

STANFORD SEEN AS CERTAIN VICTOR OF COAST FIELD MEET

Stanford university will win the coast conference track and field meet which will be staged at Seattle Friday and Saturday, according to the opinion of C. R. (Rick) Morse, sports writer of the San Francisco Call, who was in Eugene last night, enroute to Seattle to witness the meet.

Mr. Morse expects the southerners to annex at least 28 points, taking firsts in eight different events. He figures Washington to finish second with 30 points; Oregon third with 20, Washington State and Idaho tied for fourth with 15 each; Montana sixth with 10, and Idaho last with 5.

"If the dope runs true to form," Mr. Morse said, "then Stanford should win the 440-yard dash, half-mile, 120-yard and 220-yard hurdles, high jump, shot put, discus and the mile relay. Washington should take first in the pole vault; Washington State first in the two-mile run; Oregon should win the broad jump; Montana the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes; and the Aggies the mile and the javelin.

Team is Promised.

"Stanford has one of the best all-around teams in the country. In Middle West, Richardson should win the half-mile with ease. Leister is a better hurdler than any that the northern teams can produce. Work has been jumping over 6 feet 3 inches and if anywhere near form should take that event. Hartranft, world's champion discus tosser, ought not to have any difficulty in breaking the coast record in that event and in the shot put. I also expect the Stanford relay team to nose out both the Washington and the Oregon relay squads, although the two northern teams may split the beans if hard pressed."

Mr. Morse expects Flannagan of Oregon to break the coast conference record in the broad jump. Sweet of Montana has been making the fastest times in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and he hopes the Grizzly runner to win these events. Ellertson of the Aggies in the javelin, and Clayton of the Aggies in the mile, should register N. 1, in Mr. Morse's opinion.

Vaulters Are Picked.

Devine of Washington State is hoped to win the two-mile pole vault, although Mr. Morse admitted that picking the pole vault victors would be the hardest task as all the participants have been erratic.

Mr. Morse picks the Oregon men to finish as follows:

Kinney, second in the 440-yard dash; Extra, fourth in the 100-yard dash; Kelsey, third in the low hurdles; Cleaver, fourth in the low hurdles; Eby, fourth in the high jump; Flannagan, first in the broad jump; Rosenberg, fourth on the pole vault and third in the javelin, and the mile relay team third.

Records that are in danger of being tied or broken, are the 100-yard dash, made by Kieksey, Stanford, 1920, and Huxley, Washington, 1921—time, 14.5; the 220-yard dash, by Kieksey, Stanford—time, 21.3.5; the 440-yard dash by Hendrickson, California, 1920—time, 49.3.5; mile run by Wakeley, Oregon, 1921—time, 4:28; two-mile run by Gill, Idaho, 1922—time, 9:14; 220-yard low hurdles, by Wells, Stanford, 1920—time, 2:1.5; 120-yard high hurdles, by Wells, Stanford, 1920—time, 1:15; broad jump by Merchant, Cal., 1920—distance, 22 feet 9 1/2 inches; shot put by Pope, Washington, 1921—distance, 45 feet 8 1/2 inches; discus by Pope, Washington, 1921—distance, 148 feet 6 inches; relay by California, 1920—time, 3:24.1.5.

Turk's Record Sure.

The only records that are apparently in no danger, according to Mr. Morse, are Turk's (region) javelin record of 192 feet 8 inches, made in 1921; Jenne's (Washington) State pole vault record of 13 feet 5.8 inches, made in 1920; and Templeton's (Stanford) high jump mark of 6 feet 3.3-16 inches, made in 1920.

As far as the field events go, Mr. Morse was confident that Flannagan would break the broad jump mark, and Hartranft the discus and shot put. Whether any marks will be broken in the track events will entirely depend on the weather, he said.

The Oregon team, accompanied by Bill Hayward, coach, and Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, left Eugene this afternoon for Seattle, Oregon won the championship last year.

VICTORY OF MANNA HAS HAPPY ANGLES

LONDON, May 28.—(AP)—Manna's easy victory in the derby was sidetracked in the discussions of race followers today for some of the caprices of Lady Luck as exemplified in the outcome of various countries' sweepstakes.

James Carrow, employe of a Liverpool shipping firm, leaped into the limelight and sudden wealth when it was found he held the coveted ticket in the great Calcutta sweepstakes. He had sold two quarter interests in his chance for about $10,000, but will still be able to collect approximately $100,000.

H. Morris, owner of Manna, in addition to taking the derby stakes, is credited by the Daily Mail with having shared in the rich London stock exchange sweepstakes, worth about $242,500. The winning ticket was held by Drummer Graves, an insurance manager, and G. R. Bateman, a clerk, but according to the Mail, they parted with a half share to Mr. Morris for $14,000.

Steve Donoghue, who won his sixth derby yesterday, riding Manna, is the hero of the hour. It is reported that Mr. Morris made him a present of about 10,000 pounds.

BASE BALL SIMPLIFIED BY BILLY EVANS

THE bases are filled, there are two men out and three balls and two strikes on the batsman. As the pitcher starts to deliver the ball all the baserunners get away to a good start, the thought being to advance as far as possible if the batsman hits safely.

The pitch was high and wide of the plate, making the fourth ball, entitling the batsman to first and forcing the runner from third over the plate.

The runner advancing from second to third on the play overran the base. A snap throw from the catcher fired him before he could get back to the bag. This was the third out, ending the inning.

The runner originally on third had not crossed the plate before the third out was made. The question is: Can a run score after the side has been retired?

In this particular case the run scores, even though the third out was made prior to the runner from third legally crossing the plate.

With the bases filled and the batsman receiving a base on balls, each runner is forced to advance a base to make room for the batsman. The runner on third is entitled to score. It cannot be taken away by any act of a succeeding runner.

Actually the run was scored the moment the batsman received the base on balls. The touching of the plate was a mere formality.

ST. MARY'S DEFEATED

The St. Mary's baseball team suffered its first defeat of the year yesterday when it lost to the Y. M. C. A. boys' team, 14 to 7. Eberhart and Calkins composed the batteries for the Y. M. C. A. and Vitus and Colbert for St. Mary's.

The main attraction last night was the four round bout staged between "Slow" York of Eugene, and Jerry Murrey, of the Billy Edwards' athletic show. York was offered $10 to stay four rounds with Murrey, who is credited with 22 knockouts, and he not only stayed, but easily whipped the fighter. York had to overcome a handicap of about 20 pounds, but his opponent's size failed to bother the Eugene man. A large crowd witnessed the bout.

Other features of the affair that attracted a great deal of attention included Cannon Ball Bell, who does some real thrilling motorcycle riding in the devil bowl; the man who is apparently without pain, for he pokes nails into himself at will, and cuts fire; the circus featured by little Buster Ray, a 7-year-old acrobat, who is really a marvel; and the various thrill rides.

The carnival is clean, and provides entertainment for several evenings. It will be here the rest of the week.

BILLY EVANS SAYS

By BILLY EVANS

Left-handed pitching was expected to cut big capers in the majors this year. So far it has been more or less of a disappointment.

Prior to the opening of the 1925 campaign no less a distinguished leader than Connie Mack, figured that his southpaws would carry much of his pitching burden.

When I looked the Athletics over in spring training at Ft. Myers, Fla., Connie was grooming a quartet of "lefties" for a big season.

There was the veteran Fred Heilmann, apparently just about ready to break out as a star, "Lefty" Grove, the $100,000 beauty, Big Walberg and Stan Baumgartner, who had done well last year for the A's. In addition Meeker loomed up as a good prospect.

However, during the first month of the campaign, southpaw pitching was of little help to the Athletics in setting the pace.

Of the first 20 victories scored by the Athletics, only three are credited to the southpaws of the staff, Groves, Walberg and Baumgartner each winning one game.

Instead of southpawing the opposition into submission, three right-handers have kept the Athletics out in front.

Sam Gray, easily the sensation of the majors, has won his first seven starts. Gray is a sterling performer, destined to be a much talked about athlete before the close of the season.

The veteran Ed Rommel is getting away to a great start. He has won six of his first seven games.

Perhaps even more pleasing to Mack is the early season showing of Bryan Harries, otherwise known as "Slim." Mack figured Gray and Rommel to win, he was not so certain about Harries.

Almost overnight he acquired poise, the one and only thing he lacked. If Harries continues his fine showing,

The NUT CRACKER
BY JOE WILLIAMS

A FEW dramatic hours back Mr. Sande, who is no bigger than a cup of dynamite and twice as dangerous, took a dairy wagon horse and made a bum of one of the greatest fields that ever existed in the Kentucky derby.

Mr. Sande threw an inspired leg across one Flying Ebony, a four-legged out find with a victory record that was almost as long as Joe Beckwith's knockout list, and booted him home, five jumps ahead of the nearest exhausted equine (snags).

Even with Sande up the bookies figured Flying Ebony had about as much chance to cop the feds as a celluloid cat would have filling a three wheel vanderbilt engagement over the hidden circuit.

They offered $100 to one against him, or the equivalent thereof, which was much like questioning the value of a check endorsed jointly by Ford and the Rockefeller boys.

Whereupon Mr. E. Sande stepped out and demonstrated in an empty-pocket world that any bird who ignores the genius of a jockey in doing a race is not equipped with all his marbles.

It ought to be clear to everybody by now that Sande is the kind of a guy that can take the presidential hobby horse, or a hand-painted merry-go-round, and bounce it past the

McTigue to Alter Plans for Battle

NEW YORK, May 28.—(AP)—The elusive Mike McTigue is expected to change his style of battle tomorrow night when he risks his light-heavyweight title in a fifteen round bout at the Yankee stadium with the hard-hitting Paul Berlenbach.

Mike must abandon the defensive tactics that have characterized his no-decision bouts and exchange blows with his challenger, "the knockout kid," in the opinion of critics, or he will lose his crown on a decision.

There is a strong belief that Berlenbach will render a decision unnecessary but McTigue's friends say he can punch hard when his ire is aroused.

JONES NEAR RECORD

LONG BEACH, N. Y., May 28.—(AP)—Hobby Jones of Atlanta, Ga., nation's greatest golf champion today failed by a single stroke to equal the new course record of 70, set yesterday in the eastern section qualifying round of the national open tournament at Lido Jones' score of 71 for the 18 holes included six birdies, but he was over par on four other holes.
