

BEST FLOATS IN PIONEER PAGEANT TO EARN PRIZES

By E. J. MOORE
(County School Superintendent)

The attitude of the world toward its so-called heroes, is changing. The brilliant one, the spectacular, the genius, who has caught the eulogium, the applause and the worship of the populace in former days is being superseded by the plodder the faithful worker who by perseverance and effort has been able to put things over by these very qualities.

"Peace hath her victories," rings loud in the estimate of the world today. It is following these premises that we are trying to honor those by the hardships and sacrifices of pioneers have been able to secure for their children and those who have come to live here, this great land of beauty and opportunity. Those who joined the white-winged argonauts of the middle of the past century and made the Pacific coast section the most promising of the great frontier of states, should be properly honored.

Lane county through its parent-teacher associations, its community clubs and its public school system is planning for a great demonstration on Saturday, May 9 in Eugene, in honor of the pioneers who made possible what we now enjoy as a community. The Pioneer School Pageant promises to be one of the most interesting and instructive demonstrations ever given. It will consist of a pageant or parade upon the streets in which communities and their schools will enter for competition floats or symbols of the experiences of the pioneers in crossing the plains or in building their homes or establishing themselves in the early life of the community.

Prizes Are Planned.

Prizes will be given for these floats or demonstrations as follows:

- First prize, best float $75.00
- Second prize, second best 50.00
- Third prize, third best float .. 25.00
- Fourth prize, fourth best float 20.00
- Fifth prize, fifth best float .. 15.00
- Sixth prize, sixth best float .. 10.00

Total $195.00

A high school (either public or private) a grade school in town or in country all in one building, or a rural school shall be considered a contesting unit. There is no limit on the number of floats for each contesting unit.

Best attendance reckoned on percent of pupils in school in line marching, or on floats:

- First prize $50.00
- Second prize 25.00

In case of a tie, the prize money to be divided among the districts in the tie according to the distance they are from Eugene. The one with the least away getting their proportionate share.

Best collection of pioneer relics. Given only to school districts, on display at armory:

- First prize $30.00
- Second prize 20.00
- Third prize 15.00
- Fourth prize 10.00
- Fifth prize 5.00

It is hoped that many of these pioneer relics may be contributed to the display proposed by the A. A. U. W. to be kept in a room at the University of Oregon for a permanent historical record.

History Essay Contest.

Five splendid memento prizes properly engraved with winner's names, for essays from high schools, aggregating in value $125.00.

Five splendid memento prizes properly engraved with winner's names for essays from either sixth, seventh and eighth grades aggregating in value $125.00.

A number of silver and bronze medals will also be given for essay writers.

These essays must be written on essay paper, one side only, in contestant's own handwriting. Proper credit must be given for any quotation used, in the body of the manuscript, and shall be judged according to literary excellence, historic value, composition, neatness of writing.

Harmonica Fad Threatening Saxophone in Portland Now

Witness a revival of the lowly harmonica—mouth organ! In Portland there is a harmonica orchestra. Twenty-three school boys are members and their services are in such a demand that it looks like the harmonica is ambitious to replace the saxophone. Here are three of the "musicians." Some play alto, some tenor and one Chinese boy booms a lugubrious bass.

spelling, grammatical construction, paragraphing, etc. Pictures, graphs and illustrations may be used without limit. No limit as to the number of words.

It is hoped special prizes may be added to any of the foregoing by individuals, clubs, associations, etc. Either cash or merchandise, or memento contributions will be gladly received; but the donors must designate for what particular thing they are to be given.

A pioneer is defined to be one who came to Oregon prior to the coming of the railroad and who came by wagon or by boat. Also a son or daughter of these parents who is 90 years old or older.

Program at Armory.

The program at the armory will start promptly at 2:30. It will consist of the reading of some of the winning essays by the writers, special pioneer music and impromptu speaking by the pioneers telling experiences, anecdotes and episodes of the "trial" or their early life in the country. There will also be representations of old time recreations and amusements, like the barn dance, socials, etc.

Further information and publicity will be given as the project develops. Many of the districts and communities are already making strenuous efforts to secure some of these fine prizes and the prospects are bright for a larger attendance and better demonstration than we have had at any previous pageant.

A committee from the Club of Commerce will call on the business men of Eugene early next week to secure their subscription to help put this big project over. It will take $600 in addition to the $200.00 left over from the 1917 pageant, which was put on in furtherance of World War projects. Everyone who was in Eugene at that time knows what it meant at that time and all will be willing to contribute toward having it repeated. From present indications the pioneer pageant will outstrip all others in interest and attendance.

Chamber Approves Labor Office Fund

Resolutions requesting that the city of Eugene restore the appropriation to aid in financing the United States Employment service were passed at a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce last night. F. L. Chambers, president of the chamber, will present the resolution at the next meeting of the city council Monday evening. Officials of the chamber state that the employment office is of great aid to the chamber as many inquiries received there from prospective residents asking about employment are referred to the labor office.

The directors also voted on the applications of 40 new members. The printing of 20,000 copies of "The Heart of Oregon's Outdoors" was voted. The proposed national monument of the Three Sisters was discussed.

THREE DEER ARE TO BE LIBERATED

Three deer which have been taken care of at Lane county farms are to be turned over to the state game farm and they will be liberated soon, according to Rodney Hoosh, deputy state game warden for this district. The deputy today received word from F. M. Brown, chief state game warden, to obtain the animals and take them to the farm. The deer are held by Carl O. Loh, motor route C; Mrs. C. A. Davis, Walton; and J. F. Boulter, Nait.

The deer were taken care of after being found as fawn but as they are now nearly a year old they are becoming a nuisance around the farms and are being turned over to the game commission," the deputy states. The problem of transporting the deer from the three farms to the game farm is quite a problem, the deputy states, and this afternoon he was busy trying to decide whether to crate the deer and carry them on the running board or attempt to tie them in the rear of his car.

Warrant Sworn out On Peddling Charge

Accusing W. G. McCune of Eugene of violating the city ordinance prohibiting the selling of goods by sample through a house-to-house canvass without payment of a fee and granting of a license by the city recorder, a complaint was sworn out for Mr. McCune's arrest in city court this morning.

The case is more in the nature of a test case, it was stated at the city hall. Police have had considerable trouble in the last few weeks with peddlers and, according to W. G. Judkins, chief of police, the ordinance either must be enforced or proven inadequate.

Courtroom Crowded For Leabo Hearing

Hearing of testimony in the case of the state against Carl Leabo charged with a statutory offense against a young girl continued today before another crowded courtroom. The defense opened this morning and late this afternoon witnesses were still being heard. It was the opinion of attorneys at the courthouse that the case might go to the jury before the end of the day although there was a possibility that adjournment would be made until tomorrow.

The next case on the circuit docket is that of the state against Fred Spores charged with possession of liquor. Charles Hardy is attorney for the defendant. John S. Medley, district attorney, will prosecute.

Tribute Paid Golf Course of Eugene

"Eugene should be proud of its golf course, one of the best on the Pacific coast for its size," this is the opinion of Carey Thomson, proprietor of the Thomson resort near Vida. Of the eight holes at the resort six have been engaged for the opening day, Mr. Thomson says. Many anglers have written in requesting data on fishing and making arrangements for coming. For the next few weeks there is a long list of sportsmen who have engaged services for the McKenzie fishing, Mr. Thomson said. "The water is in good condition and it looks like a fine year for the trout," the visitor states.

M'KENZIE WATER SUPPLY DESCRIBED

Approval of the bond measures on the special election ballot April 15 will assure people of Eugene a pure water supply adequate for a population of 50,000 in years to come, and at an added expense not to exceed 25c a month to each water account, declared C. A. McClain, superintendent of the Willamette river water, not only because its bacteria test was lower, but also because expansion was limited. The McKenzie project would provide the ten million gallons a day needed 25 years from now, the speaker said.

"The people of Eugene will not burden themselves by approving these bonds," said Mr. McClain. "The water board expects to take care of the increased cost by its rates, when spread over the 30-year period estimated as the life of the pipe, would be only a slight increase over present rates.

"If we take the initial step at this time, we will be assured of a better and purer water to start with, and one requiring much less chemical to purify."

Paul R. Kelly, editor of The Guard, spoke on "Worth While Things—and Service."

FIRE RUN MADE

The haunted house

Tales about it were as numerous as its dark, broken windows. Oaks shadowed it thickly; winds sucked through its halls. The shutters sagged and were ivy-eaten—the windows giving in to an emptiness at once foreboding, dreadful.

Excitement ran agog when the place was bought. School children huddled to watch the rooms renovated. A sign swung out: "Stop here for tea." Lights sprang up. It became a frequent pleasure to drop in of evenings. In time, the towns-people loved the place. The inviting sign, the cleanliness, the light banished fear.

Many a product you didn't know and might not have trusted, has become intimate to you through the clearness of advertising. Family standbys in your medicine chest, baking powders, extracts—products that might endanger if less than pure—you know to be pure because widely advertised. You are sure of their quality wherever you buy. You feel safe in using them—in using any product that invites, through advertising, the test that proves its worth. Your one-time fear is now a willing confidence.
