

FRENCH HERO OF VERDUN DIES AT PARIS, AGED 58

PARIS, May 12.—(AP)—General Charles Mangin, French hero of Verdun, died today.

Charles Marie Emmanuel Mangin, born at Sarrebourg on July 6, 1869, was one of the military leaders, with a lifelong training as a soldier, who proved a bulwark of strength for France in repelling the German invasion during the World war.

Shortly after the outbreak of the war, he was placed in command of the Fifth infantry division and later of the 11th army corps.

His temporary rank of General was made permanent just before his brilliant attack in Verdun in October, 1916, which resulted in the recapture from the Germans of Fort Douaumont.

Later he became involved in the bitter controversy which followed the costly victory on the Aisne in the spring of 1917 and was deprived of his command of the sixth army.

A commission of inquiry however, exonerated him from blame and he was reinstated by Clemenceau. In July, 1918, in conjunction with General DeGontie he carried out the great counter-offensive against the German right flank which brought the first of the final series of allied successes.

After the war, he was made a member of the Inter-war council and was decorated with the grand cross of the legion of honor.

BUDGET PLANS FOR UNIVERSITY READY

A full report of the progress of the University of Oregon under the present budget is to be prepared tonight or early tomorrow morning, according to Karl Outhank, executive secretary to the university, who is meeting with Dean Henry D. Sheldon of the school of education and Ralph Casey of the school of journalism. The report will furnish the facts underlying the recent flurry in regard to university expansion, according to Mr. Outhank.

"We are still living within our income," he said. "But the margin for building is very small, since the prospective current expenses have caught up to the 1925-26 appropriations." No consideration of 1927-28 plans will be made, Mr. Outhank said, the report being concerned with expenditures under the present budget. A definite report on the condition cannot be made until after the meeting and consideration of all the facts, Mr. Outhank declared.

'CREATION' TO BE GIVEN THIS WEEK

Undoubtedly the production of "The Creation" on Friday and Saturday nights of this week is Eugene's biggest musical event of the year. "The Creation" is one of Haydn's most famous Oratorios. It is delightfully tuneful and very singable. It is the kind of music one remembers and recognizes again.

This Oratorio has not been sung in Eugene since 1899 when it was produced under the direction of the late Gifford Nash. It is interesting to note that several members of the present Oratorio society also sang in the former production.

Those who have never heard "The Creation" will have the opportunity of listening to it under the most advantageous conditions, and those who have enjoyed the privilege will undoubtedly be eager to hear again sung by this skilled chorus of 170 voices under the direction of John Stark Evans. Those who know Mr. Evans' work realize that a finished production is in store for them.

The solos are exacting, requiring not only singing ability but large range of voice as well. Mr. Christopher is a real bass and unquestionably amply adequate to sing his difficult bass role. Mrs. Albert and Mr. Pilcher have also been carefully selected as the singers suited to this occasion.

No chorus of ordinary ability could sing this Oratorio with its intricate weaving of voice parts. In addition Mr. Evans is a leader whose inspiration and skill have turned to good account all of the musical equipment of this choral group.

Taxi Driver Will Be Heard Saturday

Hearing of Jerry Cobb, taxi driver for the Black and White Taxi company, on a charge of reckless driving, has been continued by Judge George A. Gilmore of municipal court until Saturday, he announced today.

The driver was arrested by A. H. Shortes, city traffic officer. According to the accident records in the chief of police's office, Cobb was involved in a collision with Joe Hart of motor route A, at Sixth and Lawrence, this week.

A. J. Kirby, another driver for the same company, paid a fine of $5 for reckless driving this week, according to Judge Gilmore.

This is the last of a series of talks given by members of the Lane County Bankers' association at the Eugene high school and the grade schools of the city during the past few months. Several talks were also given at various county school districts, according to M. Ethel Taylor, chairman of the committee in charge of the program.

ACTION FILED HERE OVER TIMBER SALE

Suit to have a contract annulled was filed today by the Mapleton Timber company against the Lawson Creek Logging company. The plaintiff alleges that a contract was entered into with the defendant company Aug. 19, 1922, whereby the latter was to cut 8,000,000 board feet of timber per year from the holdings of the plaintiff company at the rate of $2.50 per thousand. The defendant concurs was also to pay all taxes on the lands.

This contract has not been fulfilled and a total of only 5,000,000 feet has been cut subsequent to 90 days after the signing of the contract, it is alleged. The plaintiff alleges that $5,271.84 is due on the contract. The plaintiff asks that the defendant be enjoined from the use of the land.

RUM RUNNERS TO TRY OUT PACIFIC

Fog Falls to Aid.
Fog has failed to aid the die-hard of the rum fleet that still linger off New York. No running of the blockade had been reported in two days of heavy mist. To prevent the fog helping rum row the dry navy sent 14 additional armed craft out of New London.

The increasing activities of the coast guard is being supplemented by considerable sponging up of liquor that leaked ashore. Michigan state police have seized 360 cases of Canadian beer in boat-houses near Mount Clemens. Eight more saloons have been closed by federal padlocks in New York and a plant that did a large business in cutting and distributing rye whiskey has been raided.

Rates Go Down
Up in Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, whence have come many of the craft that have sold liquor for thirsty New Yorkers in the last four years, liquor could be bought cheaply from two schooners if the Canadian authorities would permit it. Whiskey was offered on board yesterday at $12 a case and champagne at correspondingly low rates. Presumably the vessels came from off the New York coast, driven home by lack of customers and need of food and water. They did no business, however, as two Canadian revenue cutters stood by.

In the annual report of the department of commerce, published today, Secretary Hoover, in statistics on the country's foreign trade, last year, gives $40,000,000 as an estimate of the cost of bootlegging foreign liquor. Officials connected with the customs service are said to regard this as a low estimate.

KLAMATH RAIL FIGHT FLARES

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., May 12.—(AP)—Another attempt to grant the Strahorn railroad franchise rights to cross Klamath Falls streets without the common-user clause, was made at the city council meeting last night, when a franchise resolution was adopted by a vote of three to two.

Mayor Fred Goddard announced that he would promptly veto the resolution by next Monday night.

I. C. Groesbeck, representing the railroad, declared that "Hades will be frozen over 1,000 years before he will grant a common-user over any of our lines."

Mayor Goddard urged the council to take steps to have the interstate commerce commission intervene on behalf of the city of Klamath Falls in the event the Strahorn line sells out to some larger railroad. The city of Klamath Falls gave Robert E. Strahorn $200,000 when he first started his railroad in this county, and if plans to sell to the Southern Pacific or some other road, the mayor wants the city to get back its $200,000 which it invested as a partner with the pioneer railroad builder.
