Those chosen were as follows: Helen Dell, Lincoln Constance, Margaret Edmondson, Carl Klemm, Mary Klemm, Herschel Hoyer, John Campbell, Elizabeth Thacher, Elizabeth Wilmont, Bernice Phelps, Mary Alice Reid, Blanche Helmond, Lynn Hall, Cecile Mayberry, Theresa Young, Virginia Reid, Harold King, Donald Sheybe, Ethel Thiense and Marian Zuercher.

"Election to this society, which is a chapter of the national organization based on four ideals," says Mr. Jones, "These are scholarship, service, character and leadership." The students honored are chosen by a council of teachers of Eugene high school.

A small boy, whose name was not learned, was struck by an automobile driven by J. A. Dunwoodie, 1121 High street, according to a report filed by Mr. Dunwoodie in police court. The boy was not badly injured, it was stated. He is alleged to have run into the fender of the automobile from behind a gravel truck moving the opposite direction.

Bridge Dispute is Brought to Court

Suit to enjoin Henry L. Hunter, Glen H. Hunter and Floyd L. Hunter, from interfering with the use of a bridge across the mill race north of Franklin boulevard near Orchard street was filed today by Emma Jane Barrett. The plaintiff alleges that she has owned property between the mill race and the Willamette river since 1908 and that use of the road connects with the highway on Franklin boulevard is a property right but that the defendants have attempted to stop her from crossing the span which is the only road to connect with her property. The plaintiff states that she has kept the bridge in repair with but little assistance from the defendants although both parties have common right to use of the bridge. Whitten Swafford is attorney for the plaintiff.

Students to Raise Tennis Court Fund

Suggestions from the Eugene chamber of commerce as to the means of raising the balance of the money needed to build the new concrete tennis court for Eugene high school, asked to a communication addressed to the junior chamber of commerce of the school today.

An appropriation of $150 was made for the purpose at the last meeting of the school board, with the provision that the high school students raise the balance needed. It was estimated at first that the court would cost approximately $500, but later estimates were around $325. The students wish the co-operation of Eugene business men in the plan, and hence are asking their suggestions as to the method of financing it.

Marriage License Demand Falls off

If the matrimonial business does not pick up in Lane county soon there will have to be a bargain sale of licenses to stimulate trade, according to the announcement of G. N. Bryson, county clerk, today. Mr. Bryson this afternoon coldly announced that only 29 licenses have been issued up to late this afternoon in April and tomorrow is the last day of the month. This is seven less than in April, 1924, and 13 less than in April, 1923, showing a steady decline in the popularity of April as a month to venture into the realm of married bliss. So far April this year has the low record since February, 1924, in total number of marriage licenses issued, the figures in the county clerk's office show.

Merchants Plan Straw hat day

"Straw Hat Day" will be observed by Eugene dealers either May 7 or 15 depending on weather conditions, according to the plans being made by a group of stores handling men's wearing apparel. It is planned to launch the big sale of summer headgear with special window displays and features to inform Eugene and Lane county masculinity that the time for the light weight lids has arrived. Although summer weather has arrived, straw hats have not yet become popularized although one prominent local resident donned his summer lid today and went forth to show the world that Eugene's climate admits of early use of the straw hat. Frank L. Chambers is the first local booster for straw hat day and he did his part this afternoon.

Former Deputy to Face new Charge

SPRINGFIELD, April 22.—(Special)—Earl M. Cullen, formerly a special deputy sheriff in Eugene, who recently served a term in the state penitentiary at Salem for burglary, was arrested again on that charge yesterday in Springfield by Deputy Sheriff Van Svarverud and W. L. Priest of the Bureau Detective Agency. It is alleged that he forged the name of his employer, a farmer near Salem, writing a check for $44.50, payable to a fellow employee named Gustave Olson, and cashed at McMinnville. Cullen was working on the farm after being released from his two-year sentence on parole. The arrest was made at the local Booth-Kelly sawmill where Cullen has been working for several days past, off-hearing on this rip-saw.

WHITINSVILLE, Mass., April 22.—Police today began an investigation into the riot after a meeting of the Ku Klux Klan in North Bridge early this morning, when 150 members of the Klan were attacked by 200 men as they attempted to leave the meeting place.

State police were also considering the possibility of an investigation to learn the leaders of the attacking force which met the Klansmen with a fusillade of stones, smashing automobile windshields and otherwise damaging the machines. Members of the crowd claimed that several of the Klansmen were struck by stones during the fracas.

Ward was received at the office of Sheriff Frank E. Taylor this afternoon to be on the lookout for a Ford roadster reported stolen at Astoria and containing escaped prisoners. Simberly requesting that the car and parties in it be held here. Deputies are watching for the car this afternoon.

Alleged Check Passer is Held

W. A. Sanford was arrested by the police last night and held at the county jail for further investigation. It is believed that Sanford has passed several fictitious checks in this city and it was on this charge that he was arrested, according to county authorities who have custody of the prisoner now. Ward was received last night that W. A. Sanford was wanted in Tacoma for passing four bad drafts there on the Deluth Superior Loan company the same as checks alleged to have been passed here.

DAMAGE SUIT IS FILED IN COURT

Suit to collect $1200 as damages alleged due as the result of an automobile collision on the highway between Eugene and Corvallis, was filed today by W. F. Powell against H. J. Anderson and F. Holden. The plaintiff states in the complaint that he was driving toward Eugene from Corvallis February 29 last and that a Lincoln sedan driven by Anderson was towing another car with Holden at the wheel. The tow rope, said in the complaint to have been 30 feet became entangled in the steering gear of the towed car and threw it against the Studebaker sedan driven by Mr. Powell, the complaint states. The value of the car was reduced from approximately $1000 to $100 and the use of the car for more than two months amounts to $200, the complaint states. Charles A. Hardy represents the plaintiff in the case.

Moderation Plea Denied in Report Of Charles Wilson

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 22.—(AP)—The American minister to Bulgaria, Charles S. Wilson, categorically denied the statement attributed to British laborite parliamentarians visiting Bulgaria that he either officially or unofficially represented to the Bulgarian government the necessity for moderation toward those arrested after the bombing of the Strel Kral cathedral.

The killing of another terrorist suspect near here after a desperate struggle with the police is reported. Discovered carrying revolvers and bombs in two flower baskets, the man killed an official who attempted to arrest him.

Police traced him to a house, but he took refuge in a nearby canal from which, for six hours he held the police at bay. He was finally bombed to death but only after seven policemen had been killed.

New Zealand's Premier is ill

LONDON, April 22.—The condition of Premier W. F. Massey of New Zealand, who recently underwent an operation at Wellington, is causing serious anxiety says a cable message received by the high commissioner here from the acting premier, Sir Francis Hall.

"Although no official bulletin has been issued for some days," the message read, "I regret to report that Premier Massey's condition is growing weaker and gives cause for serious anxiety."

Moroccan Rebel Tries new Move

PARIS, April 22.—(By The Associated Press)—SI Mohammed, brother of Abd-el-Krim, Moroccan rebel leader, has entered the French zone of Morocco at the head of a big Parca, or tribal contingent, according to official information received by the French government.

Marshal Lyautey, governor of French Morocco, has sent a regiment of reinforcements but it is stated that the French will not attack the tribesmen unless provoked.

Extensive military precautions are considered necessary because it is feared that as soon as the feast of Ramadan is over, in a few days, the tribesmen's religious fanaticism will force SI Mohammed to attack or lose prestige among his followers.

SLIGHT CHANGE IN WEATHER NOTICED

Slight moderation was noted in the warm wave that struck Eugene yesterday. The mercury in the official government instrument at the Cascade national forest office recorded 78 degrees as the highest temperature for the day, as compared with 81 degrees recorded on the same instrument yesterday.

Forest circles viewed with alarm the rapidly sinking relative humidity, which reached 22 per cent this morning. This is in the extremely dangerous zone, for forest fire, it is stated, as even 25 and 30 per cent are regarded as serious.

The dry wind blowing from the east was changed to a cooler southerly breeze today, and indications are that tomorrow will be cloudy and unsettled, with rain perhaps the latter part of the week.

SALVATION ARMY AID ASKED

Wonder Work Done by Organization is Pointed Out

SUPPORT FOR CHARITY WORK IS REQUESTED

Commending the work of the Salvation Army in Lane county and urging support of the financial campaign now under way by the local corps, George H. McMorrans, past exalted ruler of the Elks lodge of Elks, issued a statement today.

The following is the statement of Mr. McMorrans:

"For a great many years I have been directly or indirectly connected with the charitable work of the Salvation Army, and in my opinion no organization gets greater results from the amounts spent than does the Salvation Army. They do a kind of work and reach a class of people which no other religious organization seems to reach. Their charity extends into a field which reaches those who are worthy, but who generally do not ask for assistance when in need because of the seeming embarrassment and humiliation entailed. The Salvation Army gives this assistance without advertising or advising the public who is receiving the benefits.

"The Elks lodge, of which I have had intimate knowledge for many years, is continually doing charity work, and this work is done entirely through the Salvation Army. When in doubt as to the worthiness of the case in question the Salvation Army is asked to investigate, and in each case so far as I know, the reports received have been just and fair to the persons or families investigated.

"From this close connection with them I can conscientiously say that any money put into the hands of the Salvation Army for charitable work will be wisely and economically spent, and every one who is able at all to assist need have no fears that their money will be wasted but should be glad to help finance the good work."

EUGENE, Ore., April 22.—(To the Editor)—In a few days the Salvation Army will launch a campaign to raise money to carry on its work for this year in Eugene and Lane county. All of us understand the wonderful and vitally important work which the Salvation Army does. Its work is something which no other organization attempts. The budget for the year is indeed a modest one and it has been approved by the advisory board of Lane county. I am sure that few would dare try to operate such a huge undertaking as the Salvation Army does on such a small budget.

I earnestly request that you be liberal in your contribution when the committee calls on you for a donation. You will be doing yourself and your community a great good in helping to carry on a wonderful and important work.

H. H. HOBBS,
Chairman Advisory Board

EUGENE, Ore., April 22.—(To the Good Citizens of Eugene and Lane County)—The Salvation Army will soon start a drive for a Home Service Fund, taking in the local territory of Eugene and Lane county and must raise the money by direct appeals to the public.

The special charm of the Salvation Army and the reason for the hold it has on the masses, is the freedom from red tape and favoritism, and by showing just simple friendliness and the desire to serve in the most practical and needed way.

Before the World War, the Salvation Army was held up to ridicule but pressed onward in the work of the Master. Living in poverty themselves, made so by unites sacrifices, they fed the hungry, clothed the poor, provided for fatherless and orphaned children—they lift up poor wrecks of humanity who have all but lost hope for better things. No one is so depraved but what the hand of the Army reaches out to save.

All this I know from actual co-operation with them in a like cause, since being a resident of Eugene. As one who by virtue of office has first knowledge of conditions of disabled veterans and their families, I have wondered at the heroism of the members of the Salvation Army in trying to make a dollar do the work of five in their efforts to lessen the distress that exists among needy ones.

Appreciation of the charitable work done by the Salvation Army than contributing generously when the solicitor calls at your door, can be expressed in no better way feeling confident that the money so given will help much toward alleviating the sufferings of the worthy ones in their distress.

Captain O. P. Strickland,
Salvation Army Headquarters,
City.

Dear Captain Strickland:
My investigation, as a member of your local advisory committee, within the past few days of the scope of and plans for the work of the Salvation Army in Eugene and Lane county this coming year, has convinced me that those plans and that scope are thoroughly sound and conservative.

I believe there should and will be ready response to your campaign to be made here for a fund of $3370 to finance your budget as laid before the advisory committee, and that the quota sought here will be fully forthcoming. Certainly no work for the poor and unfortunate, nor any spiritual work among the lowly can be more important than yours as I have come to know it.

Yours truly,
PAUL H. KELTY.
