

IL CONCESSIONS DISTRUST RUMOR CAUSES CONCERN

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Published reports that the "Washington government views with suspicion and distrust all concessions provisions of the new Russo-Japanese treaty are causing great concern to high officials in the administration.

It is because of these stipulations that the Washington government has looked with suspicion upon the motives of the Sinclair concession ever since it obtained copies of the agreement and the supplemental agreement. Presentations made in behalf of the concessionaire by counsel are being considered in the light of these stipulations.

Secretary Work At Meeting In Klamath Falls

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., April 10.—Hubert Work secretary of the interior and the directors of the Klamath irrigation district faced each other at a public meeting held in Klamath Falls Thursday, called for the purpose of hearing general complaints by all who are discontented with the manner in which the government project in Klamath is being conducted.

Following the conference with the directors of the irrigation district, Mr. Work conferred with a delegation of the Sportsmen's association on the question of re-flooding the Lower Klamath lake and creating a bird reserve; and with a delegation of the local American Legion post which is anxious to have the secretary open seven thousand acres of homestead land in the Tule lake district to settlement.

Commissioner Mead said that the question of the Klamath bird reserve on the lower Klamath lake will be definitely settled into this summer.

"We are going to have a commission of experts from the University of Oregon and the Oregon Agricultural college to study the soil and all conditions in this land and whatever action we take will be based solely and absolutely on their decision," he said. "If they say that the land can not be reclaimed for agricultural purposes it will be converted into a bird reserve. If it can be reclaimed it will be used for agricultural purposes."

For downright enjoyment, "Excuse Me," shows for the first time at the Heilig theater yesterday, is one of the best shows seen in Eugene for some time. The film is filled with fun, and then, toward the last, there is a tender pathos that comes abruptly. The play, true to its clever comedy, ends with another laugh.

It is a story of a young naval officer, played by Conrad Nagel, who is on leave but who must return at once to his ship. His sweetheart, Norma Shearer, and he decide to get married on the train, after a series of fruitless attempts to obtain a minister before train time, and then the fun continues. Laugh follows laugh in rapid order from then on.

Standard ties, says the report, are still a drag on the market, as virtually no new business of this kind has been placed here for some time. With one exception, there are no stocks of any consequence on hand in the mills of Lane county.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—President Coolidge has replied to the Peruvian memorial on his Tacna-Arica arbitration award that as to both the Peruvian contentions concerning the plebiscite provision and the requests for additional guarantees in carrying out the plebiscite, the award must be considered as "final and without appeal."

The arbitrator is constrained so to rule with respect to the Peruvian representations, the president said, both under terms by which Peru and Chile submitted their dispute to arbitration and under the "general principles of international law." While his reply "well might end," with this ruling, the president said in deference to the nations involved and in the interest of a correct understanding and proper procedure under the award he appended "certain additional observations" with respect to the points raised in the Peruvian memorial.

Copied to the Sinclair concession, however, are two clauses which are regarded by high administration officials as disclosing the real purpose of the Russian authorities in granting the concession.

The first clause, which occurs in the agreement itself, sets out that the Eastern republic retains the right to cancel the concession during the first five years of the concession from any acts or declarations of the government of the United States of America that the latter will give support to the company in its concession of the said concession.

The second clause occurs in the supplemental agreement negotiated January 7, 1922, and ratified by the Soviet government on January 3, 1923. It also reserves the right of the government to annul the concession at the end of the fifth year after the date of signing the supplemental agreement, there are not es-

Improvement Seen In Lumber Market

The lumber market in the Eugene and Lane county district has shown considerable improvement during the last 10 days, particularly in volume, according to the current issue of Crow's Pacific Coast Lumber Index, received by local dealers this week.

California buyers have been placing an increasing number of orders, and there has been more inquiry and also actual business from the middle west retail yards, it is stated.

The Southern Pacific railway company recently placed a large quantity of ties and this has relieved the situation greatly, for some of the mills that were in need of cutting. Orders for bridge plant have been sufficient to meet the needs of the mills and prices are, if anything, a little bit stronger than they were.

Standard ties, says the report, are still a drag on the market, as virtually no new business of this kind has been placed here for some time. With one exception, there are no stocks of any consequence on hand in the mills of Lane county.

Indian School at Salem Benefited

WASHINGTON, April 10.—In accordance with its policy for increasing educational facilities for Indians, the interior department today announced that two of the government's Indian institutions, the Salem boarding school near Salem, Ore., and the Chillicothe boarding school in Oklahoma near Arkansas City, Kans., are to be enlarged to afford a complete high school education for the students.

The grades in each school will be increased from 10 to 12.

Here's how you can Challenge the Quality of any brand of Coffee in 29 States

It requires only a morning or two to test the quality of any brand of coffee in the 29 states where FOLGER'S GOLDEN GATE is sold. Just make the Folger Coffee Test—then you'll know once and for all what brand of coffee you will want to use regularly.

We make no exaggerated claims for FOLGER'S GOLDEN GATE because after all you are the judge. You are the only one who knows whether you'll like it or not. But how do you know you wouldn't like Folger's better than the coffee you are now using if you've never tried it?

Remember both you and we will be satisfied with the verdict because the best coffee wins.

Make the Folger Coffee Test

Drink Folger's Golden Gate Coffee tomorrow morning. The next morning drink the coffee you have been using. The third morning drink Folger's again.

A morning or two and you'll decidedly favor one brand or the other; the best coffee wins.

That's fair isn't it?
