EGG ADVANCE IS HALTED FOR TIME

Prices on Exchange Range From Half to One Point Lower Today

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 19.—The advance in the egg market has been checked temporarily. Prices on the exchange today range from a half to one point lower on all grades. Extras are back to 30c; firsts are quoted at 29c and pullets at 28c; current receipts are down to the 26c level net.

Storage operations to date have been limited with most of the operators planning on putting stocks in the coolers at 27 to 28c. There is a good demand for fancy eggs at this time, although receipts continue liberal.

Weakness in outside markets with a narrower shipping outlet is partly responsible for the decline today.

The local butter market continues firm at the recent advance. Most of the butter makers can handle more cream than is being shipped and bidding in the country for fats is keen. Prices as high as 46 and 47c are reported as compared to a 47c quotation for butterfats delivered Portland.

Cubes are steady on the exchange with standards quoted a half cent higher than extras at 44½c. The half cent advance on standard cubes is the only change on the local board.

Live heavy hens are hard to move. The trade seems to be pretty well filled up and commission houses are disposing of their heavy hens to the packers at 21c.

Light hens continue in brisk demand at 17 to 18c. Other lines of poultry are unchanged.

Henry Ford Buys Old Equipment of Thomas A. Edison

FORT MYERS, Fla., Feb. 19.—Henry Ford today bought the old tools and laboratory equipment of Thomas A. Edison and will ship them to Detroit to be displayed in Ford museum.

Workmen are busy assembling and crating the machines and various bits of tools and other laboratory equipment with which Mr. Edison experiments and brought to perfection many of the world's most wonderful inventions.

Mr. Ford purchased the material from W. P. Ross, a blacksmith. Ross bought the "priceless junk" from Mr. Edison six or seven years ago. Although Ross has made good use of virtually every piece of the Edison equipment in his blacksmith shop, this was not his real purpose in buying it. He knew it was "priceless junk" and that some day he would be able to realize on it.

Many who passed the blacksmith shop today saw Mr. Ford as work helping to put the machinery into crates. Coatless, he directed the packing, lending a helping hand and cracking a friendly joke now and then. He was one of the workmen.

Cottonseed Oil Backers Get Busy

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 19.—Several other southern states are expected to joint Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina today in a concerted opposition to the passage by several western and middle western states of legislation alleged to be discriminatory against cottonseed oil products.

A call for governors of ten southern states in cooperating in presenting a solid front against the passage of measures, which it is said, would tax oleomargarine and other cottonseed oil products in a manner which would be discriminatory, has been sounded by Governor Angus W. McLean of North Carolina.

Governor Walker of Georgia announced upon receipt of a message from Governor McLean that he expected to confer with the Georgia commissioner of agriculture to determine what steps would bring best results, and offered the suggestion that "if they boycott us, we might retaliate by boycotting them."

Governor Martin of Florida called upon the Florida delegation in Washington to aid in urging senators and representatives from the states in which such action is said to be pending, to use their influence to prevent its passage.

Old Southern City To Recall History

CAMDEN, S. C., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Camden, reminiscent of revolutionary war days and the scene of one of the more important battles of the struggle of the colonists for liberation from England, will commemorate its historic past this spring with a pageant entitled, "Camden, Yesterday and Today."

This quaint town, which in 1768 was one of the six leading cities of South Carolina, retains much of the picturesque atmosphere of colonial times, and a number of buildings stand as reminders of the Revolutionary war period. It is frequented by tourists from the north as a winter resort.

Episodes in the pageant will portray the days of Pine Tree hill, the coming of the Quakers and the Revolution, and visits of Washington and LaFayette.

GERMANY AIDS SHIPBUILDERS

HAMBURG, Feb. 19—(AP)—To stimulate German shipbuilding, the German government will make available credits equal to 50 per cent of the price agreed upon between the ship owners and the builders. This step is taken because the ship construction companies have no ready cash to advance to their workers, and the ship owners are likewise suffering from a scarcity of capital.
