JUNE journeys in with the new week, and when that month comes, one just naturally expects a variety of happenings. To begin with, the month officially ushers in the summer time, and incidentally the beginnings of scores of events that then fall in a routine for the following three months. However, the days of June come with a significance that varies with the individual.

Traditionally, perhaps conventionally, June is the bride's month, particularly in those more or less sentimental circles. So to this group of weddings and their preceding events will be of chief interest for the month. But be it so, Eugene society is to have but few, if any weddings apparently, this June, unless a few surprise come. And if it were not for the occasional college engagement or wedding, the conclusion would be that here conventionality is being snubbed.

To the club workers, June is the end of the year's activity, and brings the desired rest.

For the picnic fiends the month is ideal. True, some have braved the cold and rain of the past few weeks in order to enjoy spring's beauty outdoors, but it is in June that the summer picnic is yet the novelty, and thereafter the accepted diversion.

Those who are to entertain extensively have chosen a better time. For with sunny weather, an enchanted outdoor, with club work and similar activities done, and a fresh supply of ideas and favors for decorations and menus of entertaining, hostesses find it a delight to give their parties, even to the staid bride afternoons and tea.

Those ever popular "week-ends or a day or so" at the summer resorts at the beaches and mountains will from now on be the vogue, and of course, vacation talk accepted without a comment.

Whatever the day the whole month will be an active one. Especially if the last week of May is a forecast. For never was a week so crowded with so many events as the past one. Luncheons, teas, afternoons of bridge, picnics, dances, dinners, golf parties, sewing parties, banquets, recitations, in fact, something to keep everyone busy.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton M. Tuft were honored guests for a congenial get-together at friends Sunday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holden and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stevenson entertained in their honor at the home of the former. Large bowls of sweet peas of all colors were arranged about the room for the occasion.

Those enjoying this pleasurable affair were Mr. and Mrs. Tuft, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sigwart, Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Rorer, Mr. and Mrs. F. Rapp, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Schaeffer, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn S. McCreedy, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Janel, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Sigwart, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Stickels, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Allen, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holden.

On Thursday afternoon little Miss Theodora Prescott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prescott, celebrated her eighth birthday anniversary with a very merry informal lawn party at her home, twenty-five of her little friends being invited to share the joy of the occasion with her. Games of all kinds were played during the afternoon hours, and a lawn birthday luncheon was then served. Mrs. Prescott was assisted by Mrs. Edith Booth.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn S. McCreedy were hosts for an informal supper party and delightful evening of bridge at the home of the former last evening, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Morton M. Tuft who are soon to leave Eugene to make their home in Portland.

Gathered about the supper table that was refreshingly decked in numerous spring flowers were Mr. and Mrs. Tuft, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson B. Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morris, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Pratt, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rapp, Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Rorer, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Stickels, Mr. and Mrs. Loy Rowling, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Sigwart, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rouse, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. McCreedy and Mr. and Mrs. Rogers.

Mrs. J. C. Koepke entertained at a charming afternoon affair yesterday in honor of Mrs. Lamar Toose who is to leave with Tuft about mid-June for Portland where they will make their home. Mrs. Toose's guests included about a dozen of Mrs. Toose's intimate friends for a theater party at the McDonald, after which the party went to the country club for tea.

Mrs. Donald Young, Mrs. Helen Morgan, and Mrs. Ina Keltner were hostesses for a pleasurable evening Monday when P. E. O. Sisterhood met at the chamber of commerce rooms. After the close of the business sessions there was a social hour. The state chapter of Oregon held its convention in Oregon City on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, and the delegates from the Eugene chapter were Mrs. Harriet Crites and Mrs. L. J. Temple. Mrs. Thomas Wells and Mrs. Katherine Stodell motored down for a part of the sessions. In two weeks the local chapter is to be entertained by Mrs. W. H. Pollard at her home in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardy were hosts to members of Wednesday Dinner-Bridge club at their home this week for a pleasurable evening.

Mrs. Frank G. Shaw (Florence Jagger) was a visitor in Eugene this week from her home in North Bend.

Miss Le-Laune West visited in Eugene this week with campus friends. She has been teaching at Klamath Falls for the past year and was on her way to her home in Portland.

Mrs. Stetson and Mrs. Douglass Entertain

Two smart affairs of late spring were sponsored this week by Mrs. F. L. Stetson and Mrs. Harl Douglass on Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

The Anchorage teahouse was the scene of a bridge party Tuesday afternoon to which the hostesses had extended invitations to one hundred guests. Lupin and California poppies arranged in huge bouquets about the rooms made a stunning color setting of blue and yellow for this occasion.

Receiving with Mrs. Stetson and Mrs. Douglass for the afternoon were Mrs. E. L. Packard and Mrs. Robert Prescott.

Yesterday afternoon one hundred or more were invited to a tea given at the home of Mrs. Stetson. The tea table was most attractive with the bouquet of choice roses while large bowls of the same flowers in many colors were used about the rooms.

Mrs. L. H. Johnson, Mrs. Ella Stearns, Mrs. Mildred Giffen, Mrs. O. F. Stafford, Mrs. E. C. Robbins, and Mrs. James H. Gilbert assisted the hostesses at this occasion, and a number of girls of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority assisted in serving.

Monday Book club members gathered at "Inglaterra," the home of Mrs. A. L. Ingalls for a very interesting afternoon of study Monday. One-half of the organization membership entertained the other half. Each member gave a brief report or sketch of the books she enjoyed the most during the past winter's study.

On June tenth the club is to be entertained at "Wilgove," the summer home of Mrs. F. M. Wilkins on the McKenzie. At this time the delegates, Mrs. Edwin L. Knapp and Mrs. A. L. Ingalls, who are to attend the convention of the State Federation of Women's clubs in Marshfield this coming week, will make their reports. In the evening the club members will entertain their husbands at dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Horton entertained at dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. A. L. Ingalls and Mr. Horton's birthday anniversary which occurred on that day.

The betrothal of Miss Alice Evans and Floyd Howles was announced this week for the convention of Eugene is to be an event of June twenty-eight. Miss Evans is a graduate of the University of Oregon and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. She is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Walter H. Evans of Portland. Mr. Howles is also a graduate of the university and is a member of Kappa club. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Bowles of Portland.

Aloha club members were guests for an attractive luncheon and afternoon of bridge for which Mrs. Paul R. Kelly was hostess at her home Tuesday afternoon. A large bouquet of bachelor buttons was used as the centerpiece at the table. Mrs. H. S. Durgan was bidden as an additional guest for the afternoon.

Duckworth-Pease Wedding Event Of Sunday

At a very simple but impressive ceremony performed at the home of the bride, Miss Eva Pease and William Duckworth were married at noon Sunday. Only members of the two families were in attendance. Rev. Allyn Eason of the First Christian church of Albany read the ceremony which was performed before the fireplace which was banked with masses of blue lupin and California poppies. Preceding the ceremony Miss Christina Salen and cousin of the bride sang, and during the service played a number of instrumental solos. Mr. and Mrs. Duckworth left immediately for Portland, returning at mid-week. They will make their home in Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Herald White were hosts for a dinner party at their home Thursday evening to a small group of friends.

A very charming traditional event of the campus took place this morning when the annual senior breakfast was held, at which time the junior women entertained the senior women. The affair is sponsored each year by the Young Women's Christian association of the university. This year's event was given in the sun parlor of the Women's building. Miss Margaret Boyer, president of the Y. W. C. A., was toastmistress; and other speakers were Miss Ellen McClellan for the junior women; Miss Mary Jane Hathaway, for the senior women; Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, Mrs. Clara Fitch, Miss Florence Magowan.

One of the many interesting and successful functions sponsored by the College Crest Community club of this year, was held Thursday evening when one hundred and seventy-five members and friends were entertained at the club house with a strawberry festival and dancing and card party.

On Tuesday evening the seniors of Gamma Phi Beta were guests at a dinner party given by seniors of Alpha Phi, while the underclass women of Alpha Phi were guests at the Gamma Phi Beta house for a dinner given by the underclass women of the latter group.

Miss Dorothy Dickey has returned to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Marion L. Dickey. Miss Dickey has been teaching the past year at director of music in the Gresham schools, and will return to that place to continue her work in the fall months.

Mrs. H. S. Durgan entertained for one of the very delightful club afternoons of the week, having as her guests the members of Westside Bridge club at her home yesterday afternoon. In addition to club members Mrs. Durgan invited Mrs. W. W. Calkins, Mrs. Paul B. Kelly, Mrs. C. E. DeNoto, and Mrs. George B. Belter to be her guests for the occasion.

The Domestic Art club which was to have met for a picnic luncheon at the home of Mrs. A. L. Ingalls Monday has postponed the affair until a later date.

On Monday evening the auxiliary of the American Legion is to meet in the chamber of commerce rooms at seven-thirty o'clock for regular session. Delegates to the convention are to be elected.

Officers for the coming year were elected, and arrangements completed for the rose show to be held June 3 at the annual banquet of the Ladies' auxiliary of the chamber of commerce Wednesday evening. More than one hundred and fifty attended the affair.

Mrs. Hugh H. Earle was chosen to head the organization and Mrs. A. L. Lomax was named vice-president. Mrs. Earl Robertson was chosen secretary, Mrs. A. R. Paris, assistant secretary, M. Ethel Taylor, treasurer, and Mrs. Guy Pyle, corresponding secretary. A vote of thanks was given to the retiring officers, Mrs. J. B. Bell, president, and Mrs. Roy Curtis, secretary, and Mrs. Earle, treasurer. The auxiliary also elected Mrs. Taylor White, Mrs. Adelaide Pipes, and Mrs. Lucy Abrams to membership.

The following committees were named for the rose show June three: Mrs. Laura Harris, general chairman. Committee on single roses, Mrs. Frank Chambers, Mrs. Cora Rowland and Mrs. Frank Polidexter. Committee on groups of three, Mrs. Fred C. Moore, Mrs. F. A. Hand and Mrs. Floyd Manville. Committee on groups of six, Mrs. Frank Armitage, Mrs. Ethel Smith and Mrs. F. E. Oxner. Committee on baskets, Mrs. George Keegan and Mrs. Frank McAlister. Committee on tables, Mrs. Wayne Green, Mrs. O. D. Harbert and Mrs. F. A. Rankin, receiving secretaries, Mrs. R. H. Pierce, Mrs. F. S. Shinn and Mrs. Harold Moore.

Twelve are Guests For Luncheon And Bridge

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. George McGill and Mrs. Harold Grady were the hostesses at a luncheon given at the home of Mrs. McGill. Bachelor buttons and California poppies were combined as the colorful centerpiece at the table where covers were laid for Mrs. J. S. Magidary, Mrs. Charles Durham, Mrs. Seth M. Kerron, Mrs. F. N. Schaeffer, Mrs. E. O. Janel, Mrs. Jack Breefield, Mrs. Orville Waller, Mrs. Herald White, Mrs. C. A. Huntington, Mrs. Lawrence Mauerud, Mrs. W. E. Moxley, Mrs. James Barrett.

An interesting event of the coming week for the club workers of Eugene is to be the convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs which is to be held in Marshfield, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

The Eugene Fortnightly club and the Monday Book club are the two city groups affiliated with the state organization, and the University of Oregon Women's league is also a member.

Eugene delegates are Mrs. Edwin L. Knapp, president, and Mrs. A. L. Ingalls from the Monday Book club; Mrs. E. F. Carleton, president, Mrs. Blaine Hovey, and Mrs. Frank Fay Eddy from the Eugene Fortnightly club; and Miss Anna DeWitt, president-elect of the Women's league on the campus.

Mrs. Louis E. Bean of Eugene is second vice-president of the state federent and will attend the convention by virtue of her office.

Mrs. Ada B. Milican, a member of the state group for about 25 years, will also attend the convention. She is chairman of the committee in the Indian welfare department of the state federation, and each year attends the convention.

Many topics of interest are to be discussed which will be of particular interest to Eugene club women who have been studying and working with similar subjects during the past year, and the local club memberships affiliated are awaiting with interest the reports of the convention.

Mrs. Eva Frazer Johnson of Madison, Wisconsin, is being welcomed by her many friends here. She and her two children are guests at the home of Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Idaho Campbell, and plan to be in Eugene about two months.

For the benefit of a scholarship fund maintained by Mu Phi Epsilon, women's honorary musical society, for worthy women studying music at the University of Oregon, members of the campus chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon entertained with a silver tea in Alumni hall Wednesday afternoon. Between the hours of three o'clock and six o'clock some three hundred or more guests called.

In the receiving line were Mrs. L. H. Johnson, Mrs. William G. Hale, Mrs. A. F. Schreff, Mrs. George Reiter, Mrs. Bruce Bogart, Miss Mary McCormack, Miss Jean Harper, Miss Lora Teshner.
