

LANE COUNTY FAIR WILL SET RECORD OFFICIALS CLAIM

Plans for the Lane county fair are rounding into shape rapidly, according to C. U. Lee, president of the fair board yesterday. The dates of September 22, 23, 24, and 25 have been set for the occasion, and the premium list will be published in about ten days, he says.

More new features than ever before will be presented for the people of Lane county, and Kelly Branstetter is now negotiating for a famous line of amusements. "In addition to a larger exhibit space, with corresponding increase in displays, there will be something doing every minute from the time the fair opens until it closes," says Mr. Branstetter.

The grounds are already being put in shape. A rest cottage is now nearly completed, the fences are being repaired, and the track is going to be one of the fastest in the northwest. It is said. The high school manual training department, under the direction of Fred Chess, is building the rest cottage, which will be modern in design, and will have every convenience.

Racing to Be Finest.
A fast racing card, that will bring some of the finest racing stock on the Pacific coast, is now being made up, and will be announced in a few days. More prizes than ever before are being offered, and the number of inquiries already leads to the statement that this year will be a record breaker in entries and speed. Three days of racing will be held, it is announced.

The premium list, which will soon be announced, is to be all inclusive this year, and premiums will be offered for every variety of farm and industrial products. The displays will occupy the usual pavilions, which will be put in first class shape for the event.

Banner Fair Predicted.
"It will be Lane county's banner fair," says Mr. Lee. "Mr. Branstetter is already hard at work, and he intends to hustle from now on until fair time. We are open to suggestions for features, and we invite anyone in Lane county to come in and talk the fair over. We want this to be an event which will set a new record in the county."

3 DEPARTMENTS TO GIVE DRAMA

Music, art and physical education departments of the University of Oregon will combine talents for the production of a Dance Drama this year, which, according to reports of rehearsals, promises to be one of the outstanding events on the college calendar.

In previous years the drama has been produced by the physical education department alone. This year will be the first time in which the three arts will be correlated.

Rex Underwood's orchestra is now rehearsing special music to accompany the dancers. Professor N. B. Zane of the art department has begun work on the oriental scenery for "A Night's Mardi Gras," one of the three intervals of the drama. Costumes of dancers are being designed under direction of Miss Victoria Avakian, instructor in the art department.

Many art department treasures, including lace, bright scarfs and antique pottery are being loaned for the Mardi Gras scene. Collection of rugs and jewels and other properties for this act has been in progress some time.

'CHARLEY'S AUNT' SCORES GREAT HIT

It was thirty-three years ago that "Charley's Aunt" first brought forth gales of laughter with his, (pardon her) part remark, "I'm from Brazil where the nuts come from!" This internationalized phrase, along with a host of other expressions from this good old English farce swept down through the years, to culminate last night in a perfect gale of laughter at the McDonald theater, where Syd Chaplin has immortalized this role in the art of the cinema.

Preceded by a charming prologue which touched the heartstrings of those who have known and loved, or know and love, their college days, "Charley's Aunt" was all that was expected of it, however great the expectations. It was funny, and it was delightful because it is an artfully filmed presentation.

The story of "Charley's Aunt" is familiar to all. How the real aunt falls to arrive in time to chaperon a party of two touring young couples, and how Charley, under protest, poses as the aunt, is the essence of a funny situation as could be imagined. The stage made a great deal of it, but the screen, with the whole wide world as its limits, has given it its full due. How the heart of the director must have thrilled at the possibilities of the story!

The flirtatious old lady messes things up in general of course, but at last dexterously straightens everything out, and all ends in the liveliest burst of laughter of all. The "aunt" has a great deal of trouble keeping "petticoats down and voice up" but remains feminine for all of that. The real humor of the play comes largely from the lines, though the characters, from Syd Chaplin as the "Aunt" to three most likeable girls, all deserve due honors. James E. Page, who has done nothing but act the part of the stern old guardian, "Pettigrew" for several years, has found his place on the screen.

And a word more about the prologue. Though the only connection with the picture is that a university—Oxford—enters in, it presents one of the most intimate glimpses of days at Oregon. It is a charming moonlight scene on the old millrace—enlivened by songs dear to the heart of every one who knows and loves Oregon.

Liquor Violation Brings $400 Fine

A fine of $400 and a jail sentence of three months was the sentence imposed by Judge Harold J. Wells upon L. H. Riam of Santa Clara, who was found guilty of possession of intoxicating liquor in justice court yesterday.

Riam was arrested Saturday night at Blair boulevard and Pacific highway by deputy sheriffs, who fired a bullet into a tire on his automobile as he attempted to escape, they said.

INSURE WITH HENRY TROMP

THE UNION MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF Eugene is to meet at two o'clock tomorrow at the Central Presbyterian church.

The I. O. E. is to meet Thursday afternoon at the Elks temple at two o'clock for an afternoon of cards. Mrs. C. R. Scott is to be hostess in the card rooms, and Mrs. Harold Moore will preside in the dining rooms.

Mrs. Amos Wilkins is to be hostess to members of Wednesday Bridge club tomorrow afternoon at her home at 482 Lawrence street.

Westfir Theater to Be Ready in June For Grand Opening

Westfir is soon to have a modern up-to-date theater, it is announced. Work on the building is now going on, and the grand opening is announced for early in June. The house will feature moving pictures, but will have a stage equipped to play legitimate attractions, it is said.

The building, which is being erected by the Western Lumber company, will be 32 by 100 feet in size. It will seat 500 people, and it will also be built so that it can be enlarged when the occasion demands, it is stated.

Two new high-powered moving picture machines, electrically operated, have already been purchased for the projection room. First class pictures will be shown, and music will be provided for all presentations, it is announced. The theater will also be tastefully decorated and made comfortable.

The town of Westfir now has 600 inhabitants, and is steadily increasing in population.

HOURLY RAINFALL IS HALF AN INCH

Nearly a half inch of rain, heaviest recorded in one storm this year, fell in a little over an hour late yesterday afternoon, to the accompaniment of lightning flashes and rolls of thunder. The heavy rainfall came as a direct result of a short lightning storm, which is unusual in May in the Willamette valley. During the storm .45 of an inch of rain fell.

Streets in Eugene were quickly deserted as the downpour continued. In an hour the storm had subsided, and the sky was clear. There was no more rain in the evening.

The river has risen slightly in the last 24 hours, the depth reported by Gerard M. deBroekert, United States weather observer, this morning being almost four feet. The forecast for cloudy weather tonight and Wednesday, with probably showers.

$5000 Damages are Asked for Injuries

Suit for $5000 damages against E. G. Sutton for injuries received by Opal Barklow, 14-year-old girl, when an auto truck knocked a sign down on the girl last July, was filed yesterday in circuit court by Cora Barklow, guardian of the victim.

Mr. Sutton was driving the truck, the complaint alleges, near where the girl and her mother were walking in Franklin boulevard, when some of the timber projecting from the machine knocked the sign down upon the girl, rendering her unconscious.
