OREGON STUDENTS ELECT WEDNESDAY

Annual student body elections of the University of Oregon will be held tomorrow. Usually for a week before the elections qualifications of candidates are the chief topic of discussion, but this time the elections have given way to the controversy now on between the regents and the state at large over the alleged suppressed news of the happenings of a certain recent meeting.

Two candidates are out for president. Walter Malcolm and Steele Winter. Malcolm was nominated at the regular election assembly last Thursday, but Winterer did not decide to run until Sunday, so Malcolm has a campaign lead of several days.

Next of importance to the presidential election is that for editor of the Emerald, the student daily. Four candidates are out for that office. They are Ed Miller, a member of The Guard staff, Jim Case, Harold Kirk and Delmer Johnson, reporter on the Register.

Paul Ager and Bob McCabe are candidates for vice-president. Doloris Pearson has no opposition for secretary. Freddie Martin, candidate for re-election as yell leader and Elizabeth Cady, candidate for the post of editor of Oregana are running unopposed. Other candidates are: Maurine Buchanan and Margaret Vincent, who are out for the post of junior woman on the executive council; Bob Klepp and Bob Love who are candidates for position of junior man on the executive council; Louis Carlson, Carl Dahl, Dick Lyman, Floyd McKibben and Ted Tamba, three of whom will be selected for senior man on the student council; Dorothy Abbott, Marie Gilkeson, Vivian Harper, Adrienne Hazard, Ellen McClellen and Jo-Ann Warwick, two of whom will be chosen for senior woman on the student council; Lowell Baker, Eugene Forestel, Richard Nance, Bob Neighbor and Eugene F. Richmond, three to be selected for junior men on the student council; Betty Beans, Doris Geraghty, Glenna Fisher and Jean Harper, one to be chosen as junior woman on the student council; and Bob Overstreet and Bob Stenzel, one of whom will be the choice for sophomore man on the student council.

Students will ballot on two propositions. One will be to tax themselves $5 per term, the money to be used to erect a basketball pavilion, to fix the football stands and after that to erect a new student union building, for which plans have been going on for two years. The other measure will be a vote on the adoption of the manager-ial system, which will include a manager each for sports, forensics and music to work in conjunction with Graduate Manager Benefiel.

FIELD MARSHAL NOW PRESIDENT

Reichwehr President Hindenburg reentered his motor car and accompanied by Chancellor Luther, rode to the executive mansion between two squadrons of cavalry.

The streets were lined with thousands of cheering persons as the new executive drove by.

When the president arrived at the German "White House" he was received by a crowd of several thousand and again the "Deutschland Uber Alles" was struck up.

Communists Shout

"Down with monarchism, long live the Soviet republic," was the shout raised by the communist deputies as the president-elect entered the Reichstag chamber. They withdrew immediately afterward and the rest of the ceremony proceeded without a hitch.

The president-elect left the chancellor's palace where he had spent the night at about 11:45 a. m. for the Reichstag building where the inaugural ceremony was held.

At the door of the Reichstag building Von Hindenburg was greeted by the vice-presidents and the administrative director who conducted him to the waiting Herr Loebe. The marble steps leading to the chamber were decorated with deep blue hydrangeas, the new president's favorite flower, with laurel trees on either side.

At noon, Von Hindenburg, accompanied by Loebe entered the chamber which was bare of decorations except around the president's table. Behind the president's chair hung a huge tapestry bearing the German coat of arms, which was encased in laurel wreaths interwoven with the republican colors of red, white and gold.

The president's table at which Von Hindenburg stood while being sworn into office was covered with a large republican flag and was flanked on either side by hydrangeas.

The inauguration took place in the presence of the members of the Reichstag, whose socialist members wore red carnations.

General Ludendorff, war compatriot of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, in charge of Germany's military affairs, was in his place as a Reichstag member—the first time he had been present since the new Reichstag assembled.

PEOPLE GREETED

BERLIN, May 12—In a manifesto to the German people, this afternoon, President Von Hindenburg said:

"True to the oath, I will devote all my energies to guarding the constitution and laws. Let us strive through honest, peaceful work to gain the recognition of other nations to which we are entitled and to free the German name from the unjust stain which still lies on it today."

The president added that his office did not belong to one clan, one religious persuasion or one party alone, but to "the people in its entirety."

MANIFESTO ISSUED

BERLIN, May 12.—(AP)—President Von Hindenburg after his inauguration today issued a manifesto to the army and navy. In it he said:

"To the wehrmacht (defensive power): The German people have placed me at the head of the Reich. According to the constitution I take over this day the chief command of the wehrmacht. I greet the army and navy with pride."

"From my seclusion of Hanover," continued the president, "I have watched the development of the wehrmacht. Straight ahead and undeterred it has led the German people on the only road upon which reconstruction was possible, namely, through hard discipline and loyalty in every detail to accomplishment and success."

"It is built up on the old principle of duty and sacrifice. Its activity is intended for the present and future, for the service of the people and the state, true to its symbol and the tasks imposed by the constitution.

"With unswerving faith they rely upon the German wehrmacht in my work for the Fatherland's peace and prosperity."

The Path of Thorns

Alice had a comfortable home with her parents in a thriving little village. She had the usual opportunities for wholesome amusement—friends—a sweetheart who was devoted to her. Yet she was discontented. Life was too slow. She longed for romantic adventure, excitement—a taste of what is called "the wine of life." Had she known the hollow mockery, the utter emptiness of the career of pleasure that beckoned her, she would never have made the tragic mistake that was to bring her such agony of mind and soul. Her story, "The Fool That I Was," appears in True Story Magazine for June. One of 18 big features. Get your copy today.

Mend Those "Shaky" Shattered Nerves

Nature throws out a warning when the nerve force is in danger. Sharp, darting nerve pains, sometimes called neuritis, sometimes labeled neuralgia, are a sign that your nerves need instant attention before grave results develop. There is a danger line across which you must never allow yourself to pass. Beyond this line lies nervous exhaustion, complete breakdown and, alas, only too frequently, mental disorders.

Countless tests and experiments have developed a sure aid to relieve cases of nerve trouble, neuritis and neuralgia. This remarkable discovery is based upon the science of Homeopathy, a branch of therapy endorsed and followed by eminent physicians and searchers of scientific truths.

This discovery has been given the name of Eopa Neuritis Tablets, and they have been compounded to give relief from nerve pain while acting as a tonic to the nerve cells in building up the entire nervous system.

Eopa Neuritis Tablets are guaranteed harmless and are free from narcotics, bromides and coal tar products. Your druggist will recommend them. Allen's Drug Store will supply you. Mail orders filled.
