Mrs. P. E. Snodgrass, Mrs. Frederick G. Stickle, Mrs. Lynn S. McCremery, Mrs. Harvard Moore of Fort Lawton, Washington, Mrs. Lamar Tooge, Mrs. Herbert Roome, Mrs. A. H. Schreff, Mrs. Leland Johnson, Mrs. Frank Jenkins.

Mrs. Warren D. Smith was hostess for the Home Science club at her home Monday. During the afternoon Miss Beulah Clark demonstrated decorative icing for cakes, and Mrs. W. P. Fell discussed butter cakes. In two weeks Mrs. James H. Gilbert will entertain the club.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jewett were hosts Tuesday evening for the Tuesday Dinner club.

On the coming Monday Shakespeare club members will gather for a regular meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Grady left at mid-week for a trip to San Francisco. Mr. Grady will remain there until about March 1.

Mrs. H. A. Schwerling will entertain Inter So club members for a luncheon on Thursday of next week.

San Sool club was entertained this week by Mrs. John Seaver, on Wednesday afternoon.

Kappa Alpha Theta alumnae were entertained on Wednesday evening by Mrs. J. E. Kuykendall and Mrs. William Barker at the home of the former.

The monthly parish dinner of the St. Mary's Episcopal church was an event of Wednesday at the parish home.

Mrs. Robert Earl has as her house guest her mother, Mrs. Edward Kiddle of Iowa City.

About forty-five members of the Matron's guild of the Central Presbyterian church were entertained at the home of Mrs. M. C. Harris Wednesday afternoon. Assisting Mrs. Harris were Mrs. Frederick G. Stickle, Mrs. Harry Hobbs, and Mrs. David Jones. The gathering was the annual meeting of the group and various reports were given by officers and committee heads. Officers were elected, Mrs.

D. M. Anderson, president; Mrs. C. O. Wilson of Springfield, vice-president; Mrs. Harry Hobbs, secretary; Mrs. J. O. Holt, treasurer; Mrs. M. C. Herrick, assistant treasurer. During the reports the members discussed their work which includes much useful and worthy efforts, including a great deal of local social work and church work. Plans for the colonial tea were discussed. The affair is given annually, and is one of the interesting functions of the winter months. It is to be given this year on February 18 at the manse of the church. Members of the group will dress in colonial costumes. An interesting program is being arranged. Mrs. Sherman Moody is chairman for the tea.

Mrs. Kate Cundiff is Given Surprises On Birthday

Mrs. Kate Cundiff whose eighty-fourth birthday anniversary was an event of Tuesday was pleasantly surprised with an interesting and novel affair that evening when Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Moore entertained in her honor with a radio party at their home. Following an interesting program, a large birthday cake was brought in, gorgeously decorated. Each guest took a candle from the cake and gave a toast to Mrs. Cundiff, then blowing out all the candles together.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Cundiff, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Saunders, Mrs. A. D. Addison, Mrs. C. M. Collier, Mrs. J. M. Alpha club was entertained Tuesday by Mrs. Henry Tromp.

Days of the minut and quadrille came again when a large group of Eugene society folk gathered at the armory last evening for the colonial ball which was sponsored by Oregon Lewis and Clark chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The ball is given annually by the group, the proceeds going for a number of worthy purposes. Members of the chapter were attired in colonial costumes. The grand march was led by Mrs. Bruce L. Bogart and Dr. C. B. Willoughby. Most interesting were the feature dances given by a group of university students, and by numbers for a given amount of whom were in costume. Mrs. Bruce Bogart was general chairman for the affair, other members of the committee being Mrs. Ralph Crow, Mrs. David Auld, Mrs. Virgil Parker.

Buffet Supper and Bridge Party is Wednesday

Hyacinths ushered in a thought of spring at the charmingly informal buffet supper party for which Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Spencer entertained at their home Wednesday evening for a group of university faculty folk. Bridge was played after the supper hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer's guest list included Mr. and Mrs. James H. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Casey, Mr. and Mrs. Marion McClain, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bass Warner, Mr. and Mrs. E. Decker, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Stetson.

Mrs. E. K. Wheeler sponsored an eventful party Wednesday evening at her home, complimenting her sister, Mrs. L. C. Skeels who is visiting in Eugene from Los Angeles. Twelve friends of the guest of honor were invited to the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Skeels planned to remain in Eugene for about two weeks longer.

This evening Mrs. E. H. Decker is entertaining at four tables of bridge, asking as her guests the members of the Wednesday Dinner club.
