

OREGON LOSES TO O. A. C., 27 TO 26, IN FINAL CONTEST

SALEM, Ore., March 10.—(Special)—In the most thrilling of all the games of the 1925 conference basketball season, the Oregon Agricultural college quintet barely nosed out a 27-26 victory from the University of Oregon here last night, and won the championship of the northern section of the Pacific coast conference.

The history of the coast conference basketball cannot be more exciting than that of this season. O. A. C. and Oregon were tied for first place, and a play-off was necessary. Each team took one game of the play-off, and in the deciding game the score was tied five times. At the half it was 15-15.

Oregon lost when she failed to hold the Aggies after she had gained five-point lead in the last half, and not when little "Suede" Westergren missed his foul shot, as many sport writers supposed.

The Oregon team did show more five-point lead, and had gained more aggression. But with defeat staring them in the face, the Aggies' foul, coupled with field goals by Baker, Steele and Stoddard, turned the tables. From then on the game was O. A. C.'s.

Westergren's shot was heart-breaking, but a diagnosis of the game shows that it wasn't the one that lost, after all. Oregon lost because she didn't hold in a pinch. Westergren's shot shouldn't have been necessary.

GAME IS THRILLER
By SAM WILDERMAN

Failure to convert a foul throw in the last 15 seconds of play, lost for Oregon a chance to tie the score, and the Oregon Aggies won the third and deciding basketball game for the championship of the northern section of the Pacific coast conference, 27 to 26, at Salem last night. As a result, the Aggies will represent their section against University of California, champion of the southern division, for the conference title, in a three-game series which will start on the O. A. C. court Thursday night.

Just as the gun went off ending the contest, Baker, Steele and Stoddard, Westergren. There was a tense moment. The ball was jammed to its capacity, and more than 700 fans, unable to get tickets because there was no available room, crammed in and about the doorway, but not a sound was heard. Whether the game would end in favor of the Aggies or Oregon would be the result of the contest depended on whether Westergren would convert the foul throw.

Ball Bounces Back.

The little Oregon guard grabbed the ball nervously. He tossed it to the basket. It hit the side wall, rimmed the hoop once and bounced back, giving the Aggies the championship. The strain was too much for him, and he collapsed. His teammates assisting him to the dressing room.

The Aggie victory came after a sudden spurt in the second half with only five minutes to play. At that time Oregon held a comfortable five-point margin, and as the Webfooters were the aggressors through most of that period, it was gloomy for the Aggie team and roosters. However, the Corvallis lads made a dash for the basket, and before three more minutes had elapsed, Dwocky converted a foul throw, and Baker, Steele and Stoddard shot field goals each placing the Aggies in the lead, 26 to 23. Baker then converted a foul throw giving the Aggies an added point.

Gowans

In a last desperate effort to tie the score, Gowans took a long shot from past mid-floor, making the most sensational field goal of the entire series. His score came just before the game ended, and on the next play Westergren was fouled by Baker.

The scores zig-zagged, first one and then the other team taking the lead. At half time it stood 13 to 13. Gowans played his last game for Oregon, as he graduates in June, but also his best in the three years he had been a member of the team. He led in scoring with five baskets for 10 points, four of them from long range. Oberberg and Westergren also played well for Oregon, in fact so did Hobson and Jost.

As for the Aggies, their "percentage system" worked to perfection on the offense. They checked raggedly, however, Oregon breaking through many times.

Aggies Accurate.

When the Aggies had the ball they usually hung on to it long enough to get in position to shoot, and while they took much fewer chances at the hoop than Oregon did, the Corvallis lads were the more accurate. Red Kitting started for the Aggies, but he received excellent support from his team mates, who were on their toes all the time. Lineups.

Sport Talk

AN extremely odd and fast game was that played between Boston and Brooklyn in the National league on June 30, 1922. It was a regulation inning affair and lasted for one hour and 12 minutes.

Pitchers Fillingim and Cadore did not register a single strikeout nor issue a base on balls. And Gowdy and Da Berry, the catchers, did not have any chances to accept, though each had a passed ball. No earned runs were scored by either team.

It was one of the most unique games on record all things considered, besides being one of the fastest played.

Majors do not Lure Him Wade Killefer Stays On Coast

Not every baseball manager, especially in the minors, will turn down an offer of $20,000 to pilot a big league club. But that, according to current reports, is just what Wade "Hot" Killefer, leader of the Seattle team of the Pacific Coast League, has done. Fact is, Killefer is not only said to have refused one job in the majors but two of them.

"I'll be back on the third base coaching line in the spring," Killefer said when asked about the offer. "I am financially interested in the Seattle club and Seattle is good enough for me."

Walter Johnson to Face Artie Nehf

NEW YORK, March 10.—Palm Beach's baseball park is sold out for the start of the spring "world series" with the prospect that Walter Johnson will pitch a few innings for the Washington Senators against Artie Nehf of the New York Giants in the first of 13 exhibition games today.

Nehf will be aided by Jack Scott and Virgil Harnes, and Hughie Jennings will be in charge as Manager McGraw has decided to remain in Saratoga because of illness.

CALIFORNIANS ON WAY FOR SERIES

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—The University of California basketball team will leave tonight for Corvallis, Ore., to meet the Oregon Agricultural college team in a series of three basketball conference titles. The Californians hold the southern division championship, while the Aggies are titleholders in the northern division.

George Clements has been named to replace Fred Holmes star Californian forward who is ill.

Billy Evans Says—

By BILLY EVANS

BASEBALL'S advisory board has decreed that the first four teams shall share in the receipts of the world series.

Previously the nation had been limited to the present winner, the runner-up and the team finishing third. The decision to let the fourth-place team share in the money is a good one for perhaps everybody except the umpires.

Letting teams other than the pennant winners share in the world series gate has been a great help to the game, but it has greatly increased the duties and responsibilities of the umpire.

With four teams sharing in the world series receipts the race will be a battle from start to finish, without the slightest letup.

Now System Has Affected Play

In the old days, when only the two championship teams got a cut, the last five or six weeks of the season would often be hot pitching. If a team by the first of September had a lead of five games or more the race was usually considered as all over but the shouting.

The teams that appeared to be out of the running invariably did a lot of experimenting with recruits.

This had its good features, for it enabled managers to get a line on the new material and often made it possible for them to scratch off the list players they would otherwise have been compelled to take south in the spring.

Players Go Limit to Win

When three teams were set into the money instead of one, there was immediately a change for the better in the general play of all the teams. The incentive to finish second or third, even if the first-place team was well out in front, made the players go the limit to win in every game.

The average cut of the players on the four-place club will be about $2000. That is a nice piece of change to pick up at the finish with a long winter just ahead.

For the umpires, however, it has worked the other way. Their responsibility has been greatly increased with no proportional advance in salary as far as the series is concerned.

Teams Now Battle to Finish

It's a battle all the way these days and no team is ever until the final game is played.

With four teams in the prize money interest is certain to be increased. It will mean something to finish in the first division.

Nothing stimulates interest or efficiency more than increased compensation. With the world series gate around the million-dollar mark, players of all teams are certain to get a fat cut.

For the umpire it means just that much more trouble. Instead of having the season over the moment some one club assumed a commanding lead the share-all system makes for strife for the officials to the very end.

Umpires, however, become case hardened to trouble and probably are willing to carry the increased burden for a plan that has so greatly benefited the game.

Jack has 15 Days To Accept Offer

NEW YORK, March 10.—Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion has 15 days in which to accept the challenge of the negro, Harry Wills, carried to him by the New York state athletic commission by telegram on Friday, and the rapid meeting of the eastern governing body today is very likely to sidetrack the issue for the time being.

From all indications the New York officials will await the arrival here of Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey, before taking further steps. Kearns is expected sometime next week.

Reports that the champion would engage in a bout in California this summer failed to interest boxing followers here to any extent.

Home is Feature At White Sox Camp

CHICAGO, March 10.—Homers, hits, errors and homers have made their season debuts at the Catalina Island, Cal., camp of the Chicago Cubs, and the Shreveport, La., ball-club of the White Sox.

It went 380 feet before it was stopped by a small post at the top of a 25-foot high score board. Harry Hooper has wired from his Capitol, California ranch, that he will report Monday.

Harriet is due any time, Earl Sheely in California, and Bob Falk, in Austin, Texas, will report before the week ends.

The Morning Grouch

It is easy to end in an hour Just add a sparkle to your rising glass

Why are so many people cross in the mornings? Just because the stomach is upset. The bowels are clogged with poisons. Drink a glass of water upon rising, hot or cold. That washes out the stomach and prepares it for food. Add to that water a little Jad Salts. That makes the water acid, salty, effervescent. A delightful drink. Jad Salts are made from the acids of grape and lemon, combined with lithia, etc. Then, to and behold. In one hour comes elimination of the poisons and the waste. The system is freed, the spirits are revived. You start the day fit and happy and efficient. What a pity not to use them. Think what lost days mean. And just a little Jad Salts in your morning glass changes everything. Try this tomorrow morning. You will live two days in one. And never again will you let these poisons cause a dull unhappy day. Every druggist has Jad Salts.
