PORTLAND MARKET HAS HEALTHY TONE

PORTLAND, Ore., May 18.—The better market is showing a good healthy tone, with high score cubes in demand for storage. Prices are unchanged.

There is a steady tone in eggs, with receipts and demand well balanced.

Country dressed meats are nominal. Demand is limited to fancy stuff along the street with very little choice meat in for the Monday trade. Advance at yards has also helped the hog market. Prices unchanged.

Poultry market is steady.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 18.—(AP)—The wheat opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1 3-4c higher, May $1.72 to $1.72 1-4 and July $1.53 1-2 to $1.53 3-4, was followed by some wavering and then by a rise to $1.72 3-4 for May and $1.54 1-2 for July.

After opening at 3-8c lower, to 1-2c higher, July $1.16 3-4 to $1.16 7-8, corn sagged all around to below Saturday's finish.

Starting unchanged to 3-8c up, July oats, the oats market later underwent slight losses.

Provisions were firmer.

WILD HORSES ARE TO BE PROTECTED

HELENA, Mont., May 18.—(AP)—Wild horse roundups, planned under much the same system as is used by some western states for jackrabbit drives, are being organized in several section of Montana under a law passed by the last legislature.

The law, which was hard fought on sentimental grounds by old-time stockmen and ranchers in the legislature, is designed to rid sections of the state of the small, wild range horses, commonly designated as cayuses, which are considered by stockmen as utterly worthless.

Farmers complain that bands of these horses, when range feed gets poor, sweep down upon the unfenced pasture lands in the agricultural districts, break down fences and damage growing crops. The livestock department estimates that there are 400,000 head of these wild horses on the Montana ranges.

Under the law county commissioners, upon sufficient petition, may designate a roundup foreman, who organizes the drive, impounds the horses gathered, records their brands, if any, and causes the publication of a notice under which owners may redeem such stock as they wish by payment of a small fee. The remainder are destroyed.

There is a market for about 8000 head of these horses annually. They are bought by an eastern concern to be slaughtered and the choice pieces of the meat prepared for export. Fertilizer and dog food are by-products.

It has been reliably stated that the amount of food consumed by Montana's worthless cayuses would sustain 2,000,000 head of sheep and 800,000 head of cattle annually.

Airplanes Move Miners Supplies Over Arid Areas

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 12.—(AP)—Success in the use of airplanes to carry miners and supplies to mining districts near Fairbanks, Alaska, and in the Pacific northwest, has resulted in plans being made here for speeding up a stampede into the Cassiar country of northern British Columbia this summer over air routes.

Dog-sleighs and pack-mules were pitted against freight-carrying airplanes for the time when the weather would permit prospectors to rush to Dease lake.

Reports of rich gold strikes in the Cassiar were confirmed at the start of winter. Canadian police placed a ban on adventurers making the journey, for fear of starvation during the severe winter and the possibility of freezing to death if an attempt was made to return to civilization.

A strange assortment of dogs composed the teams arriving at Wrangell, Alaska, preparing for the rush. The husky type, bred in the north, predominated. There were also Irish setters. A German police dog led another team.

King George Turns Down new Residence

LONDON, May 13.—(AP)—Disregarding ancient precedent set down by Roman emperors, King George recently declined to accept a legacy of Gwyrch Castle in Wales and $250,000 for its upkeep, bequeathed to him in trust by the Countess of Dundonald who died last year leaving an estate valued at more than $1,000,000. Hope was expressed in the countess' will that the castle would become a permanent residence for the kings of England and for the princes of Wales, but as the bequest has been disclaimed by the ruler the property will pass according to directions, to the Order of St. John of Jerusalem in England. The castle will be used by the order as a priory for residential and administrative purposes.

In connection with King George's refusal to receive the legacy it is recalled here that the Roman emperors, from Augustus on down the line, vastly increased their private estates, as was the custom, by means of legacies from their loyal subjects.
