the office of Ralph P. Laird, director of the farm census in this district, has been shipped to the census bureau at Washington, D. C. The first box weighed more than 150 pounds. Several more big boxes will be shipped out within the next few days.

Mr. Hayward Gets Present—
Bill Hayward, university trainer, has received a two-months-old German police dog as a present from Dr. William T. Phyl of the Hot Lakes sanitarium, near Enterprise, an old friend of Mr. Hayward and a keen supporter of Oregon athletics. "Phymere" is the name given to the pup, which weighs about 10 pounds and stands not quite 10 inches high. Some time ago Bill Hayward became interested in buying a German police dog, and he wrote to Dr. Phyl about it, offering to purchase one of the new puppies. Dr. Phyl replied he would be glad to send the pup down, provided it would be used as a mascot for the Oregon teams.

Big Timbers Cut—
Two big timbers for the Currin bridge being erected by the county crews have been cut and hewed, according to A. C. Striker, in charge of the span erection. These big "sticks" each have a length of 112 feet and a dimension of 15 by 15 inches and are among the largest timbers used in bridge work in the county. The adverse weather conditions of the past few weeks have proved a heavy handicap to all bridge work and the county crews have been behind in their schedule of work, is the report.

Taxpayers To Meet—
Discussion of the plan of requiring a resident of Eugene to be a property owner before he can vote on bond issues, and compelling city council to let contracts to the lower bidder, was the object of a meeting of taxpayers at the court house last night. Organization of a taxpayers' league will take place next Friday night at the same place, it is announced. Emil Koppe, owner of the Eugene Woolen Mills, presided at the meeting last night.

Quartet to Sing—
The high school girls quartet will entertain at the noon luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club to be held at the Osburn hotel Monday. The committee of "peppers" for the Kiwanis club luncheon is composed of Karl Kellogg, Otto Schmidt and Homer Soules. Ex-Senator I. N. Day of Portland will be the principal speaker on "Coast port development, particularly that of the Siuslaw."

Opening of the new millinery store conducted by Leone Jenkins in the new Laraway building, is announced. Her shop is situated on the second floor, and includes three rooms, all facing Willamette street. New fixtures and decorations have been installed, and the hat stock, obtained from Los Angeles, is being displayed.

Hotel Deeds Filed—
Deeds for the land on which the new Eugene hotel was built were filed in the county clerk's office yesterday. L. H. Dery owned the corner lots, and revenue stamps on the deed showed the purchase price to be approximately $290,000. Frank L. Armistage owned the other lot south of the property, adjoining the lot for which he received about $9000, the stamps indicate.

Here From Divide—
J. H. Foelt, teacher of the school at Divide, was a visitor today at the office of E. J. Moore, county superintendent of schools. Mr. Foelt reports that a dramatic club has been formed in the school and that the pupils are manifesting much interest in this organization. The Divide district is partly in Douglas and partly in Lane county. The school is in the Lane half of the district area.

Chickens Are Winners—
Three puffed Barred Plymouth Rock chickens entered by B. F. Keener, county assessor at a poultry show at the South Florida fair, Tampa, were among the prize-winners. It is announced, Mr. Keener took second prize for his hen, and fifth on two cockerels. This show was the national show for Barred Rocks, it is said.

LUMBER MARKET IS SLIGHTLY BETTER
The condition of the lumber market in Eugene is thought to be slightly better than it was two weeks ago, according to the latest Crow's Pacific coast index, copies of which were received by Eugene lumbermen today. There is little more new business coming than there was, it is stated, in fact no one is suffering from lack of orders at the present time. Prices, which for a while appeared rather weak, are now holding fairly firm at a level not far below the peak of the summer.

Crest of Flood is Past in Willamette
SALEM, Ore., Feb. 7.—Reports received by its field engineers indicate that the crest of the flood has passed in the Willamette valley and is no place on the Pacific highway is the water over the pavement, and travel may now pass without delay or danger. The Coos Bay, Newport and Tillamook highways to the coast have been kept open throughout the period of very heavy rainfall, with but few minor slides.
Debate at Rotary

GOVERNOR VETOES SENATOR UPTON'S BEND WATER BILL

STATE HOUSE, SALEM, Ore., Feb. 7.—Governor Walter M. Pierce yesterday vetoed Senator Upton's bill authorizing the city of Bend to exchange water taken from the Deschutes river for a similar amount of water from Tumalo creek for municipal purposes. All of the water from Tumalo creek has been appropriated for use in the Tumalo project or on lands within the Deschutes county municipal improvement district, said the veto message. "The state has expended $450,000 on the project and the district has expended an additional $250,000. The desert land board and the irrigation district now have control of the project and this bill does not authorize the board to approve the exchange. I am in full sympathy with the attempt of the City of Bend to acquire a pure water supply and will be glad to approve a bill granting the desert land board the right insofar as the state's rights are concerned to approve this transfer under proper terms. The existing rights of the Tumalo irrigation district cannot be taken away by legislation, but the city should have the right to secure its supply upon paying proper compensation to the district. The bill provided that the city be given a right to take water from Tumalo creek, giving in exchange with an irrigation project the right to take water from Deschutes river. The exchange and delivery was to be through the main canal of the Deschutes county municipal improvement district.

Goiter Belt Held Disproved; Disease Widely Prevalent

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Feb. 2.—"The theory that goiter is a sectional disease has been exploded," says Dr. E. P. Sloan, retiring president of the American Association for the Study of Goiter. Summarizing the results of research of the past year as brought out at the second annual convention of the association here, Dr. Sloan quoted the opinion of Dr. Hram, of Philadelphia, who said that Illinois seems to be more in a "goiter belt" than does the Atlantic coast region, the disease being quite prevalent there. Other outstanding conclusions resulting from the convention as outlined by Dr. Sloan are as follows: One form only of goiter, and endemic, is due to a deficiency of iodine. Other forms seem not to be. "Indiscriminate use of iodine as a treatment is condemned. In some cases it has been found actually harmful. "Within a year the belief of a few specialists has grown to be almost unanimous that goiter is due to infections. "Research seems to show that heredity has no more to do with goiter than it has with tuberculosis and other diseases said to be hereditary." Eugene Chiropractors Assn.
