

OREGON WINS HOT SESSION BY 26-24 COUNT AT MOSCOW

MOSCOW, Idaho, Feb. 27.—(Special)—In as torrid a session of basketball as has been witnessed on the local floor in many a moon, the University of Oregon quietly snatched a 26 to 24 victory from the University of Idaho Vandals here last night. The victory keeps Oregon in the race for the championship of the northern division of the Pacific coast conference.

Oregon's defense was the greatest factor in the triumph of the Webfoots. Close checking held the local sharpshooters to eight field goals. Oregon scored ten ringers from the field.

Five times during the hard-fought battle the score was tied. With but three minutes to go the tally stood at 22-22. It was lanky Okerberg who dropped in the winning Oregon basket, looping in a neat field goal and swishing two fouls through the net. The four point lead could not be quite overcome by the desperate Vandals.

The whole contest was a battle royal, the issue always in doubt. The Oregon team displayed a fine teamwork, and poled in some neat baskets from the field. Her defense work, however, was the outstanding feature.

A victory of the Oregon team over the University of Washington Huskies Saturday night, will tie the Lemon-Yellow with O. A. C. for the championship of the northern division of the coast conference. A play-off would then be necessary.

The Oregon team left here determined to win the Washington game if such a feat is to be humanly possible.

The lineups last night:

Idaho 24 Oregon 26
 Nedros.....F.....Gowan
 Miles.....C.....Hobson
 Erickson.....C.....Okerberg
 Greene.....G.....Jost
 Nelson.....G.....Westergren
 Idaho scoring: field goals—Nedros 3, Miles 2, Erickson 1, Nelson 1, Powell (sub for Greene) 1; free throws—Nedros 5, Miles 3, Erickson 1, Greene 1.

Oregon scoring: field goals—Gowan 1, Hobson 3, Okerberg 3, Westergren 3; free throws—Gowan 1, Okerberg 4, Westergren 1.

Referee—Robert Morris, Seattle.

Swimmers to Meet Here on Saturday

University of Oregon will meet Oregon Agricultural college in a dual swimming meet tomorrow afternoon in the woman's building tank. The first will start at 2:30 o'clock and will be between the Oregon freshmen and the Aggie Frocks. The meet between the two varsities will start at 3:30 o'clock.

Both schools will be handicapped through loss of a star swimmer because of the illegality rules. Oregon will lose Boggs, 220-yard dash record holder, while the Aggies will lose Peterson.

As neither has been in school the full three semesters, he is unable to participate for his school. Boggs, however, will be eligible next term and will take part in the state championship meet at Corvallis.

Springfield High To Play Albany

SPRINGFIELD, Feb. 27.—(Special)—The Springfield high school basketball team will meet the Albany high school hoopers in a game tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in the local gymnasium. This is a return game with Albany, Springfield having been defeated previously with a score of 16 to Albany's 22.

The Springfield lineup will probably be as follows: John Cox and Hugh Cowart, forwards; Herb McMullen, center; Paul Nico, guard; and either Lewis or his substitutes, Austin McPherson, for the other guard.

Nebraska's Matmen

OMAHA, Feb. 27.—Nebraska is known as the home of wrestlers. Several stellar mat artists, some of them champions, have come from the Cornhusker state.

The latest, of course, is Wayne "Big" Munn, former star lineman on the University of Nebraska football team, and present world's wrestling champion.

Then there have been Joe Stecher and his brother Anton, Charley Peters, Charles Hansen, John Pease, Farmer Burns and so on down the line. Stecher was one of the best of the lot. He held the title a few years ago.

The Stecher boys have a big ranch near Dodge, Neb., the corn belt of the middle west, which they bought with their earnings in the mat game.

Billy Evans Says

WHAT are the chances of Glenn Collett to win the British woman's golf championship?

No one is better qualified to answer that question than Walter Hagen, twice winner of the British open. "Excellent," says Hagen.

The woman's championship of Great Britain is scheduled for the week of May 25 at Troon, Hagen, who has played the course many times, says Miss Collett's game is made to order for it.

"In my opinion Glenn Collett is the greatest woman golfer in the world," says Hagen. "No woman can match her long game. From the tee she gets as much distance as many of the leading professionals."

"The unusual climatic conditions that exist at Troon call for distance from the tee and that is just where Miss Collett shines."

It is a rather interesting fact that no woman has beaten Miss Collett inside of 18 holes in over a year. Her only defeat last season was to Mary Browne at the 19th hole in the semifinals of the championship.

Taken from me by the Chicago White Sox will not finish in last place in 1925. Some club other than Comisky's hirelings will be resting in the cellar berth at the close of the season.

There is a weakness at shortstop that must be plugged if the club is to make rapid advancement. Likewise the pitching staff can stand some worthwhile additions.

"Red" Faber, despite advancing years, should be far more valuable this year than last. I also look for Ted Blankenship to pitch the best ball of his career for Collins.

Blankenship is a great pitcher if properly handled. Collins, a good judge of human nature, is certain to make Ted see the possibilities of baseball from a different angle than ever before.

The Sox missed Ray Schalk last season. A succession of serious accidents kept him out of play a greater part of the year. If Schalk is able to catch 75 games, he insists he will work 100, the Sox will be a different ball club.

Blankenship is a great pitcher if properly handled. Collins, a good judge of human nature, is certain to make Ted see the possibilities of baseball from a different angle than ever before.

 Born—San Jose, Cal., July 19, 1898. Outfielder, New York Yankees. Major League Career—Purchased from Vernon club of Pacific coast league in 1920 for cash and players. (Played third base for time).

Outstanding Feats—Won sixth game and clinched the 1923 world series for the Yankees by driving a single through the box in the eighth inning, sending home the runs that spell disaster for the Giants. Hit was especially timely and was a life-saver in a way, for Babe Ruth had just struck out with the same opportunity offering itself. Batted 300 in 1922 classic. BABE RUTH WILL TRY TO SHATTER HIS OWN RECORD

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Ordinarily an individual's waist line might be classified under the heading of irrelevant, except when that individual happens to be Babe Ruth. Just now, in a figurative sense, the eyes of baseball fandom are centered upon the mighty struggle of the mighty hitter to reduce his famous waistline, and condition himself for a campaign in which he hopes to fulfill two ambitions.

The Babe's double-barrelled goal this year is to eclipse the record season's home run harvest of 59, which he established in 1921 and to lead both major leagues in batting. The Babe has been spending his time this winter on the links and in the hot baths at Hot Springs, Ark. There was a time when temperament was Ruth's main obstacle, but he has overcome this.

Granting however, that the Babe will be in trim when the barrier lifts on 1925 chase, his chances of setting a few new records with the bludgeon are not remote. The widespread impression that Ruth was just a home run hitter, has been pretty well removed by the evidence of the past season or two. Ruth is now recognized as one of the greatest all-around stars the game has ever known. Walter Johnson filled a somewhat similar role in the game's drama last fall.

Starting his 13th season in the majors, Ruth's record would seem to leave little to stir any ambition but his own. He first attracted notice as a star pitcher, then inaugurated a new era in long range gunnery and, finally, established his merits as an all-around star, a good base runner, quick thinker and reliable fielder, as well as a champion batsman and run-maker. His all-around worth was recognized officially when the American league gave him its most valuable player-crown in 1923. Last season Ruth led the American league with 378, but this was topped by the modern record percentage of 4235, set by Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals. Ruth is out this year to pass Hornsby in the averages as well as in home runs.

THERE have been quite a few unusually long games in the major leagues, though not so many of recent seasons.

The longest on record was the 26-inning clash between Brooklyn and Boston in the National League in 1920. That hectic affair ended in a 1 to 1 tie. It also tops the list as the lowest score fracas above the 20-inning mark.

The record in the American is held by the Athletics and Red Sox. These two teams battled for 24 seasons back in 1908 before deciding the issue, the former winning, 4 to 1. The longest scoreless game was played between Detroit and Washington in 1909. They went 18 innings, the tilt finally being called on account of darkness.

Schaefer Showing Rare Form; Wins Favor in Tourney

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Jack Schaefer, former world's 152 ballline billiard champion, has made himself the favorite to take the crown from Willie Hoppe, defending titlist in the international tournament by a display of unprecedented form, before which records have been crushed. They are tied for leadership in the standing.

Erich Hagenlander, the German cue artist, who was to have furnished the opposition, sat in a chair watching the former champion break all world's billiard records by running 400 from spot. Schaefer broke Welker Cochran's mark of 384 made in the 1921 tournament and broke the average record with 400 for one inning.

The exhibition dwarfed the brilliant afternoon match when Cochran defeated Kamakichi Suzuki, the Japanese, 400 to 113, in four innings, with a high run of 308.

Tiger Flowers is Loser to Delaney

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Tiger Flowers, Atlanta middleweight, believed for a time last night that he had defeated Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., on a foul.

Flowers, who had managed to avoid Delaney's crushing right, went down in the fourth from a short blow to the chin, but was up at the count of two. Delaney rushed across the ring to attack and as he let his punch go, Flowers sank down, catching the blow on the shoulder. According to rules, Delaney had committed a foul by hitting Flowers when he was down. Deputies of the state athletic commission argued that the foul was double, that one offset the other and the fight was resumed.

Within a minute, Flowers went down again, from a right half uppercut, and this time failed to rise—the second time that he had been knocked out by Delaney in two months.
