

FINANCIAL REPORT GIVEN BY COUNTRY CLUB'S OFFICIALS

Assets of the Eugene Country club on June 1 will stand at $160,521.58, it was disclosed at a meeting held in the club house last night when about 55 members congregated for a dinner and general discussion of club affairs.

A financial report of the club was given in detail by club officers showing that the material assets of the club are more than enough to offset the value represented by the sum total of the individual membership certificates.

E. O. Immel, chairman of the membership committee, announced that the board of directors has decided to open the membership list to 70 more persons, making a total membership of 300 as was originally planned for the eighteen-hole course.

With the second nine holes scheduled to be opened for play by the Fourth of July, the board of directors decided to open the list for applications until Wednesday, May 20 at 6 o'clock p. m., or before that time if the membership being accumulated on the present nine holes, it is believed that the eighteen holes can very easily care for the proposed membership of 300.

Applications for membership will be considered in the order in which they are received. Mr. Immel announced that 300 is the limit to the membership and applications received after the allotment has been reached will be placed on the waiting list.

George McGill, chairman of the tournament committee, announced that an invitation to visit Marshfield for a return match during August on the Pirates' home grounds has been accepted. The Coos Bay men will meet the local club in Eugene on May 31, immediately after the completion of the Tri-City matches which begin at Salem next week-end.

It has been decided, according to Mr. McGill, that any member of the club may challenge any one of the twenty men selected to represent the Eugene club in the first Tri-City match. These challenge matches must be played off before Saturday. Any one refusing to accept a challenge forfeits the match.

A women's team consisting of four to six members will be taken to Salem to compete with the Salem and Corvallis women this week-end, and in all likelihood women's teams from these two cities will visit Eugene when the matches are played here on May 17.

George Hitecock, president of the club, urged as many members as possible to plan on attending the Oregon State tournaments to be held in Portland next June.

The local club was represented last year by ten men, and it is hoped to have at least 25 Eugene men in the tourney this year. Dr. Dale, one of the entries in the meet last year, reported that because of the liberal handicaps offered, an enjoyable time is assured everyone. The matches are played on the Tualatin and the Waverly clubs, the latter being placed at the disposal of the handicapped events.

Membership in the Northwest Golf Association for the Eugene club was urged by Robert Preckott. The Northwest Association, composed of the leading clubs in the Pacific northwest, offers courtesies to visiting players from the member clubs, as giving club privileges for one-half the normal green fees. Each year the association also conducts a series of tournaments consisting of the Northwest Open Championship, the Amateur Championship, and a club tournament of four man teams. Mr. Preckott suggested that membership in the association would be an excellent means to get the golfers of the northwest acquainted with the advantages of the Eugene links.

H. W. Martin announced that the remaining dues will be completed in the near future. Individual members have supplied a liberal portion of the funds used on the trees so far, he reported. Luke Goodrich, a non-resident member of San Francisco, donated the entire seventh tree after he had made the hole in one stroke.

J. W. Seaton has donated to the club a centrifugal pump to take the place of the windmill used to draw water from the well on the second nine. As soon as the pump is installed the windmill will be torn down.

E. O. Immel suggested that the members plan to give individual names to each of the eighteen holes when the second nine is completed. Names bearing some significance to the nature of the holes add an interesting feature to the course and are far better than calling the holes by numbers, he said.

George Hitecock announced that later in the month a system of checking will be inaugurated whereby every member and guest will be required to register before playing.

OREGON WINS BY RALLY IN LAST OF NINTH INNING

The fans and fanatics who were fortunate enough to see the spectacular ninth-inning rally by Oregon in its game with Washington State college yesterday on the new baseball diamond, when the Webfooters scored three times and overcame a two-run lead, will have something long to remember. Oregon won, 7 to 5, and Jack Elias, peppy catcher of the Webfooters, played the leading role in the baseball drama.

The fireworks started rather unexpectedly. Adolph, the first man up for Oregon, singled through the pitcher's box. It was a hot grounder which Pitcher Noland of the Cougars attempted to knock down, but failed. Wright batting for West flied to right and Freddie Harrison, who replaced "Skipper" Brooks in the eighth inning.

Nolan then proceeded to walk Reinhardt. Mimaugh followed with a single to left, scoring Adolph. By this time it was getting dark and the Washingtonians decided on a change in hurlers. Shelby, speed-ball artist of the Cougars was sent in for Nolan, who throws a nasty drop, but has nothing on the ball but his three fingers.

The strategy, had it worked, would have been commendable even for a John McGraw. Here, however, the strategists had a bad lunch, for Shelby walked Hobson, the first man to face him. And here entered Mr. Elias. He let the first one whiz by. Took a healthy swing at the next one and fouled to left, and then slugged a line drive on the third ball pitched to left, scoring Reinhardt with the tying and Mimaugh with the winning run.

Difficult Paving Job is Completed

Completion of the Nineteenth Avenue paving from Willamette to Lincoln streets, one of the most difficult pieces of paving construction attempted in Eugene for a long time, was announced today by Harry Devereux, city engineer. Guy Fyfe is the contractor for this work.

This work was for three blocks of concrete up a steep hill, the grade being 12 per cent, or more than twice the maximum allowed for state highways by the highway department. The new paving will be opened within a month, it is announced.

Plans are being prepared for paving of two or three alleys, says Mr. Devereux, and paving of University street from Twenty-second to Twenty-third avenues, and Madison street from Fifth avenue to Chestnut.

Concrete has already been laid on Eighteenth avenue from University to Agate, and on Third avenue from Monroe to Blair. Work on laying the South Willamette sewer is still being continued.

Despite the rainy weather, which always has a deterrent effect upon building permits, proposed new homes and remodeling work in Eugene, totaling more than $10,000 in approximate cost, were reported to W. H. Alexander, city building inspector today.

P. C. Walters is planning to erect two new residences, costing $2500 each, at 1233 Lincoln street, and 1283 Lincoln street, according to permits granted. J. R. Ford is the builder.

Other permits granted were as follows:
Mrs. M. E. Cays, $2000 bungalow, 840 Third avenue west.
A. H. Tiffany, $500 remodeling of store, 70 Ninth avenue east.
P. S. Chase, $500, remodeling of residence, 1167 Ferry street.

Oil Company Will Start Stock Sale

Decision to place on sale another block of $100,000 in stock of the Guaranty Oil company, operating here and at Cottage Grove, was reached at a meeting of stockholders held here last night. Permission to float the new issue has been granted the company by W. E. Crews, state corporation commissioner, who was here from Salem to attend the meeting of stockholders. This stock will be sold at par to present stockholders but par and one-half will be charged for all new comers into the oil investment organization, according to announcement of Dr. David Eugene Olson, president of the Guaranty Oil company.

The state official stated that the oil company had met the requirements of the state in the way of restrictions on the use of the money invested and that the 20 per cent paid to stock salesmen and the cost of drilling and incidental expenses were the only expenditures made and that officers of the company received no pay. It is said that $200,000 in stock has been sold since the company started operations here. The new stock issue is to continue the work now under way.

Travis corporation, secretary for the Lane County Credit association, before the class in business administration of the Eugene high school students the methods followed in collecting credit information and the need of this for sound business practice.

Slash Burning is Hard to Control

Extreme dryness of the air and a high wind gave Western Lumber company workers at Westfir a hard battle yesterday afternoon to control their slash burning. It is reported by Nelson F. Macduff, supervisor of the Cascade national forest. This was the second period of forest fire danger this year, the humidity reading being 33 per cent.

T. T. Minger, director of the Pacific Northwest forest, experiment station of Portland arrived in Eugene, and went to Westfir today for short visit. He expects to go to Wendling tomorrow with Norman G. Jacobson, forester for the Western Forestry and Conservation association.
