STREETS THRONGED BY SPECTATORS AT CITY'S STYLE SHOW

Thousands of people crowded the downtown streets of Eugene last night for the annual spring style show. With motor traffic cleared from Willamette street during the busy part of the show, many took to the streets when sidewalk traffic became congested. The show was a marked success in every way, even to the ideal weather.

Display windows revealed some artistic and beautiful decorations. In one, where live models were shown, the sidewalk was blocked by hundreds of spectators. Tickets were passed out to the crowd, and some of the tickets corresponded in number to those in the various windows, entitling the holder to a prize offered by the store.

String confetti, paper horns, hats and ticklers contributed to the carnival atmosphere of the occasion. The favors were thrown to the crowd from auto trucks that moved up and down the streets.

Frank Blade, chairman of the general committee in charge, declared today that he was more than pleased with the success of the event. Mr. Blade extended his appreciation of the co-operation shown by merchants and others in the show, and to the national guardsmen for their efficiency in controlling automobile traffic.

EXPENSE CUTS FOR GAME BOARD FILED

Extensive reduction in the expenses of administration of the state fish and game commission are recommended by Captain Burghduff and these will be submitted at the next meeting of the commission, accoring to Ben F. Dorris, member of the board.

Reductions recommended are: Warden service expense, $19,000; predatory animal control work, $5000; fishway and ditch screening, $6000; game farms, $3000; fish distribution, $2800; education department $3200 and hatchery operation, $17,000.

To offset these curtailments it is estimated that there will be an increase of $13,300 in bounties, $23,000 in construction of the eastern Oregon game farm and $3400 in operation of additional hatcheries.

The construction program put under way by the game commission during the summer of 1924 and carried over into the current year is the principal feature which makes necessary curtailment in expenditures in specific instances, and together with the reduction of 10 per cent of the funds available for game protection work will make it impossible for the game department to inaugurate additional construction during the present year and is making it exceedingly difficult to continue the construction work now under contract.

Beauty Specialists Of Eugene Meet

Shopowners and employes representing ten beauty parlors of Eugene met last evening at Hasting Sisters shop to discuss the bill recently passed by the legislature and regulating the profession of beauty specialists. The bill is to go into effect in July, and as workers in the profession must be registered and passed by examination the purpose of last night's meeting was to inform them of the bill.

It was decided by the group to meet once each month to talk over their problems and work for the betterment of the profession. The next meeting is scheduled to be held in two weeks.

Harry Adams was fined $250 at Pendleton and sentenced to 90 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to operating a still in the Blue mountains east of Weston. The still, 2000 pounds of sugar and 400 pounds of corn meal were confiscated.

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle

A masterpiece in three and four-letter words is this puzzle. There should be little difficulty in solving it, for few of the letters are unkeyed.

Harrisburg Asks For Market Road

HARRISBURG, March 21.—(Special)—A petition was circulated the past week asking the county court to make a bonded road over a two-mile strip that starts near the farm of Mrs. Holloway and passes east by the Foresman ranch to a connection with the old highway near the cemeteries. This road was one of the last to remain unimproved. It has become a needed road since the building of the Pacific highway. The petition calls for a market road. These roads are constructed under the supervision of the county engineer. It is expected that the petition will be granted.

REVIVAL SERVICE CLOSES SUNDAY

By H. W. HALL

Tomorrow is the last day of the union revival being conducted in the armory under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal, First Baptist and Evangelical churches with Victoria Booth-Clibborn Demarest as the evangelist.

The topics for the last three sermons to be delivered ere the end actually arrives will be "The Race" for tonight;; "The Temple" for Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock and Sunday night will be "The Power in a Name."

Reverend Moore, pastor of the Methodist church at Springfield, made the opening prayer.

There was a very sympathetic audience gathered to hear the evangelist tell the story of her life from birth to taking up evangelistic work at the age of 18. The audience was not quite so large as upon other occasions, probably due to the style show last night, but they were well entertained and frequently laughed heartily at some of the ludicrous situations in which the speaker was the victim, as she related the story.

After some preliminary remarks regarding one's responsibility to God in everything we do, she said "There is only one thing that should concern every Christian and that is that God may be glorified."

"Well," she started, "I must begin my story. When was I born? I don't remember," (laughter).

Mrs. Damarest is a master hand at story telling and the audience seemed so well pleased with what she told that no doubt they could have stayed some time longer and felt repaid, for they all seemed to be in an attitude well primed for a good time.

However, hidden away in the depth of each incident of her life's experiences was a kernel of spiritual truth that grew and grew and finally burst forth into a flower from which emanated the perfume of God which could be used for personal application and use.

The only compensation the Demarest party will receive for their labors in Eugene will be received in a free-will offering during tomorrow's services.

WORDS NECESSARY IN ALL REASONING

Do you know that the use of language is not limited to the mere communication of ideas? An equally important function is that of the instrumentality of thought. It is not only its vehicle, but its means of expansion. Hardly any of our intellectual operations could be carried on without the agency of words.

Then language is not only the offspring of thought, but it is also its mother. In every process of reasoning words are an essential element. By means of them we fashion and embody our ideas.

The dictionary is therefore a necessity. It should be at your elbow at all times, whether at your place of business, in your home, or at school or shop. The New Universities Dictionary is within reach of every reader, as explained in the coupon printed elsewhere in this issue of The Guard.
