

Something About The Itinerant "Bell-Ringer"

Springtime will soon bring to your door from one to a dozen peddlers daily. Some of these are legitimate salesmen trying to make an honest living. MANY ARE NOT.

To determine the good from the bad you might ask the following questions for your protection.

"Has the peddler a city license which will show that it has been investigated, that the company he represents is all right and not a clearing house for stolen goods. Ask for credentials.

"Is the peddler permanently located in Eugene so that you can reach him if the merchandise is unsatisfactory. Will the merchandise you order be the same as the sample shown.

"Is it safe to make payments to strangers before the merchandise is delivered.

"Does the peddler pay taxes in Lane county—does he support by advertising the local papers—does he at all times possible patronize home industries—does he in any way contribute anything to the growth and betterment of our community.

Your home town merchants do all of these and many more.

of Madec Point, Oregon, who were on their way to Portland, Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. Day, following the war, taught in the school for disabled veterans in Portland.

New Locomotive Built—

The Southern Pacific is ordering a very large and powerful three-cylinder locomotive built for its lines, announces L. L. Graham, district freight and passenger agent of the railway here. "It will be the largest and most powerful non-articulated locomotive ever built," says Mr. Graham, "and will have a tractive power of approximately 90,000 pounds, a 4-10-12 wheel arrangement, and being the first of this type built in the United States, will be known as the Southern Pacific type. Some months ago the S. P. received 10 large mountain type locomotives, and these are now being operated on its lines."

Upes Paving Repairs—

"What's wrong with our street committee and its street patching crew?" asks J. J. Brown of south Willamette street. "I broke a spring in my auto this morning on one of these numerous holes in the city pavement caused when the sewer holders cut the pavement. The contractors pay the city for paving cuts, and the patching should be done promptly. I am speaking for a large number of auto drivers in Eugene, who are going to ask the city council that the street committee be instructed to patch up these holes promptly."

Estate Suit Settled—

A final decision was handed down today by Judge G. F. Skipworth in the suit of Ruth Holt against Lynn S. McCready, administrator of the estate of the late Angelina Holt. A settlement with Ruth Holt that made her a legal heir to the estate was made. The remainder of the estate will be divided as follows, the court ruled: F. M. Wilkins and Varian Wilkins, one-fourth each; Clara Livingood and Bertha Fitzhugh, one-eighth each; Mitchell Wilkins, Althea Stinson, Grace Clark and Herman Wilkins, one-sixteenth each.

An Easy Way To Make A Room More Attractive

Have you ever come back to a house that has been closed? You raise the shades, the sun shines perhaps on the mantle clock.
You set and wind it.
It sounds the hour and welcomes you with its friendly tick. Ah! You know you are home then.

This store sold Seth Thomas Clocks more than 50 years ago that are still keeping good time.

The auto is a piker, after 24 hours running it must be greased and oiled. A clock runs the equivalent of 175,000 miles each year with only one oiling.

A mantle clock costs $15, $20 and $25 while the average car costs $1000.
