UNIVERSITY'S GIFT CAMPAIGN IS NEAR HALF-WAY FIGURE

After two years and four months' effort, the University of Oregon has obtained in its gift campaign contributions and pledges amounting to $2,200,000. This report was formally made to alumni and the public by the Alumni Holding company, Robert B. Kuykendall, Frank L. Chambers, Campbell Church and W. K. Newell. All members were present at a special meeting with the exception of President P. L. Campbell who is ill in Coronado, Cal.

The directors met at the suggestion of President Campbell to make plans for the continuation of the campaign. The original plan set the goal at $5,000,000 in five years and will be followed. Mr. Church came from Coronado to bring words of encouragement and congratulation to the directors.

"Before summer is out we fully expect to reach the half way mark, or $2,500,000" said Mr. Kuykendall, chairman of the alumni campaign. More than 2000 alumni and former students have subscribed $480,000. The alumni quota is $1,000,000 and we shall put on a spring campaign to complete this amount. Meantime, the campaign for a fine arts building, under the direction of Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, will continue and will receive every aid from us."

The gift campaign, according to the decision of the directors of the holding company, will have three phases between now and spring. Both the alumni efforts and the fine arts building campaign will be prosecuted. The student body of the university will put on a campaign to add subscriptions of all unpledged undergraduates to the student union fund. Last year in a whirlwind campaign of a week $200,000 was pledged. Campaigners in the spring will obtain subscriptions from this year's freshman class and other new students.

MERCURY DROPS 22 DEGREES IN NIGHT

Just to prove that the groundhog was right, the weather changed from spring yesterday to winter last night.

Sunshine and clear skies Sunday brought hundreds of people out in the open air for a stroll, or a spin by auto over the highway, or to the Country club for a round of golf. The air was warm, like June, the maximum temperature being 53 degrees.

Came the night-time, as the fictionists say, and the bottom almost dropped out of the thermometer. In 12 hours the mercury fell 22 degrees—from 53 to 31. It was the coldest weather of 1925—one degree below freezing.

The change came unexpectedly. Weather forecast was "generally fair," and the wind was from the north. Whether it will be repeated tonight is problematical, as the forecast is "cloudy and unsettled."

May Robson Coming To Heilig Tuesday

May Robson, always welcomed in Eugene by the theatergoers, is expected to give the crowning performance of her career in this city tomorrow night at the Heilig, when she will take the principal role in her own play, "Something Tells Me." This is Miss Robson's greatest starring vehicle, and in it she has blended all the elements of drama in which she excels.

The play itself it full of pathos and feeling, and is built around the character of a good hearted old lady, who suddenly finds herself rich. In her effort to make everybody happy, she gets into all sorts of complications, but eventually she learned her lesson.

Mrs. Hayden will entertain the aid again in two weeks.

At the Theaters

HEILIG—Ackerman and Harris vaudeville.

REX—"Peter Pan."

As a presentation feature of the Rex showing of "Peter Pan," today, an elaborate atmospheric prolog will precede the picture at both the matinee and evening shows.

"Peter Pan's Dream," an originally conceived specialty featuring Katherine Irvin Stang and her Tiny Tots' ballet, a quartet of local girls, Betty and Virginia Wallace, Helen Phipps and Jean Bradley, with Mildred Baldwin, golden voiced soprano soloist, will be presented.

A special stage setting depicting the Never Never land of Peter Pan has been reproduced for the presentation.

As a prelude Mr. Hainsworth will offer a unique organ solo, featuring the Grieg "Peer Gynt" suite, with a special arrangement all his own.

The prolog will occur at 1:50, 3:50, 7:25 and 9:25 each day.

The Heilig will offer what is reputed to be one of the best vaudeville programs of the year on the Ackerman and Harris circuit. Mme. Verobelle and her company in songs and steps of 1925 will headline the bill. Leon Land, a juggler of extraordinary ability, Ethel Lockhart and Walter Keifer in a skit called "A Gem on Skates," Dick Gardner and Anna Revere in "The Surprise," and Clifford Vance in "Bits of Vaudeville," complete the program.

STATE SENATE HAS RESOLUTION VOTED FOR ROBERT BOOTH

Copies of the state senate resolution introduced by Senators J. S. Magladry and Fred Fisk thanking R. A. Booth for the presentation of the state of "The Circuit Rider," have been received here.

The following is the resolution:

"Whereas by gift of Honorable Robert A. Booth there has been located upon the capitol grounds, in the city of Salem, a bronze equestrian statue, typifying "The Circuit Rider," designed and executed by A. Phimister Proctor, sculptor; and

"Whereas this beautiful memorial has been erected by the donor in grateful remembrance of the services of the pioneer ministers of the gospel, and in appreciation of their self-sacrificing labors in the old Oregon country during the period of early settlement and development; and has been given by him to the state in recognition of the spiritual and moral influence of the circuit riders upon western civilization, and as a permanent testimonial of their part in promoting education, and in creating the first civil government in the Pacific northwest; now, therefore,

"Be it resolved by the senate of the state of Oregon, the house of representatives jointly concurring:

"That the gift of Honorable Robert A. Booth is accepted in behalf of the people of the state of Oregon, and that the location thereof upon the capitol grounds is approved; and, also that in recognition of the fine public spirit of the donor, the secretary of state is directed to send to him a suitable engrossed and certified copy of this resolution."

ARMORY PACKED WITH NEW CARS

mory is closed at midnight, promises Mr. Stark.

All Dealers Showing.

Every automobile dealer in the city has leased space and will show the latest models of their cars. In addition several dealers are coming down from Portland with displays, and the accessory men and tire specialists are to have a special department. The national guard room, adjoining the main auditorium and connecting with it by huge double doors, will hold the accessories, thus leaving the main floor free for automobiles.

Entering the building from Seventh avenue east, the Maxwell and Chrysler display will be on the right, with the Buick and the Chevrolet on the left. Continuing to the right, the Marmon and Cleveland cars occupy the corner. The complete Oldsmobile line will be along the east wall, and the Rickenbacker is in the corner.

Along the north wall are the Willys-Knight, the Hudson and the Essex shows on the right hand side, with the Paige, Jewett, Gray and Studebaker on the left. The Packard and Dodge are on the west side. In the center, right, the Lincoln and Ford line will be presented, and in the center left, the Durant, Star and Flint will be shown. The Marmon and Rickenbacker are being brought down from Portland, and all the rest are represented in Eugene by local dealers.

Style Shows Planned.

Style shows and fashion revues will be nightly features for the entertainment of the spectators, says Mr. Stark, and this will be one of the most important events of the show. Tuesday night Gilmore's will present their newest creations in women's wear, on attractive models. Wednesday night Beard's will have charge of the display, and Thursday evening McMorran and Washburne will present their line.

The entertainment features will rival anything in the vaudeville or stage line, and will all be presented by noted professionals, says Mr. Stark. The Novak's Vaudette orchestra, familiar through their concerts over the Oregonian radio in Portland, will entertain in the afternoons and evenings. At nine o'clock each evening a complete performance, starting with the style show, will be put on. Peggy Prevost, noted dancer, will direct the atmospheric setting, the White sisters will present several specialties, and Kathleen Duffy will sing. Miss Duffy is also well known as a radio singer. The Columbia bathing girls will assist on the program, and Beulah Blackwell and Helen Brown will offer several original surprises.

Japanese Decorations.

The decorations are elaborately Japanese, with rare Japanese prints on all walls, twinkling lights overhead and the whole armory encased in elaborate colors. The place will resemble a quaint Old East garden, colorful and scenically beautiful.

For the entertainment each night a 50 foot runway will be constructed, and it is upon this that the features will take place. This insures everyone in the auditorium, both upstairs and down, of a full view of the performances, said Mr. Stark.

All dealers and salesmen will be in constant attendance and ample provision will be made to handle the crowds, it is said.

The displays will open at 10 in the morning and close each night at midnight, it is stated.

Police Matron Busy With Charity Cases

Charity work is being handled daily in the office of the police matron, reports Mrs. M. S. Ady. A total of 41 calls for clothing have been filled by Mrs. Ady since January 1. These are chiefly for shoes, warm underwear, sweaters, etc., for both children and grown-ups.

"The big stock of clothing that was left over after Christmas is coming in mighty handy these days," says Mrs. Ady. "My Christmas money is rapidly disappearing, but in a good cause. Scarcely a day passes but that I have one or more calls for clothes."

Since January 1 Mrs. Ady has given away 35 pairs of shoes, and has taken care of five needy families, and a large number of wayward girl cases.

The only public house in London with a pawnbroker's license, received its license from George IV, who visited the place incognito one night to watch a cock fight. He borrowed money from the landlord, leaving his watch as security. A few days later the landlord, much to his surprise, received the license.

Y. M. C. A. TO OPEN ANNUAL CAMPAIGN

by a team. The men's teams will cover the business districts, while the women will canvass the residence portions of the city.

At daily luncheons scheduled for 12:15 at the Y. M. C. A., team captains will make reports of the subscriptions secured the previous twenty-four hours. With all districts given quotas, a fair basis for competition has been established. Daily reports giving the high point team will be published.

Expenses Little Greater

The expenses of the local association as budgeted for the next year are only approximately $850 greater than the expenses of 1921, according to Frank Eberhart, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. Although the size of the city has increased nearly fifty per cent since 1921, the expenses have remained practically constant. Figures prepared by the New York office of the Y. M. C. A. indicate that operating expenses in Eugene are but 90 per cent of those in average towns of Eugene's size. Membership here stands at 103 per cent of the average.

The total budgeted income of $21,450 for 1925 is slightly less than than last year's income of $21,714. The budget for 1925 following closely the 1924 figures shows the following figures: Dormitory income, $3800; memberships, $4700; lockers, towels, miscellaneous, $450, making a total of $8,950 and leaving $12,500 to be raised by subscriptions from Eugene people.
