

SUGGESTIONS OF MR. JARDINE TO RESULT IN ACTION

CHICAGO, May 14.—(AP)—The Chicago board of trade will start at once to meet the "constructive suggestions" of Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, made yesterday in Washington, Frank L. Carey, president of the board of trade said today.

Immediate steps will be taken, Mr. Carey said, in a statement to bring the secretary's recommendations to the attention of the exchange members.

Fluctuations New. The wide fluctuations in grain prices which caused Secretary Jardine some time ago to order an investigation of operations of grain operators had confronted the board with a situation entirely new in recent times, Mr. Carey said. He also disclosed that representatives of the board had conferred with the secretary last Monday.

"Long ago," he said, "the exchange made impossible the old abuses that developed into what are known as corners. For many years there have been no situations of that character for the exchange itself promulgated rules that prevented them."

"In the past six months there developed a situation that was wholly new to the exchange. Never before had the exchange been called upon to meet such wide price fluctuations in recent times."

Grain Beautiful. "America had a beautiful wheat crop. All other countries, with the possible exception of Australia, suffered shortages. A buying power that was world wide was thrust upon the exchange and this buying continued unabated for many weeks and to a limited extent is still present. Under the stress of such unprecedented circumstances the exchange functionaries remarkably well. If abuses, except if they were strikingly few when viewed from the great volume of business transacted. Nevertheless, it is the genuine desire of the exchange to correct any abuse that may be found, just as it has done in the past."

RADIO STATION IN EUGENE DISCUSSED

Erection of a high-power radio broadcasting station from the top of the new Eugene hotel was discussed today at the preliminary organization meeting of the Northwest Radio Dealers' Trade Association at the Osburn hotel. More than 12 dealers were represented from Eugene, Cottage Grove, Springfield, and other points, and next Tuesday night was set as the date for election of officers and final organization. The meeting will be at the chamber of commerce.

Harry Hutton, new manager of the Eugene hotel, has offered his co-operation with the plan to establish the station, and Mayor E. B. Parks is in favor of the move, according to O. V. Humrick, temporary chairman. The local branch will be the central office of the organization, which eventually will include every radio dealer in the Northwest, it is hoped.

Professor H. G. Tanner of electricity and radio at the university, spoke on the possibilities of such an association to the radio business, and the service it could render to radio users.

H. P. Curran of the Eugene water and power board, pledged the aid of his organization in helping to eliminate power leakages and causing interference to radio reception. If any kind of instrument or apparatus could be suggested to detect such trouble the company would be glad to install one for the benefit of radio users, he said.

O. V. Humrick outlined the purposes of the association, and stated that nearly every dealer in Eugene, Cottage Grove, Springfield, Creswell and Roseburg were signed up for membership.

Some of the dirt roads are not passable for heavy trucks and the hauling has been halted at many mills and camps, the lumberman stated.

CURRICULA WILL BE TALKED OVER

(Continued from page one) talled and a strong probability that much of its activities be transferred to the state college is the opinion of many of those members of the alumni who are strongly opposed to any withdrawal from the Journalism school here, which they declare, has been built up to a standard as high as any similar school in the United States.

The University of Oregon holds and supports its briefs, according to a story emanating from Portland and quoting Secretary Hedges of the board of higher curricula:

"1.—That the Oregon Agricultural college both by offering courses of an advanced or semi-graduate character in fundamental subjects, and by practically organizing a college of lesser arts under a dean, and by establishing non-technical majors therein, has taken the most important steps in becoming a second state university in Oregon, a step involving much duplication of courses established for many years at the University of Oregon.

"2.—That in the field of business administration, the Oregon Agricultural college not only trains hundreds of students in the basic courses of which it has a monopoly, but also duplicates all the work in higher commerce of a professional character assigned to the University by the settlement of 1913-14.

"3.—That as regards education, the agricultural college has recently included a considerable array of courses of value chiefly to non-vocational teachers and to educational administrators. This duplication, noticeable in the regular session, is particularly flagrant in the work of the summer school, and in the fields of physical training and art.

"4.—That the understanding with the board of higher curricula in regard to the scope and limitations of the department of industrial Journalism at the Oregon Agricultural college has not been lived up to.

"5.—That the limits assigned to the school of music at the Oregon Agricultural college by the settlement of 1913-14 have been greatly expanded without any action of the board of higher curricula.

The university is said to object to courses requested by the Oregon Agricultural college March 14, 1925, as follows:

School of basic arts and sciences—Constitutional history of England.

School of commerce—History of economic thought, concentration and monopoly in business, social psychology, social progress.

School of business administration—Domestic and foreign exchange, analysis of financial statements, accounting control II, accounting control.

School of vocational education—Secondary education, problems in high school administration, methods of teaching English, methods of teaching mathematics.

The University of Oregon also objects to Statistical methods in education, thesis and graduate study and methods of art teaching.

The university will ask of the board a decision calling for the examination of the education courses of the Oregon Agricultural college, summer school as to the following items: Graduate study for teachers, special program for teachers in music, summer school for athletic coaches including large gymnastics, dancing and theory of play and school room games, special courses for deans of girls.

G. White.

Snapp Brothers are coming highly recommended as one of the largest and best organizations of its kind in the west. Eugene will have the opportunity to see this organization, one week, starting Monday night at 7 o'clock, May 25.

INSURE WITH HENRY TROMP

Mend Those "Shaky" Shattered Nerves

Nature throws out a warning when the nerve force is in danger. Sharp, darting nerve pains, sometimes called neuritis, sometimes labeled neuralgia, are a sign that your nerves need instant attention before grave results develop. There is a danger line across which you must never allow yourself to pass. Beyond this line lies nervous exhaustion, complete breakdown and, alas, only too frequently, mental disorders.

Countless tests and experiments have developed a sure aid to relieve cases of nerve trouble, neuritis and neuralgia. This remarkable discovery is based upon the science of Homeopathy, a branch of therapy endorsed and followed by eminent physicians and searchers of scientific truth.

This discovery has been given the name of Epsa Neuritis Tablets, and they have been compounded to give relief from nerve pain while acting as a tonic to the nerve cells in building up the entire nervous system.

Epsa Neuritis Tablets are guaranteed harmless and are free from narcotics, bromides and coal tar products. Your druggist will recommend them. Allen's Drug Store will supply them. Mail orders filled.

DR. THOMAS GREEN CHAMBER SPEAKER

Development of former commercial clubs and luncheon clubs from the old idea of profit-making organizations into the newer ideal of service was stressed by Dr. Thomas Green, staff counsel of the American Red Cross, speaking to members of the Eugene chamber of commerce at its weekly luncheon today.

The change in these civic organizations' ideals dates from the World war, said Dr. Green, when it was found that public service was more needed than selfishness, and the best business was one founded on ideals of service.

A horn solo by Frank McAlister, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Balmanno, was the musical feature of the program. W. W. Bristow was chairman of the program committee.

Contract on Span Soon Will be let

Bids for the erection of the Shortridge bridge are scheduled to be opened by the county court tomorrow although so far there have been no bids submitted on the project. The county has also prepared estimates on the cost of the 123-foot covered span and if no lower bidder submits an estimate the county bridge department will take over the project. The bids for the clearing and grading of the McCullum gap road, the hauling of rock for the North Fork road and the rocking of the Green Door section of the Eugene-Lorain highway will be let May 15. Five bids on these projects have already been turned in, it is announced.

150 CHILDREN IN CHORUS MAY 15

One hundred and fifty Eugene school children of the fifth and sixth grades will be presented in a chorus, "The May Queen," by Meissner, at the high school auditorium Friday night, May 29. It is announced today by Miss Leona Marsters, supervisor of school music.

This chorus is the one for which the youthful singers have been training for the last three months, and will provide a whole evening's entertainment. According to those who have heard the rehearsals, the chorus will be well worth hearing, as an example of the high type of musical instruction being successfully taught to the children of the local schools.

Road Oil Methods Tested by County

Experiments with the use of oil on roads are under way today on the stretch of gravelled road of 500 to 600 feet between the Pacific highway and the Springfield bridge. This is the first time that the county has employed the oil method and a section of road that has a heavy traffic we will be enabled to determine the worth of the plan and if it is successful it may be extended to other gravelled roads of the county," according to Judge C. P. Barnard.

On the Swedish state railways conductors must be able to speak three languages.

High School Plans Musical Assembly

NOW DOES ALL HER WORK

Has No Backache, No Bad Feelings Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Drove Her Illness Away

Milwaukee, Wisconsin.—"I was in a badly run-down condition and I would get weak spells and terrible headaches. I felt so badly last year that I could not do any housecleaning. The minute I would lift or stoop it seemed as if I was going to fall to pieces. I told a neighbor how I felt and she said that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was surely the right thing for me. I took four bottles then and in the fall of the year I took three. I had been treated by a doctor but he gave me an iron tonic and that did not help me. It seemed that the tonic did not have in it what the Vegetable Compound did. That gave me the strength and ambition I needed and I have gained in weight. This year before I started to clean house I got four bottles of the Vegetable Compound and am taking it right along. I tell all my friends about it and how much good it does me. They can notice it because I have gained in weight. I weigh 118 now and do all my work myself again."
