Beer Taste Will Soon Return for Experts in Brew

WINDSOR, Ont., May 19.—(AP)—Two questions heard with recurring frequency as May 21 approaches with its promise of 4.4 per cent beer in the province of Ontario are: "What does it taste like?" and "Has it a kick?" The pre-tasters, persons who have been privileged to taste the new beverage at the breweries, prior to its general sale, answer the first question in unison, "It tastes as good as the most critical could wish." From the taps they say, it gushes with oiliness, creamy effervescence. In the glasses, it is cold, clear amber. As to the kick, there is a wide difference of opinion.

Talk on Progress Heard at Meeting

SPRINGFIELD, May 19.—(Special)—Progress, as stimulated by human wants, was the theme of a talk by Ralph C. Hoerber, of the University of Oregon department of economics, before the Springfield Methodist brotherhood last evening at 8:30 o'clock in the church. Mr. Hoerber's talk followed a 7 o'clock dinner served in the church basement, and the regular business meeting of the brotherhood. Mr. Hoerber declared that man's wants are never satisfied in the aggregate, though individual ones may be. He declared that the duty and opportunity of the citizen is to stimulate a taste for the right things in the younger generation, whether in the field of economics or religion. Last night's meeting was the final meeting to be held in the church during the summer season. Plans were made for a picnic to be held the third Monday in June. A committee of William G. Hughes on location, P. A. Woodley on recreation, and Dr. W. H. Pollard on provisions was appointed.

Senator Day Dies in Portland Home

PORTLAND, Ore., May 19.—I. N. Day, father of the workmen's compensation movement in Oregon, leader in the planning of the state highway program and prominent citizen of Portland for more than 30 years, died suddenly Sunday morning at his home 771 Kearney street. Death was altogether unexpected. Mr. Day, 65 years old, had been in fair health and arose earlier than usual. He had been talking to his son, O. N. Day, about 10:30 o'clock and went to a room at the rear of the house to do some painting. A short time later he was heard coughing violently and a moment later he was found dead. Heart disease probably was the cause, according to Dr. Earl Smith and Dr. Fred Gullette, who were called. Mr. Day was injured in an auto accident about eight months ago.

Noted Theatrical Men Coming Here To Seek Locations

Eugene and Lane county have been chosen by Ben Piazza, manager of Western Vancouver circuit, and Robert G. Vignola, noted movie director, for their location this summer. Announces W. B. McDonald, manager of the Helix, who received a letter from Mr. Piazza yesterday. The visit will be for business as well as pleasure, for Mr. Vignola is to look over several spots in the county for possible locations for moving pictures. The Three Sisters mountains have several times been cited as an attractive background for western films, and Lucky Bay mine has also been mentioned as an ideal setting for a mining picture. In western Lane, especially along the coast, the country is declared to be ideal for locations. These will all be inspected, it is announced. During the inspection trips, however, the party will carry plenty of fishing tackle, and will be prepared to enjoy several days in the outdoors. The visit will be made in July, which will be in time for fishing. Mr. Vignola is regarded as one of the leading producers in the moving picture industry. He produced "Yokel" and "When Knighthood was in Flower," and other notable films distributed by Metro-Goldwyn. Mr. Piazza, manager of the Western Vancouver circuit, has made remarkable progress with the circuit during the past few months on the coast, and now announces that with the signing of a contract to furnish 100 houses of the West Coast Theater company with attractions, the circuit is one of the major ones of the west. Mr. McDonald, of the Helix, will be guide to the party during the trip.
