

MANY ORDINANCES UP FOR PASSAGE BY CITY COUNCIL

A busy session of ordinance-passing faces the city council tonight at its meeting in the city recorder's office. Many of 10 or more new statutes are those left over from the recent special meeting of the council, which was held up by a knotty discussion over the relative merits of different types of sewer pipe.

Chief among the ordinances to be voted upon tonight are those for opening and establishing of Clark street, from Madison to Grand, and Twelfth street from Van Buren to Tyler.

The council will also be called upon to adopt the plot of the proposed Tiff's addition to the city of Eugene. Vacation of a part of First avenue east, remaining at the intersection of High street when the street was changed to curve into the road leading to the municipal auto park.

Four forms for the bonds recently purchased by Pierce, Fair and company of Portland, are the subject of four ordinances to be passed tonight. They are for $10,500 sewer bonds, $12,000 Ninth avenue bridge bonds, $35,000 and $10,000 paving intersection bonds.

Reports are expected from several committees on matters referred at the last two meetings. These include street improvements, such as paving of High street from Thirtieth avenue to Sixteenth avenue, protest on assessment for Fairmont paving, and Mrs. Rose Riley's claim for $516 damages arising out of an injury alleged to have been caused by a defective sidewalk.

Halsey man Wins Trapshoot Event

Breaking 99 out of 100 bluecock targets, J. W. Drinkhard of Halsey was high point shooter at a special prize shoot conducted by the Lane County Sportsmen's association yesterday. It is announced, J. W. Seavey and W. W. McCornack tied for second place with 97 birds each; and Lawrence Simmons was third with 96.

H. Veatch scoring 48 out of a possible 50, was first in the handicap event. W. W. Branstetter and J. Fisher tied for second with 46 each, and C. J. Peyton was third with 45. Thirty shooters competed for the tournament, representing nearly all the gun clubs in the Willamette valley.

Plans for Eugene Motor Office set

Joseph Dunne, president of the Oregon State Motor association, and George O. Brandenburg, manager, will be here from their Portland headquarters some time this week to make preparations for the tourist influx in this district. It is announced today at the local office of the association at the Osburn hotel. It is planned soon to erect a number of "arrow" signs along the routes in and out of the city directing the way to the association headquarters here, is the announcement. Many inquiries are already being received at the office here from tourists and the call for road maps is increasing.

George Wells is Arrested Again

George Wells, resident of the Swiss-home district, who is out on bail pending a charge of assault with intent to kill, was arrested at his home on a second charge of threatening commission of a felony. Wells is alleged to have threatened a neighbor with a pitchfork. Wells recently was arrested when he with two companions is alleged to have fired on law enforcement officers while they were in the Swiss-home district attempting to arrest another man wanted on a liquor charge.

Youth Charged With Passing bad Check

Frank Vanderpool, 20, is in the county jail having been arrested last night by the city police on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Vanderpool who resides near West Springfield is alleged to have passed checks without sufficient funds to meet them. One check is said to have been passed at a grocery in the West Springfield district. The complaint against Vanderpool was issued by District Attorney John S. Medley last week.

RANGER MEETING IS OPENED HERE

He being said about who was responsible for allowing the fires to start. The policy of the district office in the future will be to stress personal accountability in the future, according to Mr. Granger.

W. B. Osborne presided at the morning assembly, held on the second floor of the postoffice building, in the civil service examination room. Mr. Osborne mentioned, as the four factors influencing action of fires the following: (1) Relative humidity; (2) wind and draft; (3) volume of heat; and (4) slope of the ground. The greatest and most important of these, he declared, was relative humidity, measured by the hygrothermograph, a sensitive weather instrument.

Humidity Discussed

The factors mentioned are present in all fires, the speaker said, but he devoted nearly the entire morning session to a discussion of the humidity factor. Long periods of drought have little or no effect on fire conditions, Mr. Osborne stated, except when the water content of the air is low. Atmospheric conditions, except as they affect humidity, are of little importance. Disastrous fires have been known to start during a rainy season.

Other factors in the action of forest fires were further discussed at the afternoon session. A banquet at the Osburn hotel is scheduled for the visitors and other local guests tonight, and tomorrow morning the forest fire program will be resumed.

Those who were present at the sessions today were: Cascade national forest: Nelson E. Macduff, Eugene; C. R. Lockard, Eugene; L. A. Carter, Oakridge; A. F. Andraieff, Oakridge; H. E. Haefner, Oakridge; C. B. McFarland, Oakridge; Smith L. Taylor, McKenzie Bridge; H. J. Engles, Landau; A. T. Moses, Eugene; Felix Sparks, Blue River; Foster Steele, Eugene; Orel Brien, Eugene.

Umpqua national forest: Carl B. Neal, Roseburg; C. H. Thyrston, Jr., Roseburg; Ben B. Irving, Roseburg; Hugh A. Ritter, Glide; Fred Asam, Glide; Roy Van Schoiach, Dorena. Siuslaw national forest: R. S. Shelley, Eugene; M. H. Durbin, Gardiner; Arthur R. Wilcox, Eugene; E. S. Kerby, Mapleton; G. P. McCaslan, Waldport; L. E. Garwood, Hebo; P. N. Stephenson, Florence; H. H. Long, Eugene.

No Record Found Of Slugging Case Reported in City

Word received from Portland today to the effect that Wilson Verne Lively was slugged and died three weeks later, September 2, 1921, in Eugene, is not recalled by any Lane county officials. The query concerning the Lively case is a result of the murder of Mrs. Hazel Heater, who was killed with a gasp in her apartment Saturday night. The following is the message from Portland:

"Mrs. Heater came to Portland from Baker. Her brother, Wilson Verne Lively was slugged at Eugene and died September 2, 1921, after being unconscious for three weeks."

"There is no record of such a case here, officers report. No death on September 2, 1921, is reported at the office of Dr. S. M. Kerron, city and county health officer. The man might have been slugged here and taken elsewhere."

Board of Regents Members in Eugene

Sam Kozar, secretary of state, is in Eugene today to attend a special session of a committee of the University of Oregon during the afternoon, and an announcement was made concerning the business to be considered.

Action on the construction of the new Doernbecher hospital for which an appropriation was voted by Governor Pierce, is also pending before the regents. It is reported, money is available to complete the structure, it is stated, but not for maintenance after the hospital is built.

Motorcycle Tops Summit of Butte

As a preliminary to the annual hill climb of the Eugene Motorcycle association to be held at Mt. David near Cottage Grove Sunday May 31, an Indian motorcycle driven by Yale Smith was sent up the side of Skinner butte yesterday afternoon and topped the summit east of the Oregon "O." A Star car made the trip to the top of the butte Saturday and this seemed to start action among the motorcycle enthusiasts. The hill at Mt. David has a length of 350 feet and a grade of 47 per cent. The time record so far is 15 seconds. The motorcycle riders are to issue a challenge to motor car dealers to attempt this hill, it is announced.

Yale Smith Named In Fire Complaint

Alleging that Yale Smith of the Smith Cycle company, is violating the city ordinance by operating a stove with the pipe leading through a window of the Cooper building at Tenth avenue and Oak street, W. E. Nisbaum, fire chief, appeared before Judge George A. Gilmore in city court today and swore out a warrant for Smith's arrest.

The warrant was to be served upon the defendant this afternoon, and Judge Gilmore will hear the plea. The fire chief declares the action resulted only after repeated warnings to the alleged offender.

Judge Skipworth Back From Benton

Judge G. F. Skipworth has returned from Corvallis where he has been hearing cases in the Benton county circuit court for the past week. Motion day is scheduled for the circuit court in Lane tomorrow. The regular court term will be resumed next Monday when Judge Kendall of Coos county will hear cases. There will be no new grand jury here until May, Judge Skipworth states. The first case on the docket next Monday is that of the state versus Carl Leabo.

Mapleton Road to Undergo Widening

Reports on the relocation of the road through Mapleton and the recommendation that the route be 40 instead of 50 feet wide have been filed by the board of road viewers composed of J. M. McCausland, J. W. Hobbs and Frank Hampton.

The following damages have been listed: John and Lillie Doster, $198; Emma F. Kirby, $120; Gilbert and Clara Henager, $35; W. W. Nealey, $200; Scott Yount, $250. The 40-foot width was recommended as the 50-foot width would result in excessive damages, the report states. The realignment includes county roads 709 and 65 and 621.
