Mrs. Bogart entertained with Mrs. F. G. Young, Mrs. Virgil Parker and Mrs. Mary Wheeler. Plans for the new historical contest among the high schools of the state, and in which students from Eugene high and University high school will compete, were outlined by Mrs. W. E. Miner. Report of the D. A. R. convention at Astoria was made by Mrs. R. C. Crow, and Mrs. John Ketsis told of the entertainment of the delegates. Eugene has descendants from the Puritans who landed on the Mayflower, soldiers with Washington at Valley Forge, and many leading colonial statesmen, it was revealed when each member gave patriotic reminiscences of their ancestry. Miss Ida Patterson was chairman of the program. Refreshments in keeping with Good Friday, the day on which the meeting was held, were served by the hostess.

Judge Gives Views— That home disciplinary measures by parents will go far to eliminate much of the present juvenile delinquency, is the firm opinion of Judge J. C. Kendall, of the Coos county circuit court who has been hearing cases here for the past two weeks. Judge Kendall declared today, following his direction to a jury yesterday to dismiss the case against W. E. Begg, charged with neglect of his children, that it was rather poor policy for people to bring charges against a father who takes steps to have his children obey in his effort to have them grow to better men and women. The judge said, "These charges presented in the case yesterday seemed to be unfounded. The father did take disciplinary measures against the children but they were in no sense to be classed as cruel and inhuman." Judge Kendall said, "The judge said that he is a firm believer in the old fashioned method of rearing children, strict discipline with parental affection and stern control over the wrong actions of youngsters."

Leaves for East— Professor W. R. B. Wilcox, instructor in the university school of architecture has left for the east, where he will attend the American Institutes of Architecture convention to be held in New York city. The convention which is an annual one, will be bigger this year than ever before. A large exhibition of work of various architects and students of architecture throughout the country will be shown at the convention in the Palace of Fine Arts, this university being represented by the work of five of the students whose drawings were sent back last week. Mr. Wilcox is a member of the Jury of Fellows of the association and for that reason has had to leave early for the convention whose opening date is April 24.

Co-Eds Demonstrate— Eight university co-eds, members of the advertising seminar group, are demonstrating a substitute for corn starch, at local stores this week-end. They began their work yesterday afternoon and are continuing their demonstrations today. Kap Kuhn, head of the seminar, is acting as sales manager of the product in Eugene. The product is being introduced to Eugene buyers for the first time. Eugenia Strickland and Geneva Foss are working at the Dice grocery, Margaret Vincent and Mildred Dinlap at the Edwards grocery, Mildred Berkeley and Frances Sanford at the Groceries, and Norma Wilson and Sybil McKnight are demonstrating the product at the Underwood and Elliott store. Creamed crab and tomato soup are served to patrons of these grocery stores.

Officers Promoted— First Lieutenants W. Norman Larabee and Earl W. Smith, of the R. O. T. C. unit of the University have been promoted to cadet captains in the local organization, according to the contents of Special Order No. 4, for 1925, recently received by Captain Frank L. Cain, of the R. O. T. C. department. Lieutenant Larabee was promoted to fill the vacancy left open by Waldemar S. Seton, who has withdrawn from school, while Lieutenant Smith's promotion to a cadet captain was to fill an original vacancy. The promotions are effective at the beginning of the current term.

To Address Girls— Miss Mary Josephine Shelly of the university physical education department, will leave next week for The Dalles, where she will attend the meeting of the Girls' league. Miss Shelly will address the girls of The Dalles schools Thursday, the 15, on the "Necessity of Physical Activity for the Health of the Body." Though the convention is only a local one it has become one of the most significant programs put on by the secondary schools in the state. Every year The Dalles high school sets aside three days for Girls' week and for the past three years the University of Oregon has been represented by some woman on its faculty.

Potluck supper planned— An outstanding event of the coming week for the American legion and the legion auxiliary will be the potluck supper and dance which the auxiliary members are sponsoring at the chamber of commerce rooms Wednesday evening. The affair is to be given at 6:30 o'clock. The affair is one of a series of similar affairs that have been given throughout the winter and spring by the auxiliary, and is for all members of the American legion and the auxiliary members.

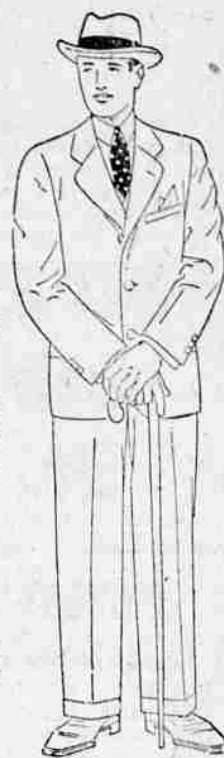

Noted Scientist Coming— Dr. Alexander A. Goldenweiser, anthropologist, author, and sociologist, will be a member of the university summer school faculty at the Eugene session this summer running from June 22 to July 31. His home is in New York, having been a member of the faculty of Columbia university for many years. In the summer session of 1923 Dr. Goldenweiser was professor of anthropology at the University of Washington summer session.

Oregon Team Leads— Incomplete returns for the University of Oregon-Stanford university radio debate show the northern team to be in the lead, according to an informal announcement made by the extension division yesterday. These include the
