

CHAMBER LETTER URGES INTEREST IN LANE SCHOOLS

Urging that the community take an increased interest in the school system of Eugene and Lane county and requesting support for the coming children's pageant to be held here Saturday, May 9, the monthly news letter of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce is being distributed today.

The following is the letter:

"Fostering community interest in our public schools and an unselfish desire to serve them better is another one of the suggestive activities for the chamber of commerce for 1925.

"The future of American business and efficiency of the American schools are closely bound together, for our schools are the preparatory workshops for business and directly touch the lives of one-fifth of our population daily. These boys and girls are constantly finding their way into commerce and industry as they drop out or finish their school work.

"From an investment standpoint our community business should actively concern itself with the efficiency of our schools since 42 per cent of our taxes go directly for their support and maintenance. Business men of today who were the school children of yesterday should and should have some very practical suggestions for the school children of today who will be the business men of tomorrow.

Competition is Told.

"The community must not ignore this fact and communities with vision and foresight will not for competition between communities is keen and the business men of tomorrow whose time and preparation is necessarily short, especially if he goes no further than the elementary school as 85 per cent do, deserves aid by rights should have this co-operation where this harmony and active support and service is not rendered. What is to be done? The answer will come only when the business men of every community actively aid in bringing the local schools to a higher plane of efficiency through direct personal contact.

Pageant is Praised.

"The business men, firms and organizations of Eugene and Lane county have not been unmindful of the benefits derived to the community because of this closer contact with our schools. Funds have just been furnished the county superintendent by the business firms of the city making possible a historical pageant in which the schools of the county take part. The Bankers' association through its members has actively carried out a definite course of instruction in the schools; and the chamber of commerce has willingly opened its files and given its services to students seeking practical information concerning Eugene and Lane county."

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

By MARIAN LOWRY

Mr. Paul Epsilon is to present his fifth in the series of concerts Sunday afternoon in the university music auditorium at four o'clock. The entire university orchestra is to take part in the program which is being arranged by Rex Underwood of the violin department, assisted by Guendolyn Lamphire Hayden.

Mrs. Cora Morgan and daughter, Miss Beulah Morgan, are visiting in Eugene with friends.

Miss Mae Kinsey was guest of honor at a handkerchief party given last evening at the home of Mrs. Thomas Rugh, the occasion being Miss Kinsey's birthday anniversary. Those present were Mrs. Marie Fleischer, Mrs. Beatrice Beebe, Mrs. Eleanor Coleman, Miss Eunice Zimmerman, Miss Ethel Christy, and Miss Julie Opp.

Mrs. M. Leslie is entertaining the L. V. Bridge club at her home this afternoon.

A luncheon at the Anchorage at noon tomorrow is among the events being arranged for the Young Women's Christian association officers and cabinet members conference being held on the university campus.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holden will be hosts to members of Monday Dinner club the coming week.

The L. O. E. has announced a meeting for next Thursday afternoon at the Elks temple at two o'clock. Bridge will be played. Mrs. Whitten Swafford is to be hostess in the card rooms, and in the dining rooms Mrs. Ernest Broders assisted by Mrs. Carry Cherry and Mrs. Allen Andrews will preside.

One of the interesting affairs planned for tomorrow is the May-day breakfast for which the seniors of Kappa Kappa Gamma are entertaining at the house in honor of their house mother, Mrs. Lettie Mowrey. Covers will be placed for thirty.

LOCAL RADIO CLUB TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Eugene Radio club will hold its second meeting at the chamber of commerce next Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock, announces A. S. Myers, president of the club. A constitution and by-laws will be adopted at this time, and reports of special committees will be heard.

The proposal has been made by members of the club to handle investigation of radio interference by means of special committees, according to the president, and this question will be up for discussion. Talks on various phases of radio by experts in the field, will be given to the club at future meetings.

Radio interference, according to Mr. Myers, may be divided into two classes, man-made or natural. "Electric power plants in the immediate vicinity," he says, "light and power transmission lines, trolley wires, X-ray machines, vibrators, elevated railways, transformers on poles, and various other apparatus employed in the production, transmission, or use of alternating current, sometimes cause a continual humming sound in the headphones and speaker. This type of interference may be guarded against by taking certain precautions in erecting aerials.

"The second class of interference is due to storms and atmospheric disturbances. Storms set up waves of the same kind as radio waves, and these sometimes cause clicking, hissing and crackling sounds in the phones or speaker. Such interference is called 'static.'"

Following the talk a dinner was served in honor of Judge Bales, to which Mrs. A. J. Adams, advisory matron of the police department, heard a lecture by W. C. Bales, noted authority on juvenile delinquency of Columbus, Ohio. The address was given at the state normal school at Lewiston.

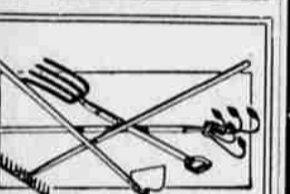

The ladies of the Fifth Division of the Methodist Aid society will hold a bazaar and cooked food sale in the Laraway Building, 908 Willamette on Saturday, May 9. Aprons, children's and infant's clothes, fancy work of all kinds, also Sunshine Silver Tishie, etc.

LOCAL JEWELERS TO ATTEND MEET

Local members of the Oregon Retail Jewelers association are receiving notices of the annual meeting of the state organization to be held at Salem Monday and Tuesday, May 11 and 12. A big program for the state sessions is being prepared under the direction of the state officers and the Salem jewelers, it is announced.

The following are the members of the state association in Lane county: J. A. Hoffman, Roy Curtis, Seth E. Laraway, Luckey's Jewelry store and O. L. Skeles, all of Eugene. F. E. Mendenhall and August Heinrich, of Cottage Grove; Tracer and Jaeger, Junction City; Stokes and Bowman, Oakridge; D. W. Roof, Springfield.

The Ideal Wife and Mother

She is the one who radiates health and happiness, ever ready for work or play, and what woman does not want to fill this role? When women are beset by aches, pains, irregularities and mental depression they not only suffer themselves but create a gloomy atmosphere in the home. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one dependable remedy to overcome such conditions. For three generations it has been restoring the women of America to health and strength.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING TO BEGIN TODAY

First assembly of annual state Y. W. C. A. cabinet council meeting in Eugene this week-end, is scheduled at the campus bungalow this evening at 7:30 o'clock, when Miss Peggy Boyer, elected president of the campus this week-end, is scheduled to deliver a short speech of welcome, followed by a greeting from Dean Eyster.

A discussion on "Our Concerns: What Are They?" led by Helen Andrews will occupy the early part of the evening. Miss Henrietta Thompson's talk, "What Has Religion to do With Us?" will conclude the evening session.

Reports have been received from three of the institutions to participate in the meeting. Following are the representatives who have reported: Joy Pierce, Lucile Holman, Hazel Gilbert, Alice Jess, Leon Wallace Moore, instructor, from Albany college; Dorothy Walker, Evelyn Saxton and Sophia Krall from Linfield college at McMinnville; Ina Gebe Windagle, Jewell Fields, Lois McCool, Gladys Buckman, Elva Slaton, Etta McCreight, Lura Jarmon, Ruth Gill, Agnes Haralson, Marion Needham, Faye Crawford and Rachel Storer from O. A. C.

Helen Andrews, general chairman, estimates that there will be approximately 12 students from Willamette University, two or three from Pacific college at Newberg and, if cars are available, 10 from Pacific University at Forest Grove.

Professors Write Many Articles

Geology and Our Civilization, Training the Salesman, Controversy as a Teaching Device, the Journalistic Type of Mind, Putting Punch Into Yourture, Can Science Make Gold?—these are titles of some of the magazine and special feature articles written during the past year by members of the University of Oregon faculty.

Twenty-four Oregon professors prepared important research monographs or contributed articles to magazines, both in the general and specialized fields, according to a report made by the University library.

In addition, books written by two members of the faculty were published during the year.

"Brains in Business," a volume for young business men, is the work of Mrs. A. Nagley, assistant professor of business administration.

An outline of Physics, a 250-page syllabus on general physics, is the work of Dr. A. E. Casswell, professor of physics and head of the department of pre-engineering.

4L LABOR SURVEY ANNOUNCED TODAY

A total of 91,712 men were on April 25 employed in 1235 logging camps and sawmills of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, according to a survey just completed by 4L, employment service headquarters and made public in Eugene here today. Of this number, a total of 6551 were employed in the Willamette valley district including Lane county.

The survey, which for the greater part is based on figures coming direct from the various logging and lumber manufacturing companies, covers both the Douglas fir and western pine regions.

Sawmills in the fir districts of Oregon and Washington at present employ 43,128 men, as compared with 11,129 men employed in the pine mills east of the Cascades. Fir logging camps now employ 27,998 men, and in the pine camps 6847 men are at work. Totals for both pine and fir districts show 34,455 loggers as compared with 57,257 workers in lumber mills. The compilation by districts is given as follows:

Delbert W. Kilborn, 713 Willamette street, member firm Green & Kilborn, men's furnishings, formerly at Dunsmuir, California.

C. K. De Neffe, Lowell Bldg., men's furnishings, formerly at Oregon City and Baker, Oregon.

A. M. Tripp, Lowell Bldg., meat market, formerly at Dinuba, California.

G. D. MacClaren, corner 9th and Oak streets, partner Eugene Hardware company, formerly at Stevenson, Montana.

F. G. Johnson, 9th and Pearl streets, garage, (successor to West & Sons) formerly at Severy, Montana.

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help until a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of May's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.
