

NORTHERN SECTION ALL-STAR QUINTET PICKED BY GUARD

Guard All-Star Team Rindges, Oregon Aggies, forward; Hesketh, Washington, forward; Oberberg, Oregon, center; Westergren, Oregon, guard; Stoddard, Oregon Aggies, guard.

By SAM WILDERMAN In picking the all-star quintet for the northern section of the Pacific coast basketball conference, there are four outstanding players who are being selected to make a selection that will be representative of the Aggies and Hesketh of Washington, forwards; Oberberg of Oregon, center; and Westergren, Oregon, guard.

The fifth place on the team goes to Stoddard of the Aggies. He is a good guard and an excellent shot. It is his ability to make a selection that will be representative of the Aggies and Hesketh of Washington, forwards; Oberberg of Oregon, center; and Westergren, Oregon, guard.

Holdings undoubtedly is the outstanding star in the conference. As the Aggie system of play was built around "Stacy" Hill last year, so in this year the Aggies would be lost without him. He covers a lot of floor space, is one of the most accurate shots in the conference and guards his opponent closely. Ruf said Hesketh of Washington would make Rindges a good running mate. He is the leading basket shooter in the league, scoring 35 field goals to 33 for Hesketh and Oberberg, who are tied for second place. Hesketh, however, has played one more game than Oberberg or Rindges, Washington facing Montana twice, while the Aggies and Oregon played the Grizzlies only once. Hesketh is very consistent and very fast. He is the mainstay of the Washington machine.

Westerren Show Well Frayne of Washington, Gowans and Hinson of Oregon, Miles and Nedrus of Idaho, Baker of the Oregon Aggies and A. Danberg of Montana, are all good forwards, and deserve honorable mention. Oberberg is by far the best center. He seldom misses a "crisp" shot, and has outplayed every center he has faced this year. He leads the league in scoring with 91 points, shooting 33 baskets and converting 25 free throws. He has been watched closer than any other man in the conference including Rindges and Hesketh. Oberberg is said to have established a high-point record in the northwest conference. Hinson of Montana, E. Morgan of Washington, Hinson of Oregon and Anderson of Washington deserve honorable mention.

Westerren Named Westerren has no equal at guard. He probably is the fastest guard in the league and his ability to shoot baskets has been one of the features of the large scores Oregon has been piling up this season. Stoddard of the Aggies made a fine running mate to Westergren. As the Websterfoot, Stoddard not only checks well but is expert in shooting baskets. Hale of Washington is considered by the scribes up north every bit as good as Stoddard, and is better in shooting baskets than the Oregonian. Hale, however, is not so steady as Stoddard, but does check as well and for that reason the choice goes to the Aggie man. Captain Steele of the Aggies is not playing nearly as well as he did last year, but at that, deserves honorable mention.

Points scored by the all-stars: Goal Three Points Field Foul Total Oberberg ..... 25 11 73 Hesketh ..... 25 8 73 Westergren ..... 30 16 76 Rindges ..... 33 7 73 Stoddard ..... 15 3 33

Sport Talk

BACK in 1916 the New York Giants started the entire baseball world by winning 20 straight games. The feat still stands as the best of its kind in the majors. Moreover, it's age to remain intact for quite a stretch, too.

The next best effort was made by the Chicago White Sox in 1906. That year the so-called "Hitless Wonder" ran through 19 straight wins without meeting a reverse. Close behind is the mark of 17 successive triumphs compiled by the Giants the same year they set the present record.

Of more recent seasons there hasn't been a real outstanding performance in this part of the pastime. Here and there a team has won 10 games or so in a row but nothing of a sensational order has been placed on exhibition.

OREGON TO MEET AGGIE QUINT FOR NORTHERN TITLE

University of Oregon will play the Oregon Aggies this week for the championship of the northern section of the Pacific coast basketball conference. Oregon will play the Aggies at Seattle Saturday night, 8:30 to 10:30. The victory placed Oregon and the Aggies in a tie for the lead.

Each team has won six games and lost two for a percentage of .750. The Huskies have won four and lost four and are in third place. Second Idaho defeated Washington State tonight at Pullman, then Washington and Idaho will be tied for third place.

Oregon won one game and lost one to the Aggies, and won one and lost one to Washington. It won two games each from Idaho and Washington State and defeated Montana in their only game.

The Aggies did exactly the same thing as the Websterfoots. They broke even in their two-game series with Oregon and Washington; defeated Idaho and Washington State twice, and Montana once.

In the south, California clinched the championship of the southern section of the coast conference with a 17 to 18 victory over Stanford. That gave California three games out of four. The scores were: California 18, Stanford 13; California 22, Stanford 18; California 15, Stanford 10; and California 17, Stanford 10.

To Play California California will come north next week to play the winner of the Aggie-Oregon series for the conference championship. If Southern California represents the calibre of ball played in the south, neither Oregon nor the Aggies should have much difficulty in adding the invaders. Southern California, in its trip north, lost to Washington, 23 to 40; the Aggies, 22 to 30, and the Multnomah club of Portland, 38 to 35.

Coch Reinhardt and the Oregon team returned last night from Seattle, where the Websterfoots had a successful road trip, winning three coast conference games. After losing a northwest conference contest to Whitman, 12 to 19, in which Reinhardt used only his second team, Oregon defeated Washington State, 43 to 16; Idaho, 23 to 24, and Washington, 35 to 20.

Conference standings follow: Coast conference—W. L. Pct. Oregon ..... 6 2 .750 Oregon Aggies ..... 6 2 .750 Washington ..... 4 4 .500 Idaho ..... 3 4 .429 Montana ..... 2 6 .250 Montana's Opponents ..... 2 6 .250 Washington State ..... 0 7 .000 Northwest conference—W. L. Pct. Oregon Aggies ..... 14 2 .873 Oregon ..... 12 3 .800 Washington ..... 9 6 .600 Idaho ..... 9 6 .600 Gonzaga ..... 4 9 .308 Montana ..... 5 7 .417 Washington State ..... 8 7 .533 Whitman ..... 8 10 .445 Willamette ..... 2 11 .154 Pacific ..... 0 10 .000

(*) Although Montana does not play the same number of games with each team in the Pacific coast conference, its scores do not count in tabulating the standings of its opponents. Montana's own standings, however, are tabulated. Montana's games count in the northwest conference.

HOODOO OF 13TH HOLE Storm Helps Jesse Guilford

By JOE WILLIAMS JESSE GUILFORD, shambling New England farmer boy, reached the heights at the St. Louis Country club in 1921. Here he won the national amateur for the first time.

Now recall the playing of the thirteenth hole in that match against Chick Evans, because overhead conditions argued against a gallery. But the scribes remember it, and probably will as long as Guilford is still identified with golf.

The thirteenth there was a long hole. Not many litters managed to get home in two full shots. But Guilford did, and under unusual circumstances—circumstances which may be pointed to as changing the complete complexion of the match.

TOMMY MILTON IS AUTO RACE WINNER

CLIVER CITY, Cal., March 2.—A battle of split seconds and three point decimals today was the aftermath of the 250 mile automobile race which Tommy Milton won here yesterday in the alleged time of one hour 58 minutes and 13 seconds. Milton's victory was not contested, but argument raged between officials as to whether he had or had not broken the world's record set by Bennett Hill, on the same track last December.

According to William R. Innes who clocked the cars with the official timing device, there may be some slight revision of Milton's time but there is no likelihood of such revision showing that a world's record was broken.
