

GET MARRIED, IS DOCTOR'S COUNSEL: SHE MARRIES HIM

(By NEA Service) WASHINGTON, May 29.—Back in pre-flapper days, Mary Roberts, a girl of 17, who was very modern in her ideas, decided she would never marry.

She longed for the thrills of independence and a career, and decided to become a trained nurse.

Mary, who was the first girl in Pittsburg to ride a bicycle, reached this decision suddenly and definitely one day.

She at once went to the family doctor to ask where she could find the best courses for nurses. The doctor at that time was taking a much-needed rest and when Mary Roberts, with her dreams of aiding mankind, through the nurse's profession, entered his office she didn't find the kind old physician who had prescribed for her the course she was to follow.

In his place was a young physician, just out of medical college. His name was Dr. Stanley Rinehart.

Mary Roberts decided she might as well ask this young and handsome doctor what he thought of her ambition to become a nurse. So she did.

All young doctors assume a serious, professional air, and Dr. Rinehart was no exception to this rule. His manner was somewhat condescending, as the young girl, full of life and pep and distractingly attractive, told him of her plans and asked him for his advice.

He reminded her that nursing was a serious, difficult work, requiring a mature mind and a trained hand. A girl could not become a real trained nurse in a day—the profession requiring long, hard study, and even longer actual experience in the hospital.

Doctor Gives His Advice And then came the shock for Mary. "See here," he said in a rather stern manner, "you get married and settle down and raise a family—that's every woman's real profession."

Mary Roberts laughed at the nerve of the young doctor. She went right out of the office and registered for a nurse's course.

Two years later she graduated from the nurse's school. A few weeks after that she took the doctor's advice very literally. She married him.

Three fine sons were born to the happy couple, and her old urge for a career returned.

She Wanted to Write This time Mary Roberts Rinehart wanted to write. While balancing babies on her knees, little rhymes and stories kept going through her head and bothering her to the point that between naps and baths she would put the ideas down on paper.

It was her regular practice not only to ask Dr. Rinehart's advice, but to follow it. So she showed her husband her first efforts, and this time he advised her to go ahead and do this work. She pegged away with two fingers on the typewriter and added that to her household duties.

The first check she ever received was redeemable for only $25, at any bank, but it represented a million dollars worth of encouragement, and enthusiasm. With the proceeds she bought her husband a Christmas present. And though she has made a dazzling amount since, here is what she says of her husband:

First Pick Your Husband "His belief in me, his steadiness and his sanity and his humor have kept me going now and then when my little world of letters has shaken under my feet.

"I sometimes think if I were advising a young woman as to a career I should say, 'First pick your husband.'"

Dr. Rinehart has gone ahead in his own profession, doing invaluable research in tuberculosis for the government and on his own account, and his achievements in his chosen field are as distinctive as those of his wife, though less heralded.

The home life of the Rineharts, the close cooperation of father, mother and three sons, but of it could be done, the two words would be Love and Work. And that, after all, is the foundation of every normal life."

BODIES RECOVERED IN MINE EXPLOSION

COAL GLEN, May 29.—(AP)—The bodies of 28 victims today had been recovered from the Carolina Coal company mine in which a series of explosions entombed 52 miners early Wednesday.

Four others were located, to be brought out later. As relief workers continued their laborious work of bringing the bodies of their former friends to the surface, agencies of the nation, state and the city of Sanford were being brought behind an effort to relieve the families of those who perished in the mine.

Unofficial estimates by mine officials placed the number of such victims at 40 widows and 75 orphans. For the most part, they said, these families were entirely dependent upon the earnings of their fathers, sons and brothers who died in the mine.

The remaining bodies were believed to be in the innermost workings of the mine, near the 2500 foot level. All hope that any of the victims would be rescued alive has been abandoned by both mine officials and rescue workers.

Those who survived the explosion, it was pointed out, died afterwards from after-damp. The majority of the bodies recovered bore evidence of its part in their death.

Benefit Concert Planned Tonight

Tonight's public band concert by the L. A. O. P. band to be given in the park opposite the county court house at 8 o'clock p. m., will be a benefit concert for the American legion endorsement campaign. It is announced today by the campaign committee. The public is invited.

A short address is to be given by a local citizen, explaining the purpose of the legion's drive, and inviting support of the campaign.

Donations are coming in rapidly for the campaign, although Lane county's quota of $5000 is a long way from being raised, reports J. E. Shelton, chairman of the citizen's committee. The campaign will be continued until the local quota is raised.

The endorsement move is to obtain a national fund to care for orphans of ex-service men, especially those who died in the World war, and to raise funds for maintenance of the new Doernbecher hospital in Portland.

Local Shriners to Attend Convention

Clarence Lombard and Fred Rodgers, members of the Shrine club of this city, left today for Los Angeles, where they will attend the National Shrine convention next week.

Other Eugene members are expected to leave tomorrow, and the Eugene club will be well represented at the convocation.

Hundreds of special trains from all over the United States are now en route to southern California. It is stated by railway officials. The special train carrying the Al Kader delegation from Portland went through Eugene this morning. Many of the trains from the east are to be routed this way, and the first of these went through last night, according to local Southern Pacific officials.

Gems Taken From Institute of Arts

DETROIT, May 29.—Precious stones of an unestimated value have been stolen from the Detroit Institute of Arts. It became known last night when police admitted detectives were working on the case and gave out a list of more than 30 emeralds, diamonds, rubies and oriental sapphires, singly and in groups, which were missing.

The jewels were taken from the children's section of the collection of the late Frank R. Searns, wealthy drug manufacturer and replaced with paste replicas. Detectives working on the case believe the gems were stolen while Miss Gertrude Gilmore, was absent.

Every 24 hours nearly 2000 rail-way trains pass through one English railway station—Clapham Junction.

STATE TOLL ROADS REQUEST IS DENIED

PORTLAND, Ore., May 29.—The state highway commission today indicated it is opposed to toll roads in Oregon. This was brought out in discussing the proposed franchise asked for a toll section on a new road between Tillamook and Forest Grove, the promoters of the franchise being Senator A. G. Beals of Tillamook, and E. M. Chandler of Olympia.

The proposed road would shorten the distance between Portland and Tillamook 30 miles, said Chandler.

"Returning to toll roads would be a step backward," declared Highway Commissioner H. B. Van Dusen. "It would overturn the highway system of the state, and if we approved this one, we would have a swarm of applicants for toll bits of road in every section of the state. I know of one member of this commission who very much disapproves the granting of a toll road franchise."

Judge William Dugby, chairman of the commission, was almost as outspoken against the franchise as Van Dusen. Commissioner W. H. Malone of Corvallis is likewise against "gumming up the highway program," Van Dusen said.

The county courts of Washington and Tillamook were present. Washington county officials declared they do not want the toll road, that the county can build its own roads with what help the state may give.

Heichers Depart On Journey East

Rev. and Mrs. M. K. W. Heicher and son, Winchester Heicher, who have spent winter in Eugene, are leaving here today for their work at the University of Oregon, where they are on a tour of inspection.

They expect to go first to Mt. Holyoke college, South Hadley, Mass., that Mrs. Heicher may attend the commencement program of her alma mater and meet with classmates and college friends for the first time in years. They are planning to spend a great part of the summer in New York, visiting Mr. Heicher's parents, and in Pennsylvania, with Mrs. Heicher's parents.

Returning to Eugene in August, the Heichers will visit in Corvallis before motoring to San Francisco and San Anselmo seminary, where Mr. Heicher will be a member of the faculty.

ALVITA RELIEVES ACHING KIDNEYS

"I purchased the first box of Alvit Tablets about three weeks ago, just as soon as I heard of them from a friend of mine and I have taken according to the directions. Already, in this short time, I am feeling relieved from my physical ailments. I am eating with more comfort and have much freer action with my bladder and kidneys. I seem to feel 'younger' and have much more energy and life than for a long time. I am writing this endorsement for you to use as you wish in order that others may be benefited by Alvit as I have been."

(Signed) J. S. WERNER. LOCAL GUNNER HAS BEST TRAP RECORD FOR STATE EVENTS

Ray Glass of Eugene led the entrants in the class shoot in the morning round of the state championship trap shoot, which opened on the local traps this morning, by breaking 100 straight. Mr. Glass' record is all the more remarkable as he is only a class B shooter. He was the only one to achieve that distinction. Ray Long of Coquille was a close second with a score of 99. Mr. Long broke the first three 25-events straight, but missed one on the last 25.

E. C. Meyer of Baker, a class B shooter, E. D. Franum of Sand Point, Idaho, Leo Bennett of Corvallis, and Frank Troch of Portland, the last three class A shooters, broke 50 straight each.

Fifteen squads opened this morning's shoot. The weather was ideal and many high scores were made. Besides Long, E. C. Meyer and E. E. Franum, also broke 99 bluecocks each, and Mark Richard of Corvallis 98.

Scores in the first 100-target event follow:

607 OBTAIN WORK AT LABOR BUREAU

A total of 607 persons including 549 men and 58 women were given positions through the United States Employment office during the month of May, according to Frank L. Armitage, director of the Eugene district. This is an increase of 104 over the total for May of 1923, when 434 men were sent out, and work found for 69 women. The increase is noted in spite of the fact that last year construction work was making a heavy demand on labor, it is pointed out. Positions filled this year have been of a more permanent character, which is indicative of the substantial growth of the city, says Mr. Armitage.

During the past week 10 men and 14 women were given employment at the local office, a slight decrease from last week. Weather conditions accounted for the slight drop, however, it was stated.

Work was found for the 99 men assigned as follows: Farm work, 10; agricultural work, 13; carpenter, 2; painter, 1; plumber, 1; casual workers, 10; common labor, 25; kitchen help, 2; logging work, 15; sawmill workers, 15; teamsters, 2; eng. near, 1; firemen, 1; watchman, 1.

Work was found for women as follows: Housework, 4; waitresses, 3; stenographers, 2; laundry workers, 3; chambermaid, 1; cook, 1.

The employment situation in Eugene is normal, says Mr. Armitage, with supply and demand about even. Conditions are more favorable in and around Eugene than most districts in the state, it is said.

HARRY THAW TIRES OF BROADWAY LIFE

recently seen with Fawn Gray, a dancer and to whom he is said to have given a $5,000 diamond bracelet, still attracts him. But the fast life, he said, is nothing compared to that in a town of 7,000 souls.

"Why I am a magnate down there" he boasted, referring to his support of the town baseball team. "I was here on business," he added, "but I had a darn good time. And that goes despite some of the foolish stories that have been printed. But it's wonderful down there. Why, I can arrest folks 'n everything."

Thaw dined in Newark last night with a companion, said to have been Miss Gray.

13 Months Prison Sentence Imposed

Thirteen months in the federal penitentiary on McNeil's island was the sentence imposed by R. S. Bean, federal judge at Portland, upon J. Fred Hend, arrested in Eugene March 24 for violation of the Mann act.

The prisoner was taken to Portland to appear in United States court, and pleaded guilty to the offense yesterday, according to word received by the sheriff's office here. He will start serving his sentence immediately.

AMUNDSEN RESCUE URGED BY ALASKAN (Continued from page one) safely from his flying expedition to the North Pole. Dr. Nansen said it would be impossible for Amundsen to determine from the air whether he was at the pole. Therefore, he believes Amundsen should land where he thought he was, and then make a dash for the pole. This would require some time and therefore it would be necessary for the party to prepare to stay near the pole, where Amundsen would be for careful measurements and investigations. Therefore, said Dr. Nansen, there is no occasion for worry. Dr. Nansen will discuss with the works the feasibility of exploring the regions with the aid of rigid ships.
