

115 RECORDS ARE BROKEN ON TRACK IN PRESENT YEAR

NEW YORK, March 31.—One hundred and fifteen world records have been made to date in the indoor track and field season, which virtually closed last Saturday night. Of this amazing total 111 records still stand, the others being superseded.

One Rookie Looks Well

Ike Kamp, Pitcher, Will Help Braves, It Appears

Ike Kamp (By NEA Service)

ST. PETERSBURG, March 31.—From present indications the best looking rookie hurler in the Braves' training camp is Ike Kamp. He was a big winner with Pittsfield in the Eastern League last season.

CHICAGO CUBS TO SEE MORE ROWS

CHICAGO, March 31.—More trouble for the Chicago Cubs seems lurk in the offing. It centers about Clark Pittenger, recruit shortstop, sent with Charley Root to the Los Angeles Pacific coast league club in a deal for the veteran Jimmy McAuley.

Pittenger says he left his Dayton, Ohio, home and his dental studies at Ohio State University to get into the big show and it must be that or nothing. The trade leaves him with the Angels on option with provision for a recall on 48 hours notice.

The White Sox resumed their civil war in their Shreveport, La., camp with Harry Hooper's squad giving Eddie Collins' personally directed team a 3 to 1 lacing.

Billy Evans Says

By BILLY EVANS ST. PETERSBURG, March 28.—The New York Yankees, headed by the irrepresible Babe Ruth, are undoubtedly the most colorful aggregation in the American League.

After viewing a workout followed by a five-inning game between the Regulars and Yankees, I was impressed by several things.

First, the spirit of the ball club. There was more fire and "pep" to the practice session than I ever saw the Yanks show in a regular game.

In baseball, enthusiasm for the game overcomes many of the handicaps that arise. The Yanks always have had greatness, now to be augmented with enthusiasm.

There is a comradery on the team that makes for harmony. Star mingling with rookie on equal terms.

For five years the Yankees have had the ability. The reverse of last season appears to have supplied the much-needed asset, enthusiasm.

Urban Shocker, former pitching ace of the St. Louis Browns, secured in trade for Joe Bush never looked better.

Shocker goes about his work with a seriousness that in the past has been lacking. He seems to realize that this is his big chance. He's no longer a youngster.

Apparently the moment he was traded to the Yankees he began getting in shape. He weighs 178 pounds. Last year at this time he weighed close to 195. He works best at 175.

Shocker is evidently bent on proving to the world at large. St. Louis in particular, that Manager Huggins made a wise trade.

Pitching is a great asset. At times last season the Yanks were a bit shy on it. If Shocker can win from 15 to 20 games, and he should, the pennant chances of New York will be materially increased.

There will be a keen rivalry between Shocker and Joe Bush this summer. Pitching duels between these two should furnish some of the best battles of the year.

Other things I observed were: The speed of outfielder Earl Combs, despite his broken leg of last year.

The agility shown by Everett Scott at shortstop, who has 1294 consecutive games to his credit.

The excellent condition in which all the veteran stars of last season appear to be, the pitching staff in particular.

The work of Steve O'Neill back of the bat. He is in splendid shape, will be of great value in catching Shocker, and should be a big help to Wally Schang.

The "get-there" spirit of Bob Meusel, who has as much natural ability as any player that ever put on a pair of spiked shoes. Baseball is a serious proposition with Bob this year.

These things, as well as many others, will make it apparent to the onlooker that the Yankees expect to win the American League pennant but not without a struggle.

The NUT CRACKER BY JOE WILLIAMS

NO, CLARICE, when a ball player is caught stealing he isn't sent to jail.

Some folks go south for a vacation and they aren't major league ball tossers, either.

A ball player's life is pretty soft—except when he's sent to bat in a pinch—and strikes out.

Paavo Nurmi is like a clock except that he never seems to run down.

One of the toughest jobs we know of is keeping track of the replacement used in a spring exhibition game between a major and minor league club.

Cleveland has a pitcher by the name of Buckeye and oddly enough he doesn't come from Ohio.

As far as the bantamweight title is concerned, it seems to be a case of one champion after another, and the quicker the better.

But at that you've got to give the little fellows credit for being willing to risk their much-cherished crowns.

Reports have it that the Phillies are again doomed to finish near the bottom of the heap. But that doesn't cause much stir, not even around Quakerstown. Any'body is apt to get unnotorious.
