

CUB OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT, BELIEVES TEAM'S MANAGER

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 26.—Belief that the Chicago National league baseball club will place higher in 1925 than it did last year, was expressed here by William Killefer, Cub manager, in commenting on the outlook for the ensuing season.

"It is yet too early in the year to predict the pennant chances of the club," Killefer declared, adding however, that he was confident the Cubs would finish "near the top."

"A team that will be many per cent stronger than that of last season, augmented by more hitting strength will describe fully the 1925 squad," he said.

"All positions with the exception of shortstop which was weakened by the loss of 'Rabbit' Maranville, who broke his ankle recently in an exhibition contest, have been strengthened considerably. The injury to Maranville was a serious blow to the Chicago club, but I hold great hopes for Clark Dittinger, acquired from the Salt Lake club of the Pacific Coast baseball league to fill the berth. His work has impressed me greatly."

"The pitching staff has shown great improvement over last year. With Grover Alexander, Tony Kaufman, Vic Keen, Cooper, Charles Root, the latter obtained recently from the Los Angeles Coast league club and several other other moundmen who have shown great promise the Cub's hurling staff will be strong."

Charlie Dawson Wins Salem Bout In Fourth Round

SALEM, Ore., March 26.—Charlie Dawson of Eugene knocked out Johnny Goggins of San Francisco by a right hook to the jaw in the fourth round of a ten-round match here last night. Both fighters announced their weights at 128 pounds. This was Goggins' sixth appearance in the ring.

In the semi-finals, Bill Hunt, of Salem, 190 pounds, knocked out Chan Butler of Portland, 181 pounds, in the first of the third round.

Pinelli, Twice to Minors, Makes Good

MIAMI, Fla., March 26.—Babe Pinelli of the Cincinnati Reds is rated one of the best third sackers in the National league. Yet prior to becoming a star he was twice turned down by Detroit as shy big league caliber.

Says Pinelli: "Ty Cobb sure did me a great favor when he said I wasn't a big leaguer and turned me loose. When he sent me to the minors the last thing I told him was that I would make his judgment look bad. I think I have delivered."

"If Cobb hadn't turned thumbs down on me and sent me back to the minors I probably would still be holding down a spot on the Detroit bench, little more than a spectator."

Pinelli has played great ball ever since the Reds brought him back. He's a smart ball player who makes the most of his talents.

Cobb, who has had plenty of infield trouble since he turned Pinelli loose, could have used him to advantage many times.

Moe Sax to Coach Multnomah Team

Moe Sax, ex-University of Oregon and Washington State college football star, signed a contract to coach the Multnomah club's grillion team at Portland next fall. Sax, coach last year for Lincoln high, which won the Portland city championship after a third season, turned down a couple of opportunities to become assistant coach at coast conference universities to take the Multnomah club post.

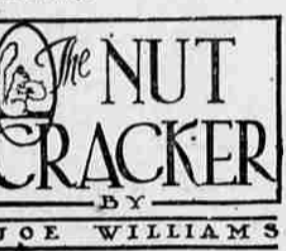

He succeeds "Hap" Miller of Vancouver, Wash. University of Washington graduate of Double days, who has coached the club eleven for two seasons. Miller is also coach at Vancouver high school. Handling the two jobs was too much so he resigned in Multnomah coach.

Ty Tries to Ring 'Em

Ga. Peach Pitches Horseshoes

Here is Ty Cobb, famous baseball celebrity, in a new role, that of horseshoe player. Cobb tried to ring a few while vacationing at Augusta, Ga., recently.

JOE WILLIAMS

IN the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to hair pomade, bell-bottom trousers and clumsy roadsters.

Many rookies are called but few are chosen—which probably accounts for the continued excellence of big league ball.

Walter Hagen is said to be the best paid professional in the country—but some of the all-American halfbacks of recent years might dispute this.

Hal Chase is going to organize a baseball league in Mexico—We hasten to nominate Abe Attell as chief commissioner to land dignity to the enterprise.

Mr. Red Carney of Cleveland has been waiting 22 years to be an umpire—a fellow ought to be able to save up a lot of terrible decisions in that time.

Babe Ruth is playing the racing dogs in Florida with the idea, perhaps, that this will put him in shape for the hot dogs later on.

Is golf a game or a recreation? asks a magazine writer. Ed.—As we play it it is simply an advanced form of burlesque.

Apparently Ty Cobb hasn't gone back so far after all—we read where he was arrested in Atlanta the other day.

John D. Rockefeller is always the first player on the golf course at Ormond—believing, no doubt, that the oily bird gets the worm.

In keeping with his ideas of economy, President Coolidge may insist on throwing out the same ball this year as he used at the opening game last spring.

One finds oneself wondering what the A. A. U. will do for sport page publicity when Paavo Nurmi goes back home.

Another nice thing about horseshoe pitching tournaments is that none of the contestants are ever called second Babe Ruths.

Springfield Game For Friday is off

SPRINGFIELD, March 26.—(Special)—The baseball game which was scheduled between the Springfield club and the Marcola team for tomorrow has been called off, according to Vera D. Bain, Springfield high school principal and athletic coach. It was to have been played in Springfield, and will be held here later. The first game

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frusted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

Sport Oddities

By ART CARLSON

OVER-CONFIDENCE is one of the biggest lugaboo items in sports. It has brought defeat to more than one individual or team. It has created titles away and has caused countless upsets in the old dope column.

Football coaches, boxing managers and various other sport leaders have long sought to keep the veteran jinx out of the clubhouse, gym and off the field of battle. But it has been a tough task. For a string of victories usually brings out a sort of dominant attitude that is exceptionally hard to overthrow. It has ever been thus.

Some 15 years or so ago, I saw Rattling Nelson in Detroit. He was doing a vaudeville turn at the time. His appearance there was of more interest, too, because within a few weeks he was to battle Ad Wolgast, the "Michigan Wildcat," for the lightweight championship of the world.

Nelson was then the title-holder, having wrestled the honors from Joe Gans a couple of years before.

Nelson was all confidence over the approaching fight. Wolgast would prove easy for him. There was no question about it. Not in the Dane's mind at least. In other words he would make short work of the challenger.

The night or so before the encounter, Nelson still bore the same feeling toward Wolgast.

"I'll whip him inside of a few rounds," he was quoted as saying. "Then I'll go back on the stage for a while, still champion of the world."

The result of that never-to-be-forgotten battle is still fresh in the minds of close followers of the ring.

Wolgast beat Nelson at his own game and took the "Durable Dane's" much-cherished crown. Nelson's seconds tossing up the sponge in the 40th round with their man virtually out on his feet.

Big Baseball Stars

George L. Kelly Born—San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 10, 1895. First baseman, New York Giants.

Major League Career—Sold to the Giants in 1915 by the Victoria club of the Northwestern League. Reported sale price, $1200. In 1917 went to Pittsburgh on waiver loan. Returned later in season and sent to Rochester on option. Back with Giants in 1919. (Also used in outfield occasionally.)

Outstanding Feats—Made three home runs in game on Sept. 17, 1923. In same season crashed out home runs with the bases filled on three occasions. Accepted 22 changes in game played on April 26, 1923.

Salem Basketball Team to Chicago

SALEM, Ore., March 26.—The Salem high school basketball squad, consisting of eight men and Coach Hollis Huntington, leaves at four o'clock this afternoon for Chicago, where the Salem team will enter the national basketball tournament which begins there Tuesday, March 31. Between $1900 and $2000 has been raised here to pay the team's expenses, the money coming chiefly from local business men.

The clarinet was invented by Johann Christopher Denner of Nuremberg about 1690.
