News of Interest of Events, Past and Future, at the University High School

Vol. 2. Saturday, March 14, 1925. No. 22

Editorial

The basketball season for 1925 is over. The University high school team, which was crowned champion of the district, was not the fault of the players or coach, they gave every inch of their vitality to make this season a successful one. In truth it has been a success only two games were won, both by only a few points, and all the glory of playing clean and hard is won.

The players deserve all the praise that can be given them. This is the last year for all the first string men, they have done a lot for the school let them know that you appreciate it.

U. H. S. Wins Last Game

University high basketball team won its last game of the season from Springfield high Monday afternoon by a score of 25 to 11. The game was fairly fast and marked by many fouls. Hall of U. H. S., and Nice of Springfield being put out for too many personals. Webster substituted ed the entire second squad in the third quarter and they held Springfield to one point. The first squad were put back in for the last quarter.

Found

Do you want to enter school here? How old are you and what is your name? There were a few of many questions asked of "Buddy," infant son of Dr. Clark, when he was found near the school and brought into the office by a group of girls. He was given a doughnut and then plied with different questions.

When asked to point out his home, several houses were designated. Finally Mr. Benjamin, Ernest Espinoza and DeVerl Hempy took the little fellow in a car to find his home, with the result that it was finally located.

Daily Quizzes Given

The two o'clock civics class has been given daily quizzes the past week by Miss McCullough, who is substituting while Mr. Dickerson is away.

French Play Studied

The pupils of the nine o'clock French II class have discarded their readers in favor of a play, called "Le Voyage de M. Perrichon," by Labriche and Maris. Part of all of the play may be dramatized, says Miss Schull, instructor.

Catalogue Out Soon

The faculty of the University high school working on a copy of a new high school catalogue, as the old one is out of date. The new one will be out soon after the spring vacation.

Radio Books Arrive

The books "Radio Communication," written by John Mills, have arrived at the Co-op. These books were ordered by Mr. Mann for the radio division of the Physics class. This section will now start on their regular work. The study will take up the mathematical side of radio.

Spell-Down Held

"All right, choose up sides for a spell-down," creates some excitement in Miss Riley's French I class at eight o'clock. Several matches have been held and from the results it always seems that vocabulary must be studied more, although several complaints like this come in: "Well, I know nearly all of them, except the one you ask me."

Girls Take Up Tennis

The class in girls' sport will play tennis after the spring vacation. Each girl will have to use her own racket and balls, and the University courts have been secured for this work. After tennis, towards the last of the spring term canoeing will be taken up, and the University canoes will be used. Soccer is being played now, and although not very many girls are out, they are enjoying the game.

Reserves Change Plans

The Girl Reserve stunt night has been postponed until the 3 or 4 of April. The cast of characters have been changed. The senior group will present "The Florist Shop," the cast being: Maude Dora McClain, Miss Wells, Wanda Leslie, Mr. Jackson, Marjorie Landru, Stacey Margaret Hurley, William Francis Greenfield. Notebooks Called For

The notebooks that the students of the nine o'clock biology class have been working on for the past six weeks must be in Monday as the announcement of Miss Hays Wednesday morning. The notebooks contain notes and drawings on development and on protozoa. Two distinct classes of protozoa have been found so far. These are flagellates and ciliates.

U. H. S. Loses Game

Corvallis high school won from the University high basketball team March 5 by a score of 19 to 16. The game was to determine the team that was to play Eugene high for the district championship and so the game was played on the neutral Willamette University floor at Salem. The University high boys had an off night and were unable to convert baskets like they usually do. Webster had the usual lineup play.

Class Changes Rooms

The shorthand class, moved Friday to the Seminar room in the education building. Room ten, formerly occupied by this class, is now being used by Miss Lounsbury as a geometry room for those students who failed in that subject last semester.

Students "Ill"

Oh-h-h, Ah-h-h, Eh-he-e. These were the sounds of some one evidently in great misery Tuesday afternoon. When the noises didn't stop, it was determined the matter needed investigation. Running out into the hall, investigators found it was only some physics students who were experimenting with a small instrument for showing the vibrations of sound waves. They would say vowels into one end and watch a rubber diaphragm vibrate from the sound waves.

Shakespeare's Play Studied

The senior 6 English classes are now studying Macbeth, Shakespeare's last tragedy. The play is being read in class and topics made for each scene. Later on, it may be dramatized by the two classes. Just before taking up the study of Macbeth, Shakespeare's life and plays were studied in order to furnish a background.

Practical Work Used

The economics class has been studying business organization. During the past week monopoly was discussed. To make the work clear, diagrams were put on the board to illustrate. Thursday, papers were written on the advantages and disadvantages of monopoly. Friday, a test was given on the work covered during the study of business organization.

WINNER OF TROPHY

Geary school today was awarded the Skele Jewelry trophy for the neatest, most efficient and economical school in Eugene in the handling of materials, by the school board. This trophy, which is a large silver loving cup, was offered by O. L. Skele this year as an incentive to thrift and neatness on the part of school pupils and teachers.

Condon school was awarded the cup the first time. It was then given to Lincoln and Geary schools. The school board acts as a committee of judges in making the award, which is based on (1) economy in use of materials provided by the school district; (2) neatness and care of building inside and out, and (3) general appearance of the school yard.

Stowaway Is Now
Certified Pilot

LONDON, March 14.—(AP)—William Ballantyne, who was a stowaway on the R-34 when she flew to America in July, 1919, has at last been successful in obtaining his "wings," or in other words his pilot's certificate. After his escape on the driftable, Ballantyne was sent back to Howden in Yorkshire, where he remained until the ariduous closed down and was then transferred to Egypt. Here he studied for the royal air force pilot's certificate. He passed his tests and is now pilot-sergeant in one of the air mail planes between Cairo and Bagdad, a desert journey of 700 miles each way.

Ballantyne was an original member of the crew of the R-34, but it was found necessary to leave him behind. He was bent on making the trip, however, and, two hours before the craft left Scotland, he hid himself in the rigging. When the ship was about 60 miles out he was discovered, lying sick and feverish among some gas bags to which he had crept from the rigging. After treatment by the staff physician he worked his way across for the rest of the voyage.
