By MARIAN LOWRY
SCINTILLATING with brilliancy of variety in an upheaval of winter's last gaieties and spring's oncoming entertaining the past week has been worse than a crossword puzzle with almost every conceivable form of social functions. But February is the month of strenuous social activity and a cessation of entertainment would be a disappointment.

The past few months, perhaps, have brought no more distinctive and gorgeous affairs than the large dancing party for which Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Janel and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Stiekels entertained on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. George H. McMorran and Mrs. Nelson F. Macduff sponsored one of the season's most charming affairs at the Osburn hotel this afternoon, and on Thursday and Friday afternoon Eugene society responded to invitations of Mrs. J. H. Koke and Mrs. R. H. Fields for two attractive affairs.

Criss-crossing with the social events came May Robson in her delightful and unusual comedy, "Something Tells Me," which was attended by a large troupe of society folk Tuesday evening. Each year Eugene society particularly delights in welcoming Miss Robson and her productions, and never was better pleased than with the play given this year.

And then came the avalanche of delight with the presentations of the Brandon Opera company which is concluding tonight at the Heilig theater its series of affairs given in the past three days. It has been difficult indeed to select the favorite of the operas, as each is an old favorite with someone, and all four pleasing to all in general. Robin Hood will be a treat for every one this evening.

Outstanding on the coming week's events will be the appearance of Albert Spalding Wednesday evening in the Methodist church. Coming as one of a series of artist concerts being sponsored by the University of Oregon the musician will be included on the social calendar of everyone. Mr. Spalding as a world famous violinist will come with a most varied and interesting program for Eugeneans.

While February is seemingly twenty-eight days of entertaining the Lenten days are approaching and with them the quiet lull that precedes the Easter time. Already a number of the clubs have postponed activities until after Easter, and it is expected that larger social functions will be planned for mid-April.

The University of Oregon social life continues in its active whirl of formal and semi-formal events which are the notable affairs of the winter months.

One of the most colorful and attractive affairs of the week was the colonial tea for which members of the Matrons' guild auxiliary of the Central Presbyterian church entertained at the manse Wednesday afternoon. Daffodils, pussy willows, red candles and flags were artistically arranged around the room, while a large bowl of red tulips centered the attractive tea table. In the receiving line were Mrs. A. H. Saunders, Mrs. Sherman W. Moody, Mrs. Bruce J. Giffen, Mrs. A. A. Rogers, Mrs. J. O. Holt and Mrs. C. L. Teshner

Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. E. D. Curtis, Mrs. Ashton, Mrs. Frank Nombalain, Mrs. Robert Brodie, Mrs. Hobson, Mrs. W. O. Wilson. A program of much interest was given by Jean Bradley and Helen Phipps in a minute, while Mrs. R. E. Griewald, Mrs. Rex Underwood, Miss Alana Lawrence, Miss Lora Teshner, Mrs. Edith Booth, Mrs. Donald Young, Mrs. David Jones, Mrs. Delbert Oberthoffer, Mrs. A. E. Roberts gave a musical program. The hostesses for the afternoon were all attired in quaint and picturesque colonial costumes. About one hundred and fifty matrons called for the afternoon for the tea which is sponsored annually by members of the guild auxiliary.

For one of the winter season's most brilliant affairs, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Janel, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Stiekels entertained at a dancing party in Laraway hall Wednesday evening. The hosts included in their guest list about one hundred couples.

Suggestive of Washington's birthday, flags were used along the walls, while palms and many hued floor lamps were arrayed down the sides of the room, the orchestra being surrounded by the greenery in the center of the floor.

For the late supper the guests were assembled in the latticed rooms off the dancing room. Mrs. A. F. Rapp and Mrs. Morris Starbuck presided at the supper tables which were attractively arranged with red carnations and candles down the center.

Little Mary Jane Jenkins and Emerson Stiekels, picturesquely attired as Martha and George Washington served punch during the evening, and gave a colonial touch to the decorative scheme for the affair.

Mrs. Jim Wilkinson was hostess for an enjoyable afternoon affair last week, complimenting Mrs. David John Jones who is leaving for Wales, the home of her childhood, for an extended visit. The party was a surprise affair. Mrs. Jones was asked to read a poem descriptive of herself and the changes since coming to America. She was then asked to seek for treasures hidden about the rooms and upon doing so received a number of pretty gifts. A combination of red hearts and ribbons together with potted tulips made an attractive decorative arrangement about the rooms.

Little Mary Jane Jenkins and Emerson Stiekels, picturesquely attired as Martha and George Washington served punch during the evening, and gave a colonial touch to the decorative scheme for the affair.

Assisting Mrs. McMorran and Mrs. Macduff in receiving and entertaining were Mrs. L. D. S. Wade, Mrs. A. H. McDonald, Mrs. Carl G. Washburn, Mrs. DeMott McMorran, Mrs. John Stark Evans, Mrs. Olin P. Stafford, Mrs. Duquall Campbell, Mrs. J. O. Holt.

A smart affair planned for the coming week will be the dinner dance which members of Assembly club will sponsor at the Osburn hotel. Each year the club entertains at a similar affair. Hosts for the dance will be Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ables, George E. Love, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson B. Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn S. McCready.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Johnson were dinner hosts Wednesday at their home asking as guests Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Toone and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn S. McCready.

Palms and spring flowers made a gorgeous setting for the Alpha Delta Pi formal dance given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson H. Jewett on Fairmount Heights Saturday night. Dean and Mrs. Colin V. DeMont, Dean and Mrs. John Straub, Mrs. Virginia Judy Estery and Mrs. Lucy Perkins were patrons and patronesses for the evening. Out-town guests were Miss Beatrice Crawford, Portland; Miss Moreta Howard, Portland; Miss Beulah Deloney, Portland; Miss Margaret Farrington, Portland; Miss Essie Panthey, Corvallis. Frank Joe sang a group of solos for the evening.

Mrs. Edna L. Gordon was a guest for the meeting of Thimble club Thursday at which time Mrs. C. B. Willoughby was hostess for the group.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Schaefer were hosts Tuesday evening to members of the N. U. A. club.

An attractive affair of the week was the silver tea which the Ladies of the O. A. R. sponsored at the home of Mrs. Frank I. Fish. About thirty-five called for the afternoon. A program was given consisting of tableaux, music and readings. Assisting the hostess were Miss Lucene Wallace, Mrs. Ida Wallace, Mrs. Myra Roper, Mrs. Smoock, Mrs. Floyd Westerfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Koopke

Party of Week

For one of the week's attractive dinner parties Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Koopke entertained on Wednesday evening for twelve in the tea room of the Osburn hotel. A huge bouquet of spring blossoms in varied shades centered the table, while other favors were in keeping with Washington's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Koopke asked as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson B. Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ables, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Manerud, Mr. and Mrs. Herald White.

Ninety-five or more members and friends of the Ladies of the G. A. R. gathered at the post rooms of the armory Saturday for a business session and social gathering. Four new members were admitted. For the social affair a program was arranged, and the occasion was to observe Washington and Lincoln birthdays and Valentine day. Mrs. Mullen gave an instrumental solo, Miss Miller a reading, Dorothy Fisher a recitation, Clement Mullen a cornet solo, Miss Miller a vocal solo and Miss Tate an instrumental solo. Valentines were given, following which supper was served. Major W. G. Wiley and Professor Ed Orton gave talks. Miss Lorane Wallace was in charge of the entertainment committee for the afternoon, and Mrs. Joe Ellwood presided in the dining rooms assisted by Mrs. C. J. Buley, Mrs. Cora Jones, Mrs. Ed Toome, Mrs. McKelzie. Several girls assisted the hostesses in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce J. Giffen entertained at luncheon Wednesday for John Knight and W. L. Osburn of McMinnville at the Anchorage.

Mrs. David John Jones was pleasantly surprised Wednesday afternoon when members of the Eugene Daughters of the Nile club held a party in her honor at the Osburn hotel. The day was a regular meeting of the club, but after the business session, members presented Mrs. Jones with a gift and spent the afternoon in visiting and playing bridge. There were six tables of bridge, honors going to Mrs. Fred Chess, and Mrs. Karl K. Mills of Cottage Grove, and the guest prize to Mrs. Jones. Mrs. C. P. Tillman and Mrs. Paul R. Kelly were welcomed as new members of the club. At the business session reports on the benefit bridge tea were given, showing that about eighty-five dollars had been secured to go into the crippled children's fund for the children in the Shrine hospital in Portland. It was also reported that a dozen garments were to be sent immediately to the hospital. Hostesses for Wednesday's meeting were Mrs. L. F. Bean, Mrs. F. H. Crosby, Mrs. D. J. Jones, Mrs. John F. Ketels, Mrs. J. E. O'Brien, Mrs. J. E. Pratt, Mrs. F. L. Beard, Mrs. R. B. Pond, Mrs. Percy Brown and Mrs. Fred Chess as the hostesses.

Three Samples From New York's Beauty Crop

About twenty members of Helmetta club were guests of Mrs. Carrie Knight Wednesday for a covered dish luncheon at the hostess's home. A social afternoon followed the luncheon. Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Marcklow and Mrs. Minnie Holcomb giving a musical program, and the members of the club enjoying their needlework.

Mrs. Frank Nombalain entertained sixteen guests Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. David John Jones who is leaving for Wales. The Nombalain home was beautifully decorated for the Valentine season. Suggestive of the trip which Mrs. Jones is to take was the novel part of the refreshments as wonderfully natural individual cake boats were sailing on an ocean of glass. Valentine bouquets were given as favors for the afternoon. Various bits of poetry and prose were read in appreciation of or farewell to Mrs. Jones by the invited guests.

The engagement of Miss Gladys Price of this city to Earl Ashworth of Wichita, Kansas, was announced at a dinner given recently for a few of the bride-elect's friends.

Members of the Unitarian Woman's Alliance met Tuesday for an all-day session, beginning at ten-thirty o'clock. Sewing for the spring bazaar was done. At three o'clock there was a social and tea hour with a program. Miss Sue Radloff talked on "My First Trip Abroad." Hostesses for the tea hour were Mrs. Eric W. Allen, Mrs. Myra Mitchell.

Fifteen matrons were invited guests of Mrs. Harry Scott for a delightful informal afternoon affair yesterday, when the hostess entertained at tea and sewing at her home. Spring flowers with daffodils and a color scheme of yellow predominating made an attractive decorative setting for the affair.

Mrs. Wiley Huddle (Harriet Warfield) is now visiting in Eugene from her home in Chicago. She is a guest of her mother, Mrs. B. B. Warfield, and sister, Mrs. Mary McAlister, at Kitson Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bowling are spending the weekend in Portland.

Announcement was received in Eugene this week telling of the marriage of Myrtle Bowden to William Charles Hale, in Los Angeles on Jan-
