TOXIN IS APPROVED FOR ALL CHILDREN

Urging that children of the pre-school age, from one to six years, be given the toxin-anti-toxin inoculation as a diphtheria preventative, Dr. S. M. Kerron points out the value of this treatment which is highly endorsed by the state board of health.

"Although the pupils of the public schools will all receive the treatment this does not include the younger children not yet enrolled. This period from one to six years is a good time to have the inoculation and mothers are urged to have this done. Any physician can administer the toxin and it is a simple operation," Dr. Kerron states.

With the completion of one more inoculation for the children of the Condon school and two more of the three required, to the children of the Frances Willard school, the treatments will be completed at the local schools, the health officer states.

Nearly 1000 children have taken the treatment making a total of nearly 3000 inoculations to date by the health officer aided by the school nurse, during the past two months.

The tests to note the success of the treatment will be held after a period of three months has elapsed from the last inoculation. This test is also a simple matter of inoculation of the skin and the noting of the reaction of the toxin, Dr. Kerron said.
