

CAMP DETAILS FOR GUARD TROOPS ARE RECEIVED BY UNITS

Detailed orders on the transportation of the Eugene national guard troops to Camp Jackson at Medford have been received by Major W. G. White. The tented camp of more than 70 acres has been named for Colonel James Jackson who served for 25 years with the national guard of Oregon prior to his death.

The Eugene troop cars will be attached to the train leaving Portland the night of June 11. This train will leave in Eugene about 10:30 the morning of June 12 according to present arrangements.

Field maneuvers for three days during the later part of the training camp will be featured in this year's gathering of the military units. These maneuvers will be participated in by the infantry, field artillery and engineers, it is announced.

Before taking the field for maneuvers the troops will hold a general review. The reviewing party will include Governor Pierce, Lieutenant General Hunter Leggett, who commanded the army in the Argonne, and Major General Mendenhall, who now commands the ninth corps area. A number of high officers will attend the field maneuvers.

Camp Jackson's populace will begin its working day at 5:30 a. m. with reveille, followed by calisthenics, breakfast and then drills and field instruction, which starts at 7:30 o'clock. Afternoons will be given over to tactical problems and schools for the officers and non-commissioned officers. The men in the ranks will devote the afternoons to organized athletics.

The recreational features of Camp Jackson will be provided by the Medford chamber of commerce and other civic bodies for the last week end. The city of Medford has agreed to take the entire command to Crater lake. The troops will leave Saturday, June 20, bivouac at Union creek, and complete the trip to the crater and back to camp on Sunday.

New Colonel Will Head Guard Troop

Lieutenant Colonel Eugene C. Mosberger of Woodburn, elected as colonel of the 162nd infantry, has been officially appointed to his post, according to orders received by Major W. G. White of this city from General George A. White, national guard commander of the state. Colonel Mosberger succeeds Colonel G. C. Hammond, formerly of Eugene, who was recently promoted to major general. The captains and field officers of the 162nd infantry attended the election meeting held at Portland Friday. Company C and Headquarters company of this city are of the 162nd infantry. It is expected that the new commanding officer will soon make a trip to the various units of his regiment.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

By MARIAN LOWRY

Particularly interesting of this evening's events will be the informal dance to be given at the Country club for members of the organization. The affair is to be in at eight-thirty o'clock. Mrs. W. E. Moxley and Mrs. Lawrence Mauer are the committee in charge.

The auxiliary of the American Legion is meeting for its regular monthly business sessions this evening in the chamber of commerce rooms.

Mrs. F. R. Wetherbee will be hostess to a meeting of the Congregational Ladies' Aid society at her home, 650 Eleventh avenue east, tomorrow afternoon at two-thirty o'clock. All the older members are urged to be present, and all new members are extended an invitation to come.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Christian church is meeting Tuesday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock in the parlors of the church. A large attendance is expected.

Mrs. P. J. Bartle and Mrs. C. E. Hunt were joint hostesses for a pleasant meeting of the Kozy Korner Klub at the home of the former this past week. Invited guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Ray Glass, Mrs. Baerman, and Mrs. Williams. On the first Thursday of May the club will have a meeting at the Anchorage.

Miss Blanche Holcomb entertained a few friends at a birthday party at her home Friday evening. Narcissal and daffodils combined made attractive decorations about the rooms. A musical program was given in addition to other diversions for the evening.

Miss Holcomb invited twelve for the occasion.

A most pleasant affair of Friday evening was the informal buffet supper for which Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Shelton were hosts at their home for the staff of the Siuslaw forest service offices. Guests bidden for the eventful evening were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Wilcox, Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Long, Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Paul N. Stephenson, Florence, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Durbin, Gardiner, Miss Winifred A. Kilburn, Eugene, L. E. Garwood, Hebo, George P. McClanahan, Waldport, E. S. Kerby, Mapleton.

Mrs. E. H. Peterson will be a hostess of tomorrow, having as guests members of America club for a luncheon and afternoon of bridge.

A meeting of interest announced for Wednesday evening will be that of the ladies' auxiliary of the chamber of commerce. The meeting will be at seven-thirty o'clock, a program and cards being on the evening's entertainment program.

Road Celebration Plans are Talked

Preliminary plans will soon be under way for the road opening celebration planned for the McKeanie highway some time in August, according to George Melvin Miller, local road booster. The federal road officials for this district have offered the fullest cooperation in the celebration plans and the event will be advertised throughout the state, it is announced. The site of the proposed celebration on the Lane and Deschutes county lines is 5200 feet above sea level. An 80-foot promenade is near by and those who desire may climb this and be just exactly one mile above the sea, Mr. Miller points out.

Tourist Trade not Heavy yet, Report

Although the city auto camp has been opened and preparations made to welcome the expected influx of motor tourists there has been but little activity so far as the pleasure seekers and others who may be seeking locations in Oregon have not yet taken to the road, according to reports at the local office of the Oregon State Motor association. But few tourists so far this spring have called at the office for information. The larger number of those who call at the office are traveling salesmen or men on business visits. A few of the more hardy "grays" tourists who start early and stay late each year on the road have been reported in.

"Compare it with others—it has no equal!"

ACTIVITY IN REAL ESTATE IS NOTED

Evidence of unusual real estate activity during the past month is displayed in a report of the Peterson and McCully office, which shows total sales of real estate through the office of more than $214,750, in less than a month's time.

Among the real estate deals announced by the Peterson and McCully firm are:

Mrs. C. H. Bilderback sold her apartment and lot on High street, next to the new Eugene hotel, to Homer Soules.

E. Terpening sold his lot just east of the new hotel to Homer Soules. The two deals give Mr. Soules outlet to both Ninth avenue east and High streets.

L. H. Seeman sold 75 acres of prime and apple orchard land northwest of Eugene and an improved 640-acre wheat ranch in Alberta, Canada, to R. E. Burns. The properties were exchanged as part payment on a business and apartment block in Laurel, Montana.

P. H. Peterson sold his River Road ranch of 187 acres to A. H. Hora, a recent arrival from Bend. Mr. Hora is planning to build a new home there.

Jesse T. Morgan sold 184 acres located about three miles northeast of Springfield, known as the Bruno Vitus farm, to Otto M. Memmes, who exchanged as part payment his two sections of wheat land in Montana.

Joseph Maughan purchased 12 acres in Cherry Land addition. Mr. Maughan is setting the tract to prunes and cherries.

Even other smaller deals made in the past 20 days by the real estate firm aggregated $38,750.

The activity of the past month is merely a forerunner of increased activity to come, according to the company officials. Letters of inquiry from the middle west, east, and south, have been sent by the hundreds, it is said.

Logs From Booms Sent to Coos Bay

Business is active at the log boom of the Siuslaw Boom company at Coos Bay although there are no logs coming down the river now as the water is at a low level, according to J. C. Faubus, superintendent of the company, who was a week-end visitor here. There are a considerable number of logs on the upper Siuslaw and Lake creek and these will be carried down to the boom if there is another spring freshet. If not this supply of logs will remain upstream until the fall. Considerable shipping of logs from the boom to Coos Bay plants is under way, the superintendent states.

Local Band Plans Harrisburg Event

Plans are being made for a concert to be given by the Old Fellows band of this city at Harrisburg Wednesday evening, April 8. The concert is being held under the auspices of the high school orchestra of Harrisburg and it will be presented at the theater, it is announced. About 25 musicians including band and orchestra members and vocal soloists will make the trip from here. The Old Fellows band is also to attend the annual convention of the state I. O. O. F. to be held at Ashland next month, according to pending plans.
