Members of the club in Eugene, Dr. Warren M. Smith who was to lead the trip, states that because of heavy rains and the character of the trail over which the hike must be taken it should be postponed for a month. The hike, as planned, will start on the university campus, and hikers will be taken in motor buses to Coburg. From there a trail leads across the hills to Marcola, a distance of about 12 1/2 miles. The trip will probably be rescheduled from April 12 or 19.

Patients Enjoy Cure

While they are being "gassed" by chlorine gas for bad colds, patients at the university dispensary spend their time reading or playing cards for an hour a day, reports the Daily Emerald, student newspaper. Bridge and other games are very much in vogue every day, according to reports from the dispensary officials. Every day three treatments are given at the dispensary, each lasting an hour. When the treatments were first begun the time was usually given to conversation and study, but since there are nearly always from four to eight patients at one time, it is a simple matter to find four people who will consent to spend an hour at bridge.

Laymen's Service Announced

The Laymen's League of the Unitarian church will take complete charge of the morning service at the Unitarian church next Sunday. Dr. L. F. Griffin, head of the department of biology at Reed college, will make the address on the theme: "The New Science and the Old Faith." The Rev. McKnight and Robert Hunt will sing a duet as part of the musical program.

Start Membership Drive

A membership campaign by the Eugene post, American Legion, will be conducted until March 1, it was decided at the meeting last night, in order that the local legionnaires may keep Oregon in the lead for the Lind-say cup, presented to the state having the highest percentage of ex-service men in the legion. A vote of thanks was given for all who donated or helped in the recent reunion at the army.
