Writ of Review is Granted Contractor

SALEM, Ore., April 22.—Judge McAlison of the circuit court today granted a writ of review in the case of the state against Joe Polley, a Bend, Ore., contractor, who is accused with a violation of the prohibition law in connection with the seizure of a still. The case is being appealed from the justice to the circuit court.

When the case was called for hearing last Friday District Attorney Carson moved that the justice of the peace sit as a committing magistrate and bind the defendant over to the grand jury without hearing. The motion was granted and Polley was freed upon furnishing bail of $250. He has returned to eastern Oregon.

Church Unification Plan is Furthered

CHICAGO, April 22.—Twenty-seven conferences of the Methodist Episcopal church have voted 2420 to 241 in favor of unification of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, according to figures announced today by Dr. H. J. Wade, secretary of the general conference of the northern church.

Only two conferences of the southern church have voted on the proposition, the Cuban conference having voted unanimously for unification, while the Baltimore conference voted against it. There are 37 conferences in the southern church yet to take action.

Bobcat Bounties Are Collected

With the collection of the bounty on four bobcats at the office of the county clerk today a long string of seven days without presentation of a bounty claim was broken. With an extra state bounty on bobcats there was a big increase in the number of these predatory animals killed during the past few months but on April 1 the extra bounty was cut from $3 to $1.50. So far this month only 10 bobcats have been killed in Lane and five coyotes which is a very low record for this time of the year, the reports of the past show. The bounty today was paid to Walter J. Hager of Creswell.

Mrs. Ella Goodin Resigns State job

SALEM, Ore., April 22.—Mrs. Ella Goodin today resigned as acting superintendent of the state employment institution for the blind in Portland, effective May 15. State Senator W. J. H. Clark was elected in her place and Mrs. Clark will serve as matron.

The combined salaries for the two will be $2500 a year. The firm of Knighton and Howell were employed to draw plans for a new wing of the eastern Oregon state hospital at Pendleton, the cost of the wing to be $225,000.

CHARM OF FOLLIES TOLD BY MR. LACY

J. A. Lacy, advance agent of the Greenwich Village Follies, which will be at the Eugene Heilig theater May 5, was a visitor here yesterday, making final arrangements for the appearance of the troupe. He left yesterday afternoon for the north.

"They're coming on a special train from Santa Barbara to Medford, and will play there the night of the fourth," he said. "They'll come on to Eugene, will play here in Portland and Seattle, and then will start eastward again."

He told of plans of the company to tour around the world, taking two full years for the trip. They will leave New York on June 10 on the tour.

"There will be a girl from every state in the union when we leave on the world tour," he said. "And he, believe me, it's going to be some trip."

Mr. Lacy is enthusiastic over the production he represents. "When you see it, you'll realize what I say," he declared. "The show is one of the biggest and finest on the road, barring none."

There are 24 different scenes on the bill, according to the schedule, and some of them, according to Mr. Lacy, and among the prettiest and most effective ever tried on the stage. He told of the reproduction of the Beethoven "Sonata."

"It is one of the classical things on the program," he said. "It is so arranged that people in the front row, back row, top row in the balcony or gallery, all get exactly the same effect. It was difficult, but the producers felt it was worth while, and so it was done. The scene is very beautiful, and as the lighting effects reveal the setting, with the violinist and pianist playing the beautiful Sonata, it is really very, very effective. I know that it will be liked here as it has elsewhere."

The whole production is a "big, fast moving play," according to Mr. Lacy. "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean, famed throughout the United States, are not the only big artists on the program," he pointed out. "They, of course, are about the most widely known, but they have surrounded themselves with many other true artists, and the effect is somewhat startling."

Route Plans Pend For Forest Funds

No action will be taken by the county court on the request of a group of residents of the Fox Hollow district for road improvement work there. Funds that are expected to be turned over to the county court for road work from the sale of forest lands have not yet been totaled and until the amount forthcoming in the amount there can be no change in the allotment, members of the court state. An allotment of $5000 for the Deadwood road and $1700 for the Indian creek road were made by the court last fall with the view that when the forest money was available

Bean Growers of Lane Close Pool

Closing of the bean pool of the Eugene Fruit Growers association has been announced and now there are just two pools of last year's crop that are yet to be completed. These are the cherry and prune pools and these are expected to be closed in the near future, according to officials of the association. Although the season for all fruit and vegetables is about over there is some shipping going out from the local plant. Within the next week the canning of cherries will be started and some consignments of this vegetable are already being received at the cannery, is the report.

Seed Solution for Faras is Received

All Lane county farmers who desire to inoculate their alfalfa, red clover, pea or bean seeds with a solution prepared by the farm extension division of the Oregon Agricultural college may obtain this at the office of O. S. Fletcher, Lane county agricultural agent. Mr. Fletcher has received a supply of the inoculation bacteria and this will be sold at cost to all farmers. Directions for use have been prepared by the state college farm experts and these are distributed by the county agent.

Why are the American people so far ahead?

Wherever world-travelers come together, the amazing comforts of Americans are sure to come in for discussion. Why is it that the average American lives like a king?

To be sure, he has more money to spend than any other person in the world, but then he insists on spending it to bring better living to himself and family. Who knows what a subtle, but influential, part advertising plays in putting the American people ahead?

Advertising, by showing us new and better things, keeps us from being satisfied with "well enough."

Advertising, by making us want more, wakens the springs of action within us to get more. American advertising is a pretty substantial explanation of American advancement.

Read the advertisements. They call you to better things.
