DIRECTORS PLAN FOR MEETING ON COLUMBIA BASIN

PORTLAND, Ore., March 27.—Plans for the annual meeting of the Columbia Basin Irrigation League were made today at a meeting of the board of directors here, Pasco, Wash., where the annual meetings have been held for the past three years, was selected for the meeting place on invitation of the chamber of commerce of that city.

The date for holding the meeting was referred to President Harvey Lindley, Seattle, and the executive committee who will confer with United States Senators Stanford and McNary and it is the wish of the board that these two senators shall be at the meeting.

Invitations also will be extended to the secretary of the interior, the executives of the United States reclamation bureau, the governors of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana, Senators and representatives of the four states and the presidents of the railroads cross the project.

The meeting will last but one day with morning, afternoon and evening sessions, instead of two days as in former years.

Effort will be made to have the annual gathering one of the most widely attended in the history of the league. There will be much important business to transact and some vital questions relative to the development of the project will be settled. The consensus of opinion at the meeting today was that efforts should continue unabated for development of the great project.

There was an open discussion on the advisability of a national reclamation policy bill to take the place of the present reclamation system and this was continued after the afternoon session.

Argentina Prepares For oil Field Boom

BUENOS AIRES, March 27.—(AP)—The satisfactory results obtained by the state-owned petroleum wells in 1924 has encouraged the government to give additional impetus to boring in 1925. In the Comodoro Rivadavia field alone 156 wells will be sunk this year, while in the Salta and Jujuy oil fields a considerable number of borings will be begun.

In other respects also great strides will be made, especially in the installation of refineries, the most important of which, at La Plata, is fast approaching completion.

"YOU MAKE SUCH DELICIOUS SALADS"

"It always makes me hungry to come in the store and look at your show cases." A lady made this remark yesterday—and she ought to know, for she uses our salads regularly and is a very excellent judge of how they ought to be made.
