

PORTLAND HITS IN SALT LAKE GAME. BUT BEES CONQUER

Portland players did a little better in yesterday's game—they got 20 hits and nine runs. The worst of it was, though, that Salt Lake, their opponents, garnered the same number of hits and twice as many runs. The final score of the track meet was 18-12 for the Salt Lakers.

Tony Lascaris batted out two home runs, driving in six scores. One of the home runs when the bases were loaded. It was Portland's ninth loss, with lost one win to count.

Vernon came out of the tie for last place by winning from Los Angeles, 4 to 0, at Los Angeles. The feat gave Portland the undoubted claim to the lowest position on the list.

San Francisco posed out Oakland by a 5 to 4 count, while Sacramento took Seattle down to a 5 to 2 defeat.

The scores:

At Salt Lake— R. H. E.
Portland 9 29 1
Salt Lake 18 29 1
Batteries—Winters, Rogers, Martin and Rowland; McCabe, Hulvey and Peters.

At Los Angeles—
Los Angeles 0 5 0
Vernon 4 9 0
Batteries—Wright, Meyers, Phillips and Spencer; Sandberg, Penner and Murphy.

At Oakland—
San Francisco 5 9 1
Oakland 4 11 1
Batteries—Mitchell, McWeeney and Agnew; Kaiser and Baker.

At Sacramento—
Seattle 2 7 7
Sacramento 5 10 2
Batteries—Miller, Grant and Baldwin; Canfield and Shea.

Results of Second Tourney are Listed

In the second tournament of the season, approximately 40 members of the Eugene Golf and Country club entered, according to an announcement of Todd Gardner yesterday. The tourney, run off last week end, was a half-swing take medal play event with full handicaps. Play was for 18 holes.

Dr. J. F. Titus won first place with a score of 77, his card showing 60, and his handicap 22. George Bronough took second place with 78, card 60, and handicap 21. Third place went to George McGill with 78, card 90 and handicap 12.

Fred Smith was fourth, with 78, card 103, handicap 80.

Rudolph Ernst took fifth place. His score was 80, his card 64, and his handicap 14. George Schaefer was sixth with score of 80, card 97, handicap 17. Dick Smith was next with an 82, a card of 104, handicap 22.

Sportsmen Ready To Whip McKenzie

M. A. Gunst, of the Gunst Tobacco company, the largest distributing company on the Pacific coast, is here from his headquarters at San Francisco to try his skill and luck against the well known rainbow and Dolly Varden of the McKenzie river and tributaries. Mr. Gunst, who registered last night at the Osburn inn, an ardent angler and has heard considerable about the advantages of the Lane county waters for trout. W. R. "Obak" Wallace, local cigar and tobacco dealer who also does some fishing, is to pilot the visiting sportsman to the haunts of the trout.

Spring Football Practice Closes

University of Oregon closed its spring football practice with a game between two picked teams, one captained by Dixon and the other by Carl Johnson on Hayward field yesterday. The game ended in a tie, 7 to 7, Bob Maas saving Dixon's team from certain defeat as he intercepted a pass in the last 15 seconds and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. He converted goal.

The team will be feted tonight at the Osburn hotel, starting at 6 o'clock. Besides the players, the coaches, sports writers and those connected with the athletic department of the university will be present.

Squash Honors Held

Jay Gould Champion for Steenth Time

Jay Gould

When it comes to retaining titles in sports, the old laurel twig must be handed to Jay Gould, famous Quaker squash player. Gould clung to his 20-year court crown by defeating Roger W. Cutler of Boston at the national tournament in Beantown recently. Like the old brook, he seems to go on forever.

Country Club Will Have new Tourney

A get-acquainted Scotch foursome golf tournament will be played at the Eugene Country club tomorrow and Sunday. This meet was scheduled for last week end, but was postponed because of Easter.

In this event, which is a handicap two-ball medal event of nine holes, old and new members will be paired. The purpose of the event is to get the old and new members acquainted and to get the newer members interested in the club tournaments.

The old members are expected to choose their partners for the tourney, according to George McGill, chairman of the tournament committee.

"If they have not already done so," Mr. McGill said, "the older members of the club should immediately select a new member to be his partner for the tournament. Two days are being given to play off the matches, and we hope to have every man in the club entered. As the name of the event implies, it is a get-acquainted Scotch foursome, and its purpose is to get all the members of the club acquainted with one another."

Big Baseball Stars

Walter H. Gerber, 1891, Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 18, 1891, Shortstop, St. Louis Browns Major League Career—Joined the Browns in 1917, coming from Columbus of the American Association (Had trial with Pittsburgh in 1914-15).
Outstanding Feats—Batted 281 in 1923. Fielded 552 last season.

OREGON VARSITY TO PLAY FROSH

The University of Oregon baseball team will play the freshmen two games tomorrow, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon, on the new baseball diamond, adjacent to Hayward field. The varsity was to have played two games with the Salem Senators at Salem tomorrow and Monday, but that series was called off because of wet grounds.

The Weltonites should have a strong team as there is plenty of promising material. Except for one or two seniors in the batting department the positions are filled with men who can sock the ball.

Catchers Good

Jack Bliss, letterman, and George Mimmough of last year's freshman team, are the best bats behind the bat. Both are good hitters, Mimmough is a former Jefferson high school all-star team two years ago. All he needs to make him a finished player is a little more experience. Bliss has had plenty of that, so the catching department should be well taken care of.

Adolph on First

On first will be Rex Adolph, of last year's freshman team. Adolph formerly played for Salem high. He is a good hitter and an excellent fielder. Howard Holson will cover second. Holson is a letterman and the most finished player on the squad. He has had considerable experience, playing summer baseball for several years.

The short patch will be assigned to Fred West by Billy Reinhart, coach. It will be West's first year on the squad. This pair will be assisted by Karl Knudson, two-year letterman, who played for Oregon several years ago, and Harry Dutton, Dave Adolph and Roy Murray, all three of the 1924 freshman team. Knudson and Murray are southpaws.

The Pine Needle club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. C. Markey.

COTTAGE GROVE

In the outfield, Reinhart will have Cook or Jones at left, his brother Frank Reinhart at center, and Karl Knudson at right. When Knudson will be in the box, Clarence Toole probably will play in the outfield in his stead.

The team practices every afternoon. When rain interferes the pitchers do their stunts in the gym. Oregon probably will have no practice games, other than with the freshmen.

Portland Trades Pitcher Eckert

PORTLAND, Ore., April 17.—Pitcher Charles Eckert has been traded by the Portland club of the Pacific Coast Baseball league to the Vernon club for infielder Charlie Deal, President Thomas L. Turner of the Portland club announced today. Deal refused to report to the Vernon club, but accepted terms with Portland. He will join the club here next week, and will be used either at third or first base.

Portland, April 17.—Prices for butter moved out in increased volume this morning at the 2-cent decline. The local trade had been accumulating large quantities for several days and had liquidated their purchases accordingly. Prices are now down to the 42-cent level. Reduction in the buying price of butterfat brings cream into the 42-cent level for Portland dealers with 40c paid in the county.

Cubs butter is easier on the change with offerings liberal and demand lighter.

No change is shown in 42c cream on the local board. Receipts continue good with the demand sufficient to take care of all offerings.

Most grades of flour are 20c lower in local market. Family patents are listed at $10.20 a barrel. Baker's flour $9.20 to $9.50 a barrel.

COMMERCIAL BULLETIN
BOSTON, April 17.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say: "The demand for wool appears to have broadened slightly this week and some speculative buying is evident in the air, but only at low prices. Nevertheless, the increase in activity thus far, is giving a better tone to the market. Some reports from the wool markets also indicate a better movement in fabrics, although this has not been reflected to any marked extent in this market."
"In the west there is more or less jockeying for position and a scattering lots have been picked up in a small way in the bright wool market at 49 1/2c, depending upon the wool, but as yet there appears to be no trading basis established."

The Folger Test invites comparison

All the claims in the world won't establish the quality of any brand of coffee. But your taste will. It will tell you the kind of coffee it likes best.

That's why we introduced the Folger Coffee Test. We want you to test Folger's against any other known brand of coffee. Then you'll know from actual comparison how quality varies with different brands. The best coffee wins.
