

FOUR PROHIBITION AGENTS NAMED BY WILLIAM LEVENS

SALEM, Ore., April 6.—William S. Levens, state prohibition commissioner, today announced the appointment of four state prohibition agents who will operate out of his department.

The four are R. D. Carter, Dan M. Jones, A. McFarlane and William T. Duckworth. Carter was formerly a deputy United States marshal and served two terms as mayor of Baker. Jones was formerly a guard at the Washington state penitentiary and has made his home in Walla Walla an inn Baker. McFarlane and Duckworth are both Portland men, the latter having served on the Portland police force. He was recommended to Levens by Portland police officers and Portland circuit judges.

Mr. Levens will shortly make a trip about the state to confer with sheriff and district attorneys relative to prohibition work. Later he expects to call all his men to Salem for a period of instruction. Among other things they will be instructed as to their legal rights in search and seizure and how to distinguish between state and federal cases.

Levens now has his office established in the statehouse.

AIRCRAFT TO TRY TO REACH ARCTIC

Irzy Willard and endorsed by President Coolidge and also will have both the financial and scientific backing of the National Geographic Society.

Thus having a private status and differing in this respect from the project abandoned last year for a polar expedition with the dirigible Shenandoah, the naval pilots to accompany the expedition will be granted an extended leave for the purpose.

Two Planes Planned.

Commander Byrd will be in charge of all flight operations. Two planes of the Loening amphibian type will be supplied, having a cruising range of more than 1000 miles and a speed of more than 120 miles an hour.

In charting the unknown regions, as well as the many other scientific undertakings projected, including high altitude temperatures and weather observations, Mr. MacMillan believes more can be accomplished with planes in two months than has been done in the last century.

Route is Given.

Leaving Wiscasset, Maine, about June 15, the expedition will make its way along the Labrador and Greenland coasts, up to the Axel Heiberg land, at the northern point of which probably 250 miles from where the ship will station, an attempt will be made to establish an advance flying base.

From there the planes will venture over the unknown northwest to determine whether land exists there. Such land probably could be utilized for aircraft bases in flight routes from Europe to Asia.

Explorations of the ancient Norse ruins in Labrador and Greenland, recovery of the records which Peary left at Cape Columbia before the final dash from there to the pole and extensive radio experiments for which Eugene F. McDonald, Jr., president of the National Association of Broadcasters of Chicago, will accompany the expedition, are among the other undertakings projected.

'NIGHT IN PARIS' PLANS ARE LAID

Every service club and fraternal organization in Eugene will be invited by the American legion to take part in the big entertainment pageant, "A Night in Paris," to be staged at the armory April 24 and 25, it was announced today by George E. Love, chairman of the committee on arrangements. Prominent citizens of the city, and state officials will act as patrons and patronesses.

"The celebration will be a grand carnival of fun, and everyone is invited," announces Mr. Love. "The executive committee of the legion meets tomorrow night to lay plans for the evening. Proceeds of the show will go toward aiding the disabled men of Lane county."

"Part of the money will also go toward support of the W. C. T. U. Farm Home at Corvallis, where children of a great many disabled men are being cared for. The newly-organized boy scout council of Eugene will also come in for a slice of the receipts."

the natural impulse of a people to do battle especially for their native land. The hope of obtaining large immunity from a war-torn enemy. The influence of glory and navy officers who foresee glory and advancement in war and the power of those in a position to gain as the result of a conflict.

The speaker was introduced by George H. McMorran, chairman of the program committee, who spoke briefly of the anniversary of the European war and the entrance of the United States into the conflict. The speaker pointed out the need of meeting questions that have arisen as a result of the war.

McKenzie Line to Be Reconstructed

Reconstruction of the McKenzie telephone line from Thurston corner to Highbanks, a distance of 2 1/2 miles is being planned by the Cascade national forest, and Smith L. Taylor, district ranger, is making up plans for the work today, with assurance from farmer lines in that section that they will co-operate with the forest service in the work.

How far the work will be carried on beyond Highbanks depends upon the amount of money left and speed with which the work is finished. Farmers on the telephone line near Eugene have decided not to co-operate with the government in this work, it is stated. One set of poles will be provided where heretofore two sets were required, on the Thurston project.

Later on the forest service will rebuild the six mile stretch of line from Nimrod to Blue River, as soon as the road work is finished.
